NATIONAL DEBT EXCEEDS LIMIT, BYRD CONTENDS

Treasury's Figures Cited by Senator.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—Senator Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] today cited treasury statements to prove that the national bonded debt, including contingent obligations wholly guaranteed by the government, already has exceeded the statutory limit of 45 billion dollars.

Senator Byrd.

Speaking in the senate in debate on President Roosevelt's proposed 3 billion 290 million dollar lending-spending program, Senator Byrd denounced the scheme as a subterfuge to evade the statutory debt limit.

Uses Same Figures as Barkley.

Senator Byrd relied upon figures obtained from the treasury department and submitted to the senate earlier in the day by Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.], sponsor of the President's bill.

The treasury statement disclosed that the contingent liabilities of the government, represented by bonds and notes sold by government corporations and now outstanding in the hands of the public, aggregated 5 billion 478 million dollars. The direct national debt was 40 billion 439 million dollars on June 30. Thus the total debt, direct and indirect, is 45 billion 917 million dollars.

Senator Byrd said the 5½ billion dollars of contingent liabilities represented a debt of the federal government because "it is upon the security of the federal government that this money is borrowed, and every dollar is guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the federal government."

Recalls Years of Failure.

"For eight long years we have tried the experiment of spending ourselves into prosperity on borrowed money," said Senator Byrd. "This is the fourth great spending program which has been presented to the congress by the President of the United States.

"It seems to me that the time has come in this country to take stock of what we have been doing in the last eight years and analyze as best we can the advantages of spending programs which the congress, time after time, has been told would restore prosperity. Time and time again we have been told that all those who are idle would be put back to work; that private business would be stimulated; that the wheels of industry would be started, merely by spending more and more.

"Not even Mr. Eccles, the chairman of the federal reserve system, who believes that prosperity can come only from debts and deficits, can deny that a great public debt such as we have is a great evil.

Outlines Three Courses.

"There are only three things we can do with the debt which has been placed upon the American people. In the first place we could repudiate it. I don't think the American people will repudiate a just debt.

"In the second place we could bring about inflation and pay the debt with worthless dollars. Nothing more evil or disastrous could happen to the American people.

"In the third place we can pay the debt, and that is what we must do. If we had a surplus of 500 million dollars a year each year to pay on the debt it would require fifty-six years to reduce the debt to where it was six years ago.

"Today we are paying in interest alone 20 cents out of every tax dollar that comes into the federal treasury. Twenty cents out of every tax dollar is dedicated directly to interest on the federal debt, notwithstanding the low interest rates which now exist and which may not continue indefinitly.

Interest Charge Climbs.

"The interest charge today is 40 per cent more than the total cost of government was in 1916.

"We have doubled the tax burden

AMERICA'S STEP OPENS WAY FOR EMBARGO ORDER

Hull Gives Notice of Abrogation Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The government of the United States tonight denounced its treaty of commerce and navigation with Japan. Giving the six months' notice required by the treaty itself for abrogation by either signatory, the state department informed the Japanese ambassador of its desire to terminate the treaty at the end of that time.

The treaty of commerce and navigation, signed at Washington in 1911, is the basic international agreement under which trade and all commercial relationships between the two countries are conducted. Its denunciation at this time is calculated to exert a restraining influence on Japan's infringement of American rights in China, in violation, the state department has charged, of the nine-power pact of 1922.

Pact Prohibits Embargoes.

The 1911 treaty contains a provision which prohibits either signatory from imposing embargoes or other restrictions against the trade of the other signatory unless such restrictions are placed against the trade of all other countries in accordance with the most favored nation principle.

Hence denunciation of the 1911 treaty may leave Japan in doubt as to whether the United States is contemplating an embargo on arms, ammunition, oil, gasoline, iron, steel, and other war supplies which Japan obtains from this country.

Such an embargo was proposed in a resolution by Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the foreign relations committee. As a substitute for the Pittman scheme, which senate noninterventionists denounced as a prelude to war, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] proposed the denunciation of the 1911 treaty.

Victory for Vandenberg.

Thus the state department's action tonight represented a victory for Senator Vandenberg, who was one of the leaders in the fight against President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the arms embargo provision of the neutrality act for the purpose of supplying England and France in the event of war in Europe.

Only this morning, when the Vandenberg resolution was under consideration by the foreign relations committee, New Dealers accused the Michigan senator of trying to embarrass the state department. His resolution, on which the committee deferred action, would express the sense of the senate that the 1911 treaty should be denounced in order to redefine and protect American rights in the light of changed conditions in China.

Action Called Logical Step.

"I am very glad at last to find myself in agreement with the state department," Senator Vandenberg said tonight. "It has taken the logical step. Conditions in the far east are obviously far different as respects American rights from what they were in 1911 when the ancient treaty was negotiated. Japan now has six months in which to justify the continuation of friendly American relationships. The situation is definitly up to Japan."

The note from Secretary of State Cordell Hull to Kensuke Horinouchi, the Japanese ambassador, said the government of the United States had come to the conclusion that the 1911 treaty contained provisions which required new consideration.

"Toward preparing the way for such consideration and with a view to better safeguarding and promoting American interests as new developments may require," the note said, the United States served notice of its intention to abrogate the treaty.

Unthinkable, Says Tokio.

TOKIO, July 27 [Thursday] (AP).—Termination of the 1911 commerce and navigation treaty between the United States and Japan is "unthinkable," a Japanese foreign office spokesman declared today. He made this comment on the basis of press reports of Washington's notice of termination, saying that the official notification had not been received. The spokesman added his government had asked its Washington embassy to expedite details of the American decision.

2 Actions Put Chicago Ahead as Air Capital

Two events yesterday forwarded the campaign to make Chicago the greatest aviation center in the United States. They were [1] the appointment of an expert to conduct a survey designed to demonstrate the city's advantages for plane manufacturing, and [2] approval by Gov. Horner of two bills permitting the city to build a safe airport for large ships.

Denis Mulligan.

The survey will be in charge of Denis Mulligan of New York, former director of the United States bureau of air commerce and consulting counsel on international aviation for the government.

Urged as Safety Measure.

Oscar Mayer, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, which is backing the aviation drive as part of the Greater Chicago plan, announced the appointment jointly with Fred G. Fagg Jr., chairman of the association's aviation committee.

"One of the factors favoring location here is the government's desire to have plane manufacturing plants inland," said Mayer. "Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, has asserted this would make for safety at all times."

City's Rights Asserted.

Mulligan, who is in the city, has accepted the post. He is to start work at once gathering statistics for presentation to airplane makers.

The first of the bills made into law asserts the right of any city to condemn land for airports and to restrict the height of structures within two miles of the landing field.

The second bill grants substantially the same powers to park districts which operate airports.

See Hops Five Miles Up.

LONDON, July 26 (AP).—The British air ministry is planning trans-Atlantic substratosphere service for next year. Land planes will span the ocean at a cruising speed of more than four miles a minute.

Construction of three 32 ton machines has been started at Rochester, Kent. One is designed to cruise at 275 miles an hour at an altitude of 25,000 feet, nearly five miles above sea level.

Twenty-four passengers will be carrier on day trips and twelve at night. They will be sealed in a fuselage and will breathe supercharged air.

The British air mail service from Southampton to New York by way of Botwood, Newfoundland, and Montreal, Canada, will begin on Aug. 5, the British postmaster general announced today.

Ruzanski hadn't seen his wife, Tamara, since he kissed her in a Moscow railway station Oct. 16, 1935, and started his efforts to cut through what he called the red tape of soviet statecraft.

It finally was accomplished, he said, at a cost of $3,000, three trips to Washington and numerous written appeals to Washington and Moscow officials.

Ruzanski, who lives in River Rouge, Mich., and works in the Detroit tire plant of the Ford Motor company, went to Russia in 1931 as a marine engineer to work in the five year plan, and fell in love with Tamara. They were married in the spring of 1934.

"The next year I was told to leave," he said, "I didn't know why.

"They told me 'Your wife will follow you;' but it took four years to get her here."

Free Beauty Courses for All German Women, Nazi Plan

BERLIN, July 26.—Free beauty courses for all Berlin women will be inaugurated on Aug. 10 by the Strength Through Joy organization, it was announced today. The courses are designed for all German women, but "particularly for those over 40."

Governor Flies to North Shore Retreat Today

Gov. Horner will fly from Springfield to Chicago in a chartered plane today. He will go immediately to a Highland Park home which he has rented for the remainder of the summer. Plans are to bar all visitors for three or four weeks.

Late yesterday the governor completed work on all save a few of the 500 measures approved by the recent session of the legislature. His final decisions will be made public today.

Comes Through Task Well.

He was described as having come through this arduous task fairly well, considering that he is still recuperating from his severe four months' illness of last winter.

Complete rest and a change from Springfield was ordered by the governor's physician, Dr. Nathan Rosen. Accordingly, the Samuel S. Holmes residence at 903 North Sheridan road, Highland Park, was leased for August and September. It occupies a secluded spot on the lake shore.

Beach to Be Closed.

Dr. Rosen is expected to fly with his patient today. Others in the party will include Miss Anne Lou Boozer, who nursed the governor through his Florida illness and accompanied him back to the executive mansion, and John T. Casey, Mr. Horner's traveling secretary.

Mayor Frank J. Ronan of Highland Park last night said the beach in front of the Holmes residence, which has been more or less free to the public, would be closed from now on to all except the governor's party.

Blasts Shake 2 Cities; 1 Slain; Irish Blamed

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 27 [Thursday].—Sixteen thousand London policemen were mobilized early today in a manhunt following an outbreak of bombings attributed to the outlawed Irish Republican army. Throughout England other thousands of police were hurried to railway stations, public buildings, bridges, and power houses to protect them against terrorism. The police swung into action following five bomb explosions yesterday—two in London and three in Liverpool.

The London blasts shattered two checkrooms in the King's Cross and Victoria railway stations. They caused the death of a college professor. Twenty others were injured.

The Liverpool bombings destroyed a wooden swing bridge over the Liverpool-Leeds canal, blew out the front of a postoffice, and destroyed a mailbox. No persons were injured.

Approve Law to Curb I. R. A.

The outrages occurred while members of the house of commons were debating a bill giving the government sweeping emergency powers against suspected members of the Irish Republican army, including deportation without trial.

The bombing at Victoria station came at 9:35 p. m. Within five minutes of learning of the outrage angry members of commons unanimously approved the bill. The measure was sent to the house of lords. It is expected to become law by tonight.

While parliament acted hundreds of agents from Scotland Yard raided hideouts of bombing suspects. They were taken to police stations for questioning, but up to midnight only one man had been detained.

Called Gesture of Defiance.

Police regarded the bombings as a gesture of defiance on the part of the Irish Republican army at the government's latest attempt to stop the wave of terrorism which has swept England for six months. The Irish Republican army wants to sever all ties between Ireland and England.

The explosions in the railway stations were caused by time bombs deposited in suitcases which had been brought to the checkrooms.

The first blast occurred in the King's Cross station. It came at 2 p. m., and resulted in one death and injuries to fifteen persons. The second explosion occurred seven and one-half hours later at the Victoria station. Five persons, four of them railroad workers, were injured and heavy damage was caused by the shattering of glass and flying débris.

Many Trampled in Panic.

Crowds waiting for trains at the King's Cross station were thrown into a panic by the explosion. Many persons were trampled in the rush to get out of the station. A number were struck by flying glass and pieces of wood and plaster which were hurled 150 feet. These suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Two taxicabs outside the station were damaged. A man sitting in his car was hurt as the vehicle's windows were blown in by the force of the explosion.

Donald Campbell of Edinburgh, Scotland, had both legs blown off. He died several hours later at the Royal Free hospital. His wife also received the full force of the blast. She was in Saint Pancras hospital seriously injured. The Campbells were en route home from a trip to the continent. Mrs. Campbell, a bride of less than a year, was not notified of the death of her husband. He was a lecturer at Edinburgh university.

Clothes Blown Off Women.

Clothes were blown off several women and a man who stood close to the checkroom when the bomb exploded.

A search was begun for a man about 30 years old who was seen to leave a suitcase in the checkroom and hurry away about 5 minutes before the explosion.

The explosion at the Victoria station blew out the shutters of the baggage room.

Panic broke out in the crowded station as the blast shook the whole building. Police, fire, and first aid detachments rushed to the station and set up improvised casualty stations to treat the injured and those suffering from shock.

REPORT LONDON ASKS POLAND TO DEVALUE MONEY

Turns Down Request for Gold Loan.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, July 26.—Col. Adam Koc, former governor of the Bank of Poland, who went to London in March to negotiate for a $200,000,000 loan for Poland—half in cash—returned to Warsaw for the fourth time tonight. Each visit Col. Koc made to London saw this sum reduced.

Tomorrow Col. Koc will report to Finance Minister Eugene Kwiatkowski and Foreign Minister Col. Josef Beck that Britain will extend credits of approximately $40,000,000 to purchase arms, but has rejected Poland's plea for a $25,000,000 gold loan.

A gold loan was considered imperative by the Polish government. With her internal finances weakened by the expense of maintaining a million men under arms, the government wished to use part of the loan to bolster its wobbling currency and to increase the issue of notes.

Prevents Purchases in America.

Poland wished to spend part of the gold in America for raw materials and munitions which the British government was either unable or unwilling to supply. Instead, it is reported from Warsaw, London suggested that Poland abandon the gold standard and devalue the zloty. Poland also was warned that her method of meeting extraordinary expenditures by the fresh issue of treasury notes was bound to create a serious situation unless curbed and firmer control established over state expenditures.

Before England and France will grant Poland any loan to be used to strengthen the zloty, financial experts of these countries wish to be consulted on the formation of a new Polish financial policy. This demand has been rejected by Warsaw, but it will come up for discussion again when Col. Koc meets Kwiatkowski and Beck.

Must Consult President.

President Ignace Moscicki also will have to be consulted, because parliament must be called into special session before any action is taken to devalue the zloty.

The London demand that Poland devalue its currency also requests that a London financial expert, Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, visit Warsaw to assist the Poles in putting their finances in order.

Since the Danzig crisis began silver currency has disappeared from circulation throughout Poland and the government recently issued another $12,000,000 in silver coins, which also are passing into the hands of hoarders. Deposits in savings institutions have decreased in recent months.

Military Power Weakened.

Poland's effective military power has been greatly weakened by the British refusal of a large loan, military leaders say. Six divisions of the Polish army still are without arms. The government's new industrial district at Sandomierz [Sandomir], designed largely to produce munitions, also was to be extended and provided with raw materials with the expected foreign financial help.

Finance Minister Kwiatkowski's earlier admission that these new industries were not expected to make profits, as they would be a military enterprise, caused them to lose attraction for foreign investors and until now their financing has been a government undertaking.

British General Unimpressed.

In Warsaw it is feared that the recent visit of Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside, chief of the British overseas forces, to Poland, during which he inspected various sections of the Polish army and conversed with Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, inspector general of the army, had an adverse effect on the loan negotiations. Foreign military attachés say the British general did not receive a favorable impression of the Polish forces and commented upon the wide gulf which exists between the officers and the ranks.

STATE TO PROBE THREE UNSOLVED BENTON MURDERS

Chief Investigator Takes Hand in Gore Mystery.

Benton, Ill., July 26 [Special].—T. P. Sullivan, chief of the state bureau of investigation, arrived here tonight to apply an outsider's viewpoint to three unsolved murders, and particularly to the procedure in the latest. A young man was formally charged with the murder of his stepmother—mainly on suspicion, it is claimed—and then released in $10,000 bail and allowed to go to his home in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Benton is in the heart of a coal mining district in Franklin county in southern Illinois. It is a community of 7,000 population, and daily around its town square are to be seen hundreds of idle men. They are garbed in blue overalls and jumpers.

Speculate on Lost Footprints.

They get very few days' work in the mines now, so they have lots of time to talk about this murder—and the other murders. Among other things they are saying it was a shame Sherif Ed Powell did not have the means of preserving the footprints left in a potato patch by the person who shot and killed Mrs. George W. Gore on the sleeping porch of her home at 3 o'clock last Sunday morning. Mrs. Gore was the wife of a prominent southern Illinois physician. Before their marriage two years ago she had been his secretary.

A month ago Frank Hatchett, grocer, was shot to death in his store four blocks from the scene of the latest mystery. That crime was popularly supposed to have been the misdeed of a wandering hold-up man.

One Killing Traced to Feud.

A year ago when Harry Waller was shot to death in the presence of a hundred of his kinfolk, neighbors and friends—and none would admit knowing who fired the shotgun blast at him—the talk was of a "feud." Many of the folks in these hills of southern Illinois are akin in temperament to the folks in other hills whose feuds have made history. James Waller, a distant relative of Harry, was arrested and then freed.

Attorney General John E. Cassidy, when informed of the latest murder in Benton, said that Illinois laws applied to Franklin county as well as to other parts of the state.

Prosecution Aid Sought.

Cassidy said his office is called upon to help prosecute most of the murder cases downstate and Chief Sullivan is called upon to supply the detective work. Usually they are called in after evidence has been destroyed or lost, after witnesses have changed stories so often that they cannot be believed and when law enforcement seems threatened.

Their contributions to downstate counties have been successful in most instances, Sullivan said, and they hope to be of assistance in the present inquiry. The solution might have been simple, Sullivan said, if the impressions had been taken of the potato patch footprints and they had been measured, photographed, and saved for evidence.

The young man charged with the murder of Mrs. Gore and freed on bail is George W. Gore Jr., son of the physician. The younger Gore, who is 30 years old and a graduate of the University of Illinois, claims an alibi and says he had no animosity toward his father's wife. He says he is being made a goat and "they are trying to use me to cover up the person who did it."

Benavides Confirms He'll Quit as Peru's President

LIMA, Peru, July 26 (AP).—Gen. Oscar R. Benavides, president of Peru since 1933, confirmed in a twenty-five minute radio message tonight that he would quit the government Dec. 8, to be succeeded by an executive "lawfully elected in the Oct. 20 general election." He said his sincerest desire was for a capable successor.

Gov. Cochran to Oppose Burke for Senate Seat

Lincoln, Neb., July 26 (AP).—Gov. R. L. Cochran filed today for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. The 53 year old former engineer, now serving his third term as governor, will oppose Senator Edward R. Burke, administration critic.

RAVER APPOINTED HEAD OF STATE COMMERCE BODY

Dr. Paul J. Raver, acting director of public utility courses at Northwestern university, was named chairman of the Illinois commerce commission yesterday by Gov. Horner, to succeed Senator James M. Slattery. At present Dr. Raver is the commission's executive officer.

Dr. Paul J. Raver.

Appointment of Dr. Raver, who lives at 124 South Lombard avenue, Oak Park, was unheralded and was not made on a political basis. The office is considered the most important plum in the state patronage basket and custom decrees that it be given to the politician closest to the governor. Slattery managed the governor's 1936 campaign; his predecessor, Benjamin F. Lindheimer, ran the 1932 Horner race.

With Commission Since 1933.

Raver was appointed by the governor to the commission's department of rates and research in 1933. That same year Dr. Raver received the degree of doctor of philosophy in commerce and economics at Northwestern. He took an engineering degree at the University of Nebraska in 1917, after which he entered the army and served overseas as a lieutenant of field artillery.

The new chairman was appointed by the governor in 1936 to supervise the commission's work on rural electrification in Illinois. Last Feb. 25, while the governor was ill in Florida, Slattery, then chairman, named Raver executive officer.

Holds Full Professorship.

In addition to holding the rank of professor of public utilities at Northwestern, Dr. Raver acts, on a part time basis, as chairman of the university's courses on that subject. He is chairman of the editorial board of the Journal of Land and Public Utility Economics, and is on the board of directors of the Northwestern alumni association.

Dr. Raver, 45 years old, is married and has two daughters, Alice June, 15 years old, and Phyllis, 12.

GIMP ROSENBAUM FREED.

A charge of disorderly conduct against Sanford [Gimp] Rosenbaum, former bodyguard for Edward [Spike] O'Donnell, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Mason S. Sullivan. Rosenbaum was arrested Tuesday.

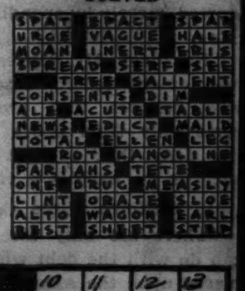
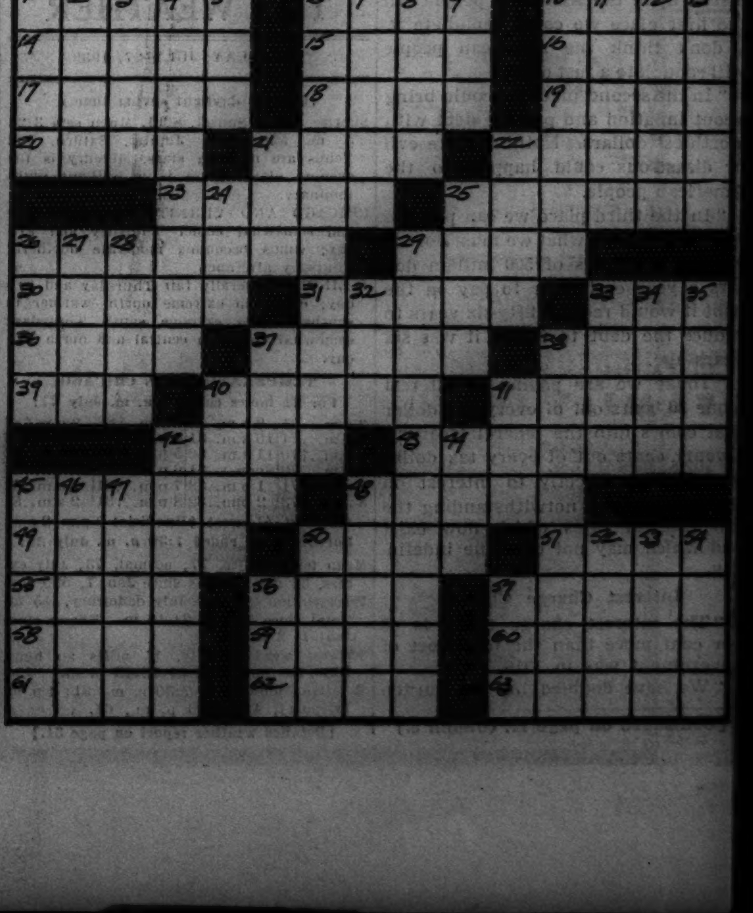
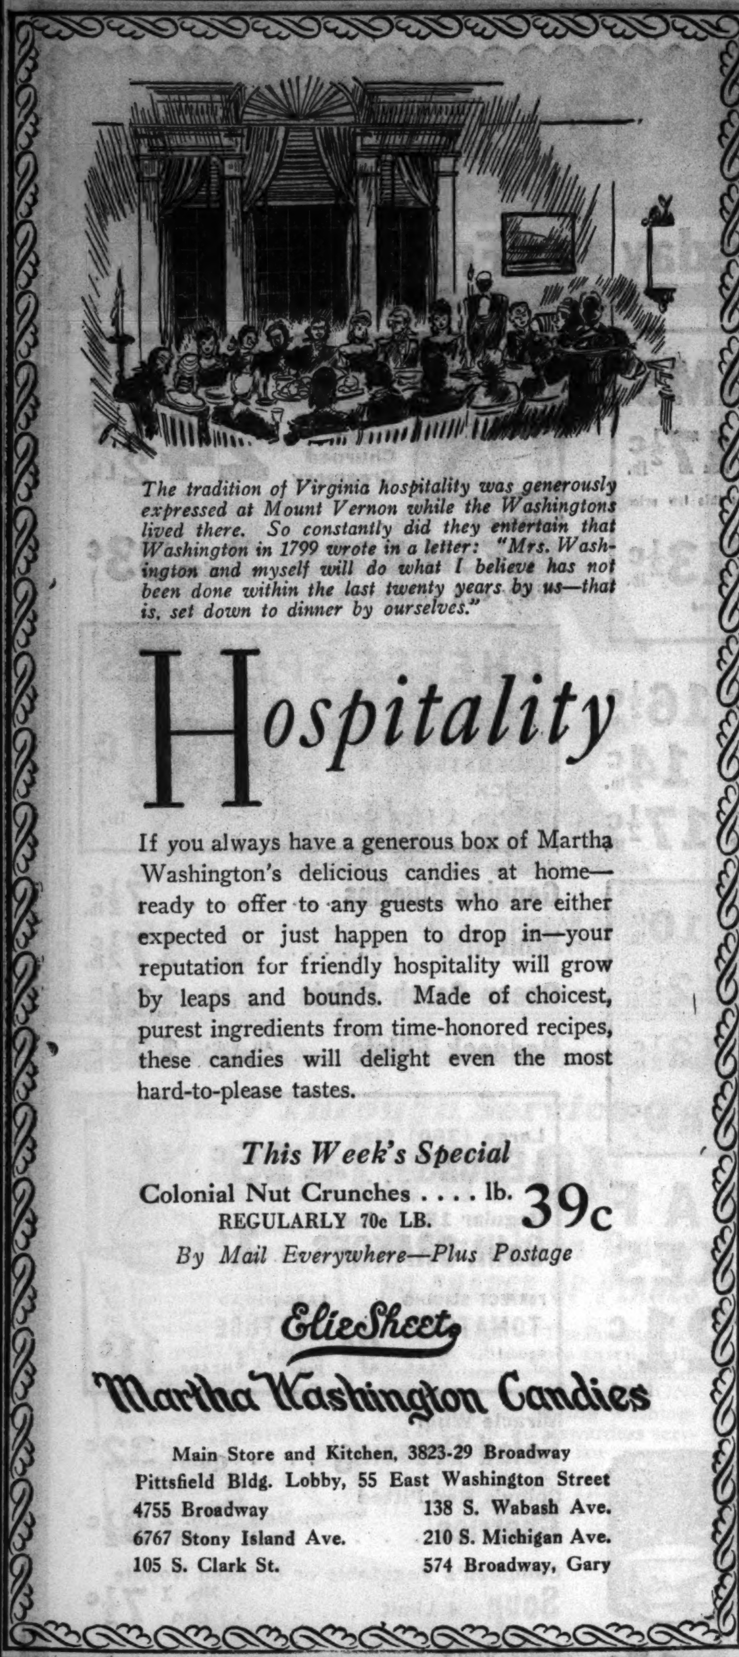
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED







The tradition of Virginia hospitality was generously expressed at Mount Vernon while the Washingtons lived there. So constantly did they entertain that Washington in 1799 wrote in a letter: "Mrs. Washington and myself will do what I believe has not been done within the last twenty years by us—that is, set down to dinner by ourselves."

Hospitality

If you always have a generous box of Martha Washington's delicious candies at home—ready to offer to any guests who are either expected or just happen to drop in—your reputation for friendly hospitality will grow by leaps and bounds. Made of choicest, purest ingredients from time-honored recipes, these candies will delight even the most hard-to-please tastes.

NEW MILESTONE! SUPERHIGHWAY BILLS ARE LAWS

Victory for The Tribune's Long Campaign.

BY HAL FOUST.

At midnight last night Gov. Horner permitted the third and final measure authorizing Chicago's 60 million dollar superhighway to become law without his signature. This action was a victory for THE TRIBUNE'S No. 2 plank for Illinois and Chicago, "Build Deathproof Highways."

Two of the three bills became laws last week without the governor's signature—ten days having elapsed after they reached his desk following passage during the closing days of the legislative session. His failure to sign or veto them within that period resulted in their being filed as laws. The same procedure was followed last night with the final measure, which authorized a section of the financing program.

Score in Tribune Campaign.

Enactment of the program was a score in THE TRIBUNE'S advocacy of better motoring facilities, prosecuted vigorously and continuously since publication of an article on April 7, 1900, entitled "Good Roads bulletin No. 1."

This newspaper's advocacy of urban superhighways as they now are conceived — express routes with continuous grade separation—attracted curiosity in 1927. Perhaps it was a bit in advance of public thinking.

A similar curiosity had been aroused by an editorial on June 30, 1901, reading: "Twenty miles an hour will soon be practical. Build roads at once. Automobiles are the transportation of the future."

Saving of Lives Cited.

Introducing the engineering novelty, THE TRIBUNE continued to publish editorials, articles, and news stories on how lives and time might be saved by removing express trafic from the conventional one level streets. In 1928 an item of $5,000,000 to start work on an Avondale avenue elevated highway to the northwest was included in $74,032,500 in bond proposals on a referendum. All the proposals were defeated because of the disrepute of the city administration under a former Republican mayor.

In the spring of 1929 the Chicago Plan commission recommended elevated highway construction west from the loop. In the fall of 1929 the west park board proposed a $20,000,000 bond issue to build an upper level roadway to abut the North Western railroad embankment west from the loop.

West siders opposed having their park district pay for a facility that would benefit the entire city. The stock market crash came before the referendum. The combination defeated the $20,000,000 proposition.

Continues to Hammer Away.

THE TRIBUNE continued to hammer on the subject. New York had started to build its now far flung system of superhighways. In 1931 a bill was introduced in the Illinois legislature to appropriate $5,000,000 to initiate superhighway improvements. The bill didn't get to first base.

Efforts to obtain money for superhighways in the next few years failed because of the depression, but in 1937 and 1938 the ultimately successful drive got under way.

Last February THE TRIBUNE published results of an independent survey of Illinois road policies from economic and accident standpoints. Then a joint legislative committee appointed Prof. C. C. Wiley of the University of Illinois engineering school to make a like survey.

His findings and those of THE TRIBUNE were that future road funds must be concentrated on deathproof construction. It was found that expansion in mileage of little used pavements was straining finances, with revenues curbed by the inadequacy of the intensely traveled routes.

State legislators were influenced by meetings in their home districts by THE TRIBUNE'S and Prof. Wiley's reports and by the possibility of federal assistance. Chicago's $60,000,000 superhighway bills were passed and Gov. Horner's highway department promised to coöperate with its current revenue. The house vote was 126 to 20; the senate concurrence, 40 to 0.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Supposing Henry Ford had an income of a million dollars a year, what would be a fair income tax?

Where Answered.

The Answers.

J. E. Larsen, 2004 Lincoln Park West, insurance salesman—Not more than 20 per cent of it should go back to the government. Ford's history shows he uses his money for the benefit of labor. I came through the labor ranks, and I know that Ford was the first man to give the worker a break. One of his finest monuments is his ten million dollar plant provided with medical equipment and facilities for exclusive use of his employés.

Arthur B. Bau, 4915 North Whipple street, photographic engraving salesman—At least 65 per cent ought to go back to the government. Ford makes his money through the efforts of labor and should return his excess profits so that the government may help the unemployed. The other 35 per cent would be enough for him to carry on his good work with his own people.

Herbert Silverman, 6808 Wayne avenue, attorney—At least 80 per cent of the million should be returned to the government in income tax. Since it would have been made through the energy of labor, labor should be benefited by it. Eighty per cent of a million would help with the burden of the relief rolls and alleviate the suffering of the unemployed. The money should go back into circulation.

Miss Anne Cheevers, 7823 Cregier avenue, student — Not more than $10,000 should go back to the government. After all, Ford would have made it through his own initiative, and he should have the right to spend it himself. Of course, I admit I don't know how much a million is. Ford probably would have a little trouble spending all his money.

Mrs. Winifred Bergman, 4031 Adams street, clerk—At least half of it should be returned in income tax. That is so much money, and so many people don't have any. The government has such a tremendous load carrying the unemployed that the very rich should be glad to help. Ford ought to be able to get along on half a million.

BID FOR MODERN LINCOLN HIGHWAY SOUNDED IN DIXON

Dixon, Ill., July 26 [Special].—A plea for modernization of the historic Lincoln highway was sounded today from this picturesque town on the banks of the Rock river, 100 miles west of Chicago. It was made by representatives of communities along federal route 30 and federal route 330, between Chicago Heights and Clinton, Ia.

More than 350 automobiles joined motorcades from Chicago and Clinton to bring delegates to today's meeting here. The principal speaker at the meeting, held in Lowell park, was Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club and organizer of the motorcade.

Construction of a system of superhighways in Chicago will make scenic and historic places in Illinois more accessible to the city dweller and will increase the need for a modern pavement for the Lincoln highway route, Hayes asserted.

City officials and civic leaders from Chicago, Chicago Heights, Cicero, Ashton, Geneva, Rochelle, Sterling, Clinton, Dixon, Fulton, and other communities along the route attended the meeting.

Call Meetings to Consider Loop Parking Problems

Representatives of city agencies, loop department stores and transportation companies have been invited to attend a series of meetings to consider the downtown parking problem. The conferences have been called by Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. The first meeting will be held tomorrow noon in the Palmer House.

THREE ACCUSED OF ASSAULT.

Three colored men accused of assaulting and attempting to rob a peddler were arrested yesterday. They are Frank Holt, 1211 South Pulaski road; Earl Allen, 1214 South Sawyer avenue, and Edward Stray, 3245 Grenshaw street. The peddler is Max Griskosky, 3246 Grenshaw street.

PWA ATTORNEY AND HARRINGTON IN TRACTION TILT

Philip J. Harrington, city commissioner of subways and traction, declared yesterday that Chicago will not be forced by the Public Works administration to approve an unreasonable traction franchise. He disagreed sharply with a statement by Philip H. Treacy, traction attorney for the PWA, at a meeting of the committee on local transportation.

Treacy had emphasized that under terms of the $18,000,000 PWA subway grant the city is required to approve by Nov. 1 a franchise providing for unification of Chicago's transportation lines.

"Wait a minute," Harrington interrupted angrily. "The city wants unification, but there is nothing in the subway grant that requires the acceptance of unification at any price."

Acre of Lotus Flowers Blooms in Lake District

An acre of lotus flowers is blooming this week at Nippersink lake, 50 miles northwest of Chicago on Highway 12. The lotus, sacred flower of the orient, grows wild in the Fox lake district. Their profuse growth was choked this year by high water, and for a time horticulturists doubted that they would appear this summer. It takes four years to produce a flower from a lotus seed.

RUSSELL ADMITS KILLING KIDNAPED YOUTH IN ILLINOIS

Federal Jury Here Indicts Oklahoman.

A twenty-six page confession by Jack Russell, in which the Oklahoma outlaw told in detail how he killed Billy Scott Hamilton, kidnaped Kansas milling salesman, July 14 on a lonely road near Ringwood, in McHenry county, was made public yesterday by Jess Dunn, warden of the Oklahoma state penitentiary at McAlester.

As the confession was announced, the federal grand jury in Chicago indicted Russell for the kidnaping and slaying of Hamilton. The indictment contained seven counts. Preparations for bringing Russell to trial here were immediately spurred. United States District Attorney William J. Campbell said he would demand the death penalty for Russell under the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

Trial Date Awaits Removal.

The case was assigned for trial to Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward. No date will be set until arrangements are completed to bring Russell from the penitentiary to Chicago.

Russell, who escaped from a prison guard in McAlester July 11 has been in a solitary cell since his recapture July 18. His confession revealed that Hamilton lost his life in a desperate, courageous bid for freedom from his kidnaper.

Russell had forced an elderly photographer to drive him from McAlester to a highway junction near Pittsburg, Kas., arriving there the morning of July 12. There he flagged Hamilton.

"I told him we were going to Chicago and showed him the gun I took from the McAlester prison guard," said Russell in his confession. "He didn't make any trouble at all.

Phones Wife from Maywood.

"We got to Maywood Thursday night and I phoned my wife [Mrs. Mary Russell, 6527 Kimbark avenue]. Hamilton was standing beside me. Something she said made me afraid she would tip off the cops. I took the wheel of Hamilton's car and we drove north until we got out in the country and ran into a lot of gravel roads.

"I was keeping Hamilton covered with the gun in my right hand and steering with the other and I was getting sleepy. About 1:30 or 2 o'clock Friday morning [July 14] we pulled up under some trees to rest. I put the gun on the seat, partly under my right leg, where I could get it in a hurry.

"Didn't Want to Kill Him."

"I guess I dozed off. Suddenly Hamilton grabbed the gun by the barrel. But I awoke and got hold of the grip. He tried to take the gun away. I fired. I didn't want to kill him, but I had to."

The convict said Hamilton had wrenched open the door of the car before the shooting. His body tumbled out on the running board.

"I dragged him over into a field and went to Kenosha," Russell said. He told of registering at a hotel there as "Bill Hamilton" and described his subsequent flight to the tourist camp at Cass, Ark., where he was trapped by a sherif disguised as a fisherman.

Dictates Confession Calmly.

The confession was obtained late Tuesday night by Warden Dunn and two agents of the federal bureau of investigation, L. E. Kingman and H. S. Boone of Oklahoma City.

"The federal men had been questioning him during the day," said Warden Dunn. "Last evening he sent word be was ready to talk to me. He dictated the confession calmly, and seemed glad to get things off his mind."

Hamilton was shot in the head. Russell professed to know nothing of burns found on his victim's chest and abdomen which seemed to indicate Hamilton had been tortured.

Tells of Stripping Victim.

"I stripped him to his underwear to make him hard to identify," said Russell. "That's all."

The confession, federal agents said, will be produced at Russell's trial.

After the indictment was returned yesterday before Judge James H. Wilkerson, he issued a bench warant for Russell. A copy was dispatched to Cleon Summers, United States district attorney at Muskogee, Okla., in whose district the penitentiary is located. The indictment and warant were in the convict's correct name, Oliver Lawrence Dressler, alias Jack Russell.

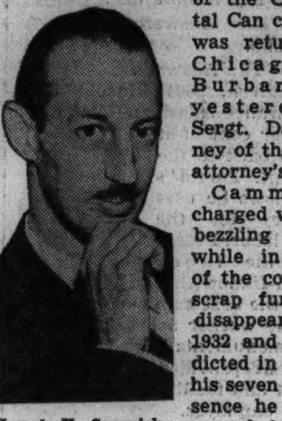
FORMER CLERK BACK TO FACE THEFT CHARGE



Joseph H. Cammick.

Joseph Hadley Cammick, 37 years old, former cashier and chief clerk of the Continental Can company, was returned to Chicago from Burbank, Cal., yesterday by Sergt. Dan Kinney of the state's attorney's police.

Cammick is charged with embezzling $49,998 while in charge of the company's scrap fund. He disappeared in 1932 and was indicted in 1935. In his seven year absence he had divorced his wife, married again, and was living in Burbank under the name of Joseph T. Hartigan. He was employed in the office of a distillery there when found by agents of an insurance company which had bonded him.

DISMISSES CASE OF GOVERNMENT AGAINST MEDICS

Court Throws Out Anti-Trust Action.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—Judge James M. Proctor of the federal District court here today dismissed proceedings brought against four medical bodies and twenty-one physicians for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The judge held that the practice of medicine is a profession and the Sherman anti-trust act does not apply to it. The act, he said, applies only to businesses and trades.

The ruling was the second reversal the government has sustained in proceedings under the anti-trust act within two weeks. In Chicago July 13 indictments against fourteen corporations and forty-three individuals for alleged milk monopoly were thrown out of court on the ground that the Sherman act had been superceded by legislation giving the secretary of agriculture power to regulate milk in interstate commerce.

Plans Made for Appeal.

Department of justice officials announced they would follow the procedure of the Chicago defeat and appeal the medical case. Wendell Berge, acting chief of the department of justice's anti-trust division in the absence of Thurman W. Arnold, said the department could not leave the decision of a District court stand as a legal precedent, even though it was based on a recent Supreme court decision.

In the court action here today Judge Proctor sustained the demurrers in behalf of the medical associations and individual physicians except for one defense point which attacked the constitutionality of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Four Defendant Bodies.

The defendant organizations are the American Medical association, the Medical Society of the District of Columbia, the Washington Academy of Surgery, and the Harris County Medical society of Houston, Tex.

The indictment of the associations and physicians was brought on the ground the defendants had conspired to restrain trade by fighting the Group Health association, an organization created here to give medical care at flat monthly charges.

In handing down his ruling Judge Proctor declared that the indictments, which were returned just before Christmas, smacked of "highly colored, argumentative discourse" and at another point said they were "afflicted with vague and uncertain statements."

Francis B. Sayre Nominated as Philippines Commissioner

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—President Roosevelt today nominated Francis Bowes Sayre, undersecretary of state and son-in-law of the late Woodrow Wilson, to be United States high commissioner to the Philippines.

Francis B. Sayre.

Sayre, who has been chairman of the United States interdepartmental commission on the Philippines, will succeed Paul V. McNutt, former governor of Indiana. McNutt was recently named head of the newly formed federal security agency after he announced he would drop his aspirations for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940 should Mr. Roosevelt choose to run for a third term.

In State Department Six Years.

Sayre has been in charge of the negotiation of trade agreements under Secretary of State Hull. He has served in the state department since the beginning of the present administration, having been summoned from the directorship of the Harvard Institute of Law in 1933.

Sayre was born in South Bethlehem, Pa., April 30, 1885. He was graduated from Williams college in 1909 and Harvard law school in 1912. He taught first at Williams and then at Harvard and held the post of professor at the latter institution up to the time he joined the state department.

Once Minister to Siam.

In 1913 he married Jessie Wilson in the White House. They had three children. She died in 1933 and he married Elizabeth Evans Graves in 1937. Sayre was called to the state department because of his able work in Siam, where he was a consultant on foreign affairs in 1923. In 1925 he was appointed minister to Siam and then returned to the rôle of consultant.

In that capacity he negotiated new commercial and political treaties for Siam with France, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Spain, Portugal, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, and Italy. He holds numerous foreign decorations for his work.

Fire Damages Lake Forest Home of Maj. McLaughlin

Damage estimated at $150 was caused yesterday by fire in the attic of the residence at 1360 West Old Mill road, Lake Forest, which is owned by Maj. Frederic McLaughlin. The blaze was extinguished by Lake Forest firemen. The home has been occupied by Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, the major's estranged wife, who is now in New York. Several of her employés have been living in the house.

KEYHOLING INFINITY

By CALEB

NOT all of man's latest triumphs are masterworks of speed, production, or space annihilation. His finest and hugest in its field, in fact—the new super-telescope to be in operation some time next year on Mt. Palomar, California—has been conceded his most wonderful; for it is nothing less than a stupendous "keyholer of Infinity," which promises to revolutionize all our former concepts of the universe. And it will do this even more literally than Galileo's first little two-inch spyglass of 1609 overturned the stellar concepts of his time.

The reason behind this awe-inspiring revolution in man's astral knowledge lies in this star-machine's monster size. Double the diameter of the previous biggest telescope located on Mt. Wilson, this enormous 200-inch mirror will capture the light of stars, galaxies and systems a billion light-years distant! A statement, alas, that conveys to the human mind exactly nothing! For even a single light-year involves a distance of 5 trillion, 852 billion, 700 million miles. Now add to that number nine ciphers, and you have the "space range" of this titanic prodigy among telescopes!

Merely to comprehend one light-year is impossible. The idea can only be approached—and then not very successfully. For if you were to represent 10,000,000 miles by one inch, then one light-year would stretch to a line over nine miles long! Now multiply that by one billion, if you would imagine how far out into his enveloping World of Darkness man will at last have succeeded in peering!

The saga of financing, experimentation, scientific study, and engineering ordeals associated with this super-star-finder of the firmament is so extraordinary that everyone should read the account of it recently published in a popular weekly—entitled "New Heavens for Old." There this epic in astronomic annals is narrated in detail; and never after its perusal will any reader glance skyward of a starry night without a sense of indescribable reverence. . . .

Fortunately, even the layman stargazer can experience thrills proportionate to those of the quiet scientists who will sit inside the 100-foot colossus on Mt. Palomar during cloudless future nights. For on our north Wabash first floor are telescopes that would have been a revelation to Galileo—through which, as through a keyhole, one can scan the beauty, surprise and wonder of Infinity, at a minimum outlay of money and minutes, in return.

AN ASTONISHED CHICAGOAN FINDS THAT HE IS SAFE

Learns of 3 Day Search for Him.

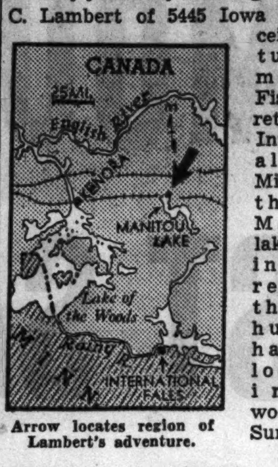
Early yesterday morning Mrs. Frank C. Lambert of 5445 Iowa street received a disturbing message: Fishermen, returning to International Falls, Minn., from the lonely Manitou lake region in Canada, reported that her husband had been lost there in the woods since Sunday.



Arrow locates region of Lambert's adventure.

Lambert, who is 53 years old, had gone to the lake July 14 with D. K. McMillan of 5057 Balmoral avenue. He was not an experienced woodsman, and his wife, half crediting the report, asked the Canadian forestry service at Fort Frances, Ont., to search for him.

Found Hale, Hearty, Unharmed.

"Unless I hear something definite soon," she said, "I will have to fly up there and look for Frank. I can't understand why Mr. McMillan hasn't let me know if something is wrong."

The forestry service promised help. Two planes were sent to the wild region. Men in canoes explored the water courses. Late in the afternoon one of the planes landed at Isberg's camp on Manitou lake, where the pilot found Lambert, hale, hearty, and unharmed.

"It's true I was lost for a while," he said. "But that was on Sunday. McMillan and I went out in a boat together and without a guide. We halted at a portage between Hailstone bay and Dog Fly lake, where McMillan started hunting insect specimens.

Lights a Fire and Waits.

"I got tired and started back to the boat. On the way I lost the trail and beat my way deep into the woods. McMillan failed to find me and went to camp, a few miles away, for help. Guides and trappers hunted for me and at 11:30 p. m. they found me on Dog Fly lake. I had built a fire and waited for them."

Lambert said he was the most astonished man in Canada when he learned that a new search was started yesterday on a report that was current in the vicinity on Sunday. Mrs. Lambert gave up her projected plane trip when the Canadian authorities notified her of his safety.

King Cole Gets a Year for Work Relief Formula

Dr. King Cole Hogan, colored, whose attempt to cure unemployment among south side Negroes failed last week when his "clients" stormed his offices at 3517 Indiana avenue, was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction yesterday by Judge Eugene L. McGarry of the Felony court for obtaining money under false pretenses. Dr. Hogan had announced that he could obtain WPA jobs for a fee. He was arrested after 200 persons raided his office when no jobs were forthcoming.

3 in Family Die as Their Fashionable Home Burns

Canton, O., July 26 (AP).—Paul F. Morgan, 41 years old; his wife, Helen, 36, and their month old son, Paul Jr., died tonight in a fire which destroyed their home in fashionable Avondale, Canton suburb. Morgan was formerly business manager of the Canton Repository, a newspaper, and later manager of Canton radio station WHBC. He resigned the latter position six months ago because of illness.

TRUCK DRIVER REPORTS $45 HOLDUP.
Dave Feldman, 1635 South Ridgeway avenue, truck driver for a cleaning and dyeing company at 4242 Cottage Grove avenue, reported to police yesterday that he was robbed of $45 by a colored bandit who boarded the truck at 51st street and Cottage Grove avenue.

JAP-BRITISH RIFT RISES OVER SCOPE OF TOKIO PLEDGES

Apply to All of China, Nippon Insists.

TOKIO, July 26 (AP).—Differences of an unspecified nature were authoritatively reported to have arisen today at committee negotiations to settle the Tientsin dispute between Great Britain and Japan.

Possibility of a difference of interpretation between the two powers regarding their agreement of last Friday was seen in a statement of the foreign office spokesman earlier in the day.

Asked what Japan's reaction would be to continued British help to Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek outside the areas of China under control of the Japanese army, the spokesman replied:

"We certainly do not expect any such assistance will be given."

The Japanese View.

The spokesman, saying that Britain acknowledged that the Japanese forces had "special requirements" for "maintaining public order" in "regions under their control," indicated the Japanese regard the agreement as applying to all of China.

[British spokesmen have stated that Britain's policy regarding China remained unchanged as a result of the Tokio agreement. This policy in the past has included financial assistance to China. The British spokesmen said the negotiations in Tokio would be confined to the local issues at Tientsin, North China port where the Japanese have blockaded the British concession since June 14.]

Neutral naval experts today expressed the belief that Japan's call for reservists to step up her naval manpower, would bring an estimated 1,500 men to the colors. The admiralty, in issuing the call, disclosed the organization of a new squadron which soon will begin special maneuvers with the combined imperial fleet. It was believed the fleet reinforcement resulted from friction between Japan and Russia over Sakhalin Island oil and coal concessions.

Extend Defense Act.

As the result of fear of possible Russian air raids in Manchukuo, the national defense act today was extended throughout the Japanese sponsored state.

The measure was invoked last month first for the four northwestern provinces of Manchukuo after fighting broke out between Japanese forces and soviet-Mongolian troops.

Enacted in March, 1938, the act is designed to "prevent and minimize damages arising from enemy attacks, especially aerial raids."

Russians Report Combat.

MOSCOW, July 26 (AP).]—A Russian communique today reported seventy-four Japanese war planes and three captive balloons shot down in three days of heavy aerial combat over the Manchukuan-Outer Mongolian frontier. It was admitted twenty soviet Russian planes were lost.

[A Japanese communique on Tuesday reported fifty-eight soviet planes shot down and only one Japanese plane lost. The Japanese claim that since the fighting began on May 11 they have destroyed 691 soviet planes, including 103 in the last three days.]

The Russian communique said repeated attacks by Japanese land forces attempting to capture soviet positions east of the Khalka river had been driven back with great losses for the Japanese.

VITAMIN D MILK
Extra nutritious
Extra digestible

● People from whom you'd least expect it are often the worst "stomach babiers." Even though they're strong, energetic and efficient, they complain that certain foods just don't agree with them.

Pure, fresh pasteurized milk is "our most nearly perfect food." It's recognized for its great nutritional value and digestibility.

Bowman has a special milk . . . Sofkurd Vitamin D . . . that's quickly and easily digestible for everyone. Mineral-modified by the Sofkurd process it stays in liquid form during digestion. Also, it has been irradiated . . . for an extra supply of the important Vitamin D.

Regardless of whether you "baby your stomach" or not, you'll go for the extra fine flavor, the even greater food value that this milk offers.

BRITISH PREMIER DODGES ANSWER ON SOVIET TALKS

Military Mission to Reds Held Uncertain.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 26.—With British-soviet negotiations still marking time, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain disclosed in the house of commons tonight that no definite decision had been reached about sending a British military mission to Moscow.

Despite widespread reports that the British and French governments had agreed to open immediate staf talks with the Russians to parallel negotiations for a political pact, Chamberlain refused to be drawn out by questioners in commons.

Statement Next Week.

He ducked opposition demands for a clear cut statement by saying that new instructions had been sent to the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir William Seeds, and that the British government had not yet been informed on Russian reactions.

The British government, he assured the house, was acting in full collaboration with France. He quieted clamor for an immediate showdown on the plea that he hoped to make a statement next week.

Though the foreign office today described reports of staf talks as "premature," diplomatic writers here tonight suggested that discussions will begin in about two weeks.

Scheme for Delay.

Opposition circles, however, said that since parliament was scheduled to adjourn Aug. 4, the suggestion of military conversations between British, French, and Russian officers may be a maneuver to induce the members to depart quietly from Westminster.

The suggestion was also heard in anti-Chamberlain quarters that any military pact may be made contingent on the conclusion of a political agreement, which it appears, would involve an indefinite delay.

POLICEMAN FINDS SUSPECT WANTED IN 4 BURGLARIES

Policeman Robert White tried to question a young man at Madison and Des Plaines street last Friday. The young man seized the policeman's gun, and a bystander was accidentally wounded before the prisoner was finally locked up at the Des Plaines street station. Policeman White learned yesterday why his prisoner didn't want to be questioned. The young man identified himself as Ralph Sandgren, 24 years old, of 104 West Oak street. Policemen White, Edward Smith, and Joseph Jelinek said he confessed four near north side burglaries.

Chicago Attorney Named Judge in Virgin Islands

Attorney Herman E. Moore of Chicago has been nominated as federal district judge in the Virgin Islands. His name was sent to the senate yesterday by President Roosevelt. Moore is an assistant commissioner of the Illinois commerce commission and a director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He was born in Jackson, Miss., and attended Howard university, Washington, D. C., and the Boston university law school. He is a former president of the Cook County Bar association. Moore is 46 years old and lives at 431 East 44th street.

ENGLISH BOMB DRIVE OPPOSED BY DE VALERA

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

DUBLIN, July 26.—Premier Eamon de Valera tonight declared the opposition of his government to the Irish Republican army extremists campaign of bombing in England. It was his first official statement on the matter.

In response to a question in the senate, De Valera said:

"Last spring we created a favorable attitude in Britain toward ending partition [of Ireland], but this campaign in England has put us back. It comes as a surprise that any one could suggest the government supported a campaign of this sort. The only decision possible is an adverse one."

De Valera indicated he plans a drive against the I. R. A. at home.

Residents Empty Streets in One Minute.

BERLIN, July 26 (AP).—High flying "enemy warplanes" subjected this Nazi capital to a bombing attack tonight. The "bombing" theoretically wiped out hundreds of buildings, broke water mains in dozens of streets, put the entire city in darkness, and sent Berlin's millions into air raid shelters in defense exercises.

The first alarm in the five day air raid defense test came at 6:50 p. m. A minute later the streets, except for an occasional policeman, were empty.

Four hours earlier a warning had been broadcast that "enemy" planes had entered German territory. Anti-aircraft guns were mounted on buildings. Volunteer workers hurried to their appointed meeting places to prepare for the worst.

5 Germans "Killed."

The first "bomb" fell in Berlin's east side in Frankfurter Allee. It tore a figurative hole in the street beside a subway entrance, "killing" five persons and three animals. A large department store and apartment buildings caught fire, but the "fires" were extinguished by persons in the buildings.

The nine "enemy planes" which arrived over the city dropped hundreds of "bombs," referees of the exercises reported.

Grimly serious, volunteer stretcher bearers carried the "injured" into first aid stations and bandaged their sound arms and legs.

While the planes were over the city—a matter of about an hour—street cars and buses stood empty, their passengers and crews huddling in cellars. Hotel guests were hustled into air raid rooms.

Black Flags Mark "Blasts."

Officials would not estimate the number of "killed and wounded," but hundreds of black flags marked buildings struck by bombs. Other hundreds of black ropes marked off the places in streets hit by the blasts.

There were actual explosions to make the bombing realistic, and anti-aircraft artillery could be heard peppering away.

FOREST RANGER FINDS BOY OF 6 LOST THREE DAYS IN UNDERBRUSH

La Porte, Minn., July 26 (AP).—Russell Jensen, 6 years old, of Albert Lea, Minn., has been found, apparently unharmed by his three days in the forest where 600 searchers had hunted for him.

The boy was discovered about three miles from the cabin at which he had been staying with his father, Curtis Jensen, an Albert Lea packing house foreman.

The boy appeared all right despite his exposure to swarms of insects, his scrambling through tangled underbrush and lack of food. A state forest ranger discovered the boy and notified the other searchers.

WAR VET FREED ON CHARGE OF STEALING PLANE

Frederick Hofmann, 41 years old, a world war veteran, who stole an airplane from the Curtiss-Reynolds airport in Glenview on July 4, yesterday was freed of a charge of larceny in the Morton Grove county highway court.

Justice of the Peace Elmer J. Tone dismissed the charge after Hofmann's attorney, Robert T. Kinnare, said his client was a ward of the government in the Hines veterans' hospital. He is under observation in the neuropsychopathic ward. Hofmann was twice wounded and gassed during the war, his attorney said. Hofmann lives at 618 North La Grange road, La Grange Park.

Florist Is Shot to Death Accidentally by Relative

William Gutches, 29 years old, a florist, died in Little Company of Mary hospital last night after he was shot accidentally by his brother-in-law, Roger Thusing. They had been shooting at a target near the former's home, 5700 West 79th street, Oak Lawn, and had laid their .22 caliber rifle on the ground. As Gutches' wife called them to supper, Gutches started for home and Thusing picked up the rifle, which was discharged, the bullet striking Gutches in the spine. Thusing lives at 10905 Vernon avenue.

Reports Theft of $5,295 Movie Camera Equipment

Parolee Saws Way Out of His Cell at Aurora

Chester Persinger, 21 years old, of Terre Haute, Ind., escaped from the jail at Aurora some time before 12:30 a. m. today. Persinger, who was being held for trial on robbery charges, sawed his way out of his cell and then out of the exercise pen. He was put in jail two weeks ago accused of a number of auto holdups. He was on parole from an Ohio prison.

Harry Keeler Will Head Night and Summer Schools

The board of education yesterday named Harry Keeler assistant superintendent of schools in charge of night schools and summer schools. Keeler, a district superintendent of high schools, replaces Robert I. White, who retired last month. James T. Gaffney, Roosevelt High school principal, was named to Keeler's district superintendent position.

FRANCO YIELDING TO UPROAR OVER FRIEND OF ITALY

Reported Delaying Plan to Make Him Premier.

HENDAYE, France, July 26 (AP).—Generalissimo Francisco Franco was reported today in dispatches from Spain to have bowed to bitter opposition to his brother-in-law, Ramon Serrano Suner.

Serrano Suner has been the leading advocate of close Spanish collaboration with Germany and Italy. He is minister of the interior and Franco is reported to have planned to make him premier with almost unlimited power. This plan, the dispatches from Spain state, has been pigeonholed by Franco because of violent criticism of Serrano Suner and his Italian connections.

The attacks were said to have come from monarchists who oppose Serrano Suner's Falangists [Fascists], from leaders of the old army and from quarters close to the generalissimo.

Two Heroes Join Opposition.

It is reported that Gen. José Moscardo, defender of the Alcazar, and Gen. Antonio Aranda, hero of the civil war siege of Oviedo, joined the growing opposition. Generals Gonzalo Queipo de Llano, Juan Yague, and José Solchaga already had openly opposed Serrano Suner. All were said to have warned Franco that if he elevated his brother-in-law he would not be able to keep order.

A Paris court today ordered about $39,730,000 in Spanish gold turned over to the Nationalist Bank of Spain. The gold was sent to Paris by Spain's Republican government, which fell, about two years ago.

This removed the main barrier to execution of the French-Spanish accord negotiated at Burgos last Feb. 26, when France recognized Franco as the victor in Spain. It paved the way for Britain and France to make further attempts to woo the Spanish Nationalists from Rome, which probably never could be done if Serrano Suner were premier.

Generalissimo Franco has sent a message to former King Alfonso concerning possible restoration of the Spanish monarchy, according to reports here. The duke of Maura, who was Alfonso's royal councillor, is said to be carrying the document.

Cabinet Shakeup Forecast.

BURGOS, Spain, July 26 (AP).—Informed circles today reported Generalissimo Francisco Franco may shake up his cabinet at a meeting on Friday.

Manuel Falconde, Carlist [monarchist] leader, was mentioned as possible justice minister, and Clemente de Diego, Madrid university law professor, as education minister.

GERMAN ARMY CHIEF WILL PARTICIPATE IN ITALIAN MANEUVERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 26.—Gen. Franz von Halder, chief of staff of the German army, will participate in the Italian maneuvers in the Po valley to further cement military coöperation of the axis partners. The maneuvers will begin Aug. 1 and end Aug. 10. Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering is expected to attend the exercises near their close. German army maneuvers will start about the same time. They will open in Bavaria Aug. 5 and will extend over a wide area up to the Polish frontier.

Miss Bertha Wachs, 24 years old, came here from Vienna only six months ago, so she isn't familiar with the methods of American holdup men. Yesterday one of them walked into the linen store of Mosely & Co., 32 East Adams street, where Miss Wachs is employed as a salesgirl.

The bandit drew a gun and pointed it at her. Miss Wachs screamed. She ran to the back of the store and dropped to the floor. The flabbergasted robber put the gun back in his pocket and ran out.

Afterward Miss Wachs, who lives at 1103 Pratt boulevard, was informed that she had saved her employers more than $200.

FIRE LOSS $200,000.

Chehalis, Wash., July 26 (AP).—Fire which swept a block of this community's business district and threatened to destroy the remainder was brought under control early today after it had done damage estimated unofficially at more than $200,000. The blaze started last night in the Palmer Lumber company's storage yards. It spread to the Gustaveson Iron works and the For-Get-Me-Not Ice Cream and Dairy plant.

PAINTERS' UNION BOSS IS GRANTED VENUE CHANGE

The case of George Henneman, business agent and boss of the painters' union, who is charged with carrying concealed weapons, was reassigned yesterday to Judge John Sbarbaro by Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Criminal court.

The action followed presentation of a written request for a change of venue to Judge John F. Haas, to whom the case was assigned originally. In his petition Henneman's attorney, John V. Clinnin, named Judge Haas and Judge John C. Lewe as jurists the defendant regarded as prejudiced. Under the law a defendant may specify two judges.

Judge Sbarbaro, now occupied with the murder trial of Athon Papas, set next Tuesday for hearing of motions in the Henneman case. Henneman was arrested June 27 in a tavern at 5432 Wentworth avenue. Police said he was carrying a revolver and had a pistol in the glove compartment of his car.

HORNER VETOES LIQUOR LICENSE, OPTOMETRY BILLS

Springfield, Ill., July 26 [Special].—Gov. Henry Horner late today announced the veto of several bills passed by the recent session of the legislature. One of the measures killed was the Saltiel optometry bill, which, the governor held, in effect would have prevented jewelry and department stores from selling optical goods.

The governor said that at present quantity purchases with resultant low prices are assured, whereas the Saltiel bill might force customers to deal solely with optometrists, and that prices might be increased to the disadvantage of low salaried persons.

Another veto killed the Hannigan bill which would have permitted the transfer of state liquor licenses, and a third killed the Gibbs bill to create a toll bridge board to purchase toll bridges and pay for them from the revenue they produced.

The governor also killed the Cutler-Fidler bill appropriating $53,000 to purchase the Dickson Indian mounds near Lewistown for a state park. He asserted the mounds could be purchased with an appropriation already granted the department of public works and buildings. Since he began consideration of bills following adjournment of the assembly Mr. Horner has sliced $4,154,000 from appropriations passed by the legislators.

The necessity of leading a double life

MOST OF US lead two lives . . .

One is the life of the imagination—the life of fiction and the movie romance, where action is fast and thrill-packed and love is sweet and everlasting—the life of escape from reality . . .

The other is the insistent life of the world we live in—reality itself.

Most large-sale magazines are amply nourishing the "escape life" of Americans—presenting, very ably, "escape literature."

And a few years ago, "escape literature" was all there seemed a need of in the large-magazine field. But when LIFE started—bringing with it a new scope for the camera, making the camera "an eye with a brain," presenting the world of reality in a new, three-dimensional way—something very like a revolution in American reading habits began.

LIFE Is Real

For Americans found that LIFE possessed a new power to dramatize the world of reality, to make it alive, and to present it as vividly and excitingly as any fiction ever written.

Discovering this, millions of American readers turned to LIFE. And that is not strange. Never before in our time have the events of the whole world so dominated our existence. Never before has it been so imperative for the useful citizen, the capable business man, the "average" man and woman to know what is going on in the world beyond their own communities, their own immediate interests, their own spheres of activity.

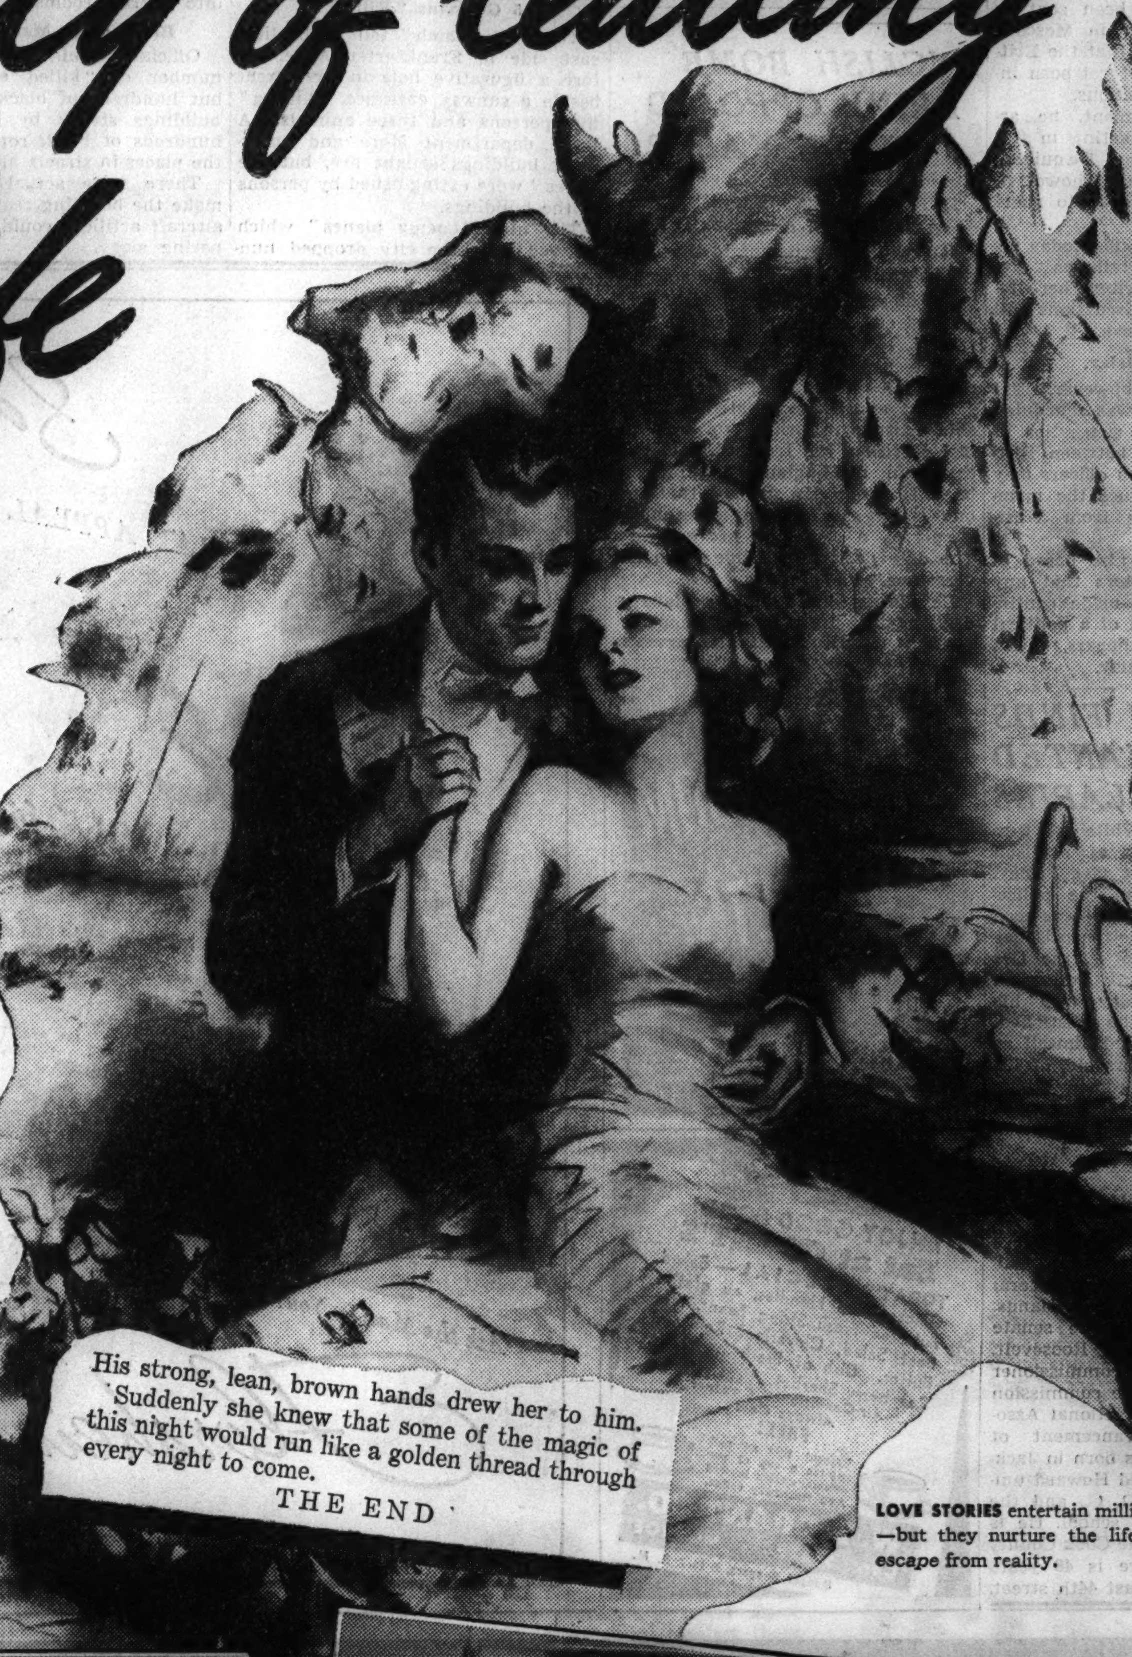
Most people find it necessary to lead double lives, and "escape literature" is still an essential component of our civilization.

But the world of reality—LIFE's world—of news, and science, and politics, and modern living, and the strange customs of men in foreign lands—is assuming an increasingly important role in the lives of all of us.

America Takes To LIFE

Proof that the American mind was ready and eager for such substantial diet is the widespread acceptance of LIFE. It is the most spectacular success in all publishing history. In less than 3 short years, it has attained a circulation of more than 2,300,000. Its readers pay more for LIFE than has ever been paid before for any magazine. Scientific research studies show that it reaches the greatest total audience ever to read the pages of any publication—a weekly audience exceeding 18,200,000.

LIFE is proud of this record. It is also proud that, in achieving it, LIFE has proved that the American citizen is more alert, more mature, and more conscientious toward his duties to society than some of his "best friends" ever gave him credit for being.



His strong, lean, brown hands drew her to him. Suddenly she knew that some of the magic of this night would run like a golden thread through every night to come.

THE END

FIELD OF HONOR, real life—as part of its gripping coverage of the blood-drenched fields in Spain and China, LIFE has shown how death comes to a warrior of our own day.

LOVE STORY, real life—the romances of real life can often outdo the imagination of the most gifted fiction writer—as proven when LIFE shows the course of history being altered by the charm of an American woman.

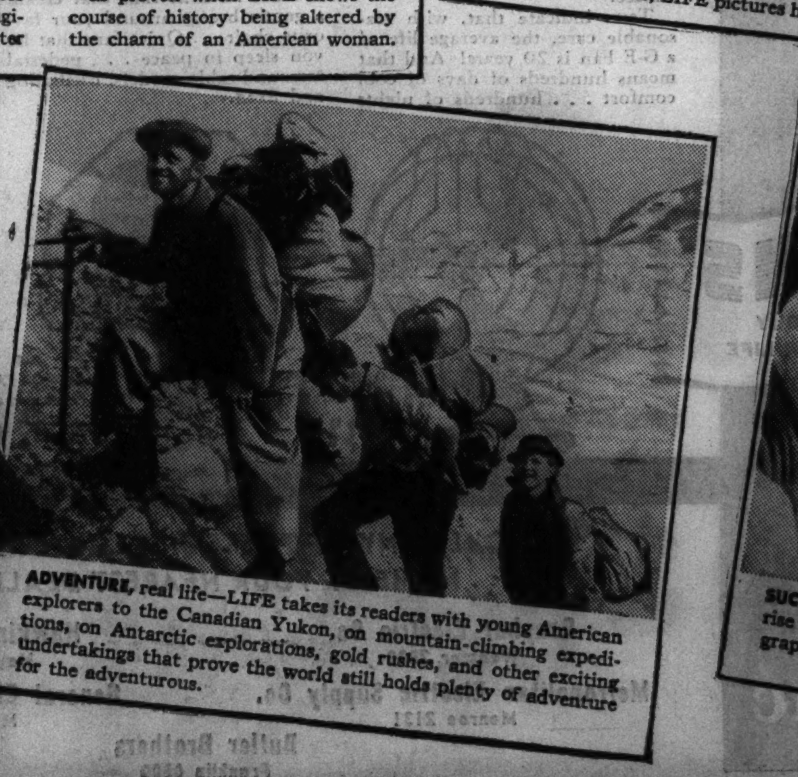
LIFE

"AMERICA'S MOST POTENT EDITORIAL FORCE"



ADVENTURE, real life—LIFE takes its readers with young American explorers to the Canadian Yukon, on mountain-climbing expeditions, on Antarctic explorations, gold rushes, and other exciting undertakings that prove the world still holds plenty of adventure for the adventurous.

SUCCESS STORY, real life—the most amazing and portentous rise to power recorded in modern history received its most graphic documentation in LIFE.

ALL SET, MARS? EARTH TO SIGNAL PLANET BY RADIO

Scientists Ready for Big Experiment Tonight.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Popular as well as scientific interest will center on Mars tonight, for the red planet will be the closest to the earth that it has been since 1924, a distance of 36,035,000 miles. In this position the earth lies between Mars and the sun. Since 1924 the planet has strayed as much as 63,000,000 miles from the earth.

Mars will rise in the southeastern sky about 8:20 p. m. It will appear to the naked eye much the same size as at other times, but it will be much brighter, officials of the Hayden planetarium in New York said last night.

While the position of the planets puts in sunlight the face of Mars, which looks toward the earth, and makes impossible the flashing of signals which might be seen and answered by the mythical Martians, an attempt will be made to send a radio signal to Mars.

Radio Station to Assist.

This attempt will be made from Long Island, N. Y. where the American Museum of Natural History and the Hayden planetarium are to work with engineers of radio station WOR. They will try to get a signal through the heavy layer of ionized particles surrounding the earth in the hope of hitting Mars and having the signal reflected back to earth by the mineral substance on the sister planet.

Museum and planetarium scientists will be stationed at Baldwin, Long Island, headquarters of the Press Wireless, where at 11:22 p. m. the radio engineers will throw into operation a high frequency radio transmitter, with a power of 20,000 watts.

This transmitter will send a long dash straight at Mars. If the signal is returned the time should be about six and a half minutes. Forty powerful short wave receivers will be tuned in at Baldwin to listen for the return signal on frequencies ranging from 16 to 300,000 kilocycles. There will be no other attempt to communicate with the possible inhabitants of Mars. The army signal corps and the navy communications transmitters have been requested to remain off the air between 10:30 and 11:30 p. m.

It's Springtime on Mars.

It is now springtime on Mars, and the ice is breaking up on the planet's southern ice cap. Vapor and haze are absent, according to reports from Lowell observatory astronomers stationed in South Africa, and great interest among scientists is directed toward the special photographs which will be taken there tonight.

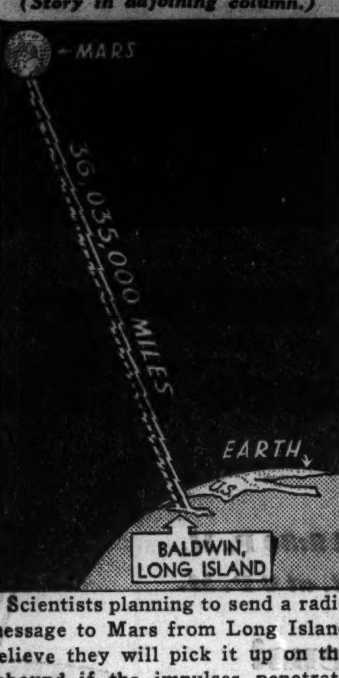
Mars is an older planet than the earth, and if there is intelligent life there it has had a long time to develop. Prof. Henry Norris Russell of Princeton, dean of American astronomers who has made a special study of the atmosphere of the planets, says it would be premature to conclude that Mars must be a lifeless planet.

"The depletion of oxygen there would be slow," he concludes, "and plant life probably would adjust itself, as it has done on earth in response to far more rapid climatic changes. [At one time this part of the earth was covered with an ice cap from 400 to 1,000 feet thick.]

"A race of no more intelligence and engineering skill than our own presumably could meet the situation and survive in diminished numbers breathing electrolytic oxygen—provided that it paid no attention to changes so slow as to be imperceptible on a thousand generations."

Radio Attack

(Story in adjoining column.)



Scientists planning to send a radio message to Mars from Long Island believe they will pick it up on the rebound if the impulses penetrate the atmosphere near the planet.

LETTER KEPT OUT OF MANTON TRIAL GETS INTO COURT

Concerns $250,000 Loan Needed by Judge's Firm.

New York, July 26 [Special].—A group of New York lawyers passed a letter around like a hot potato at a time when it could have been used as evidence in the case of Federal Judge Martin T. Manton, a witness testified today at the hearing on disbarment charges against Louis S. Levy and Paul M. Hahn.

The letter was addressed to Levy and is the principal document in evidence against him, but one of today's witnesses, David Hecht, a partner of Levy, testified that when he had possession of the letter he had not shown it to his partner.

Federal Judge John C. Knox, obviously incredulous, asked Hecht how long he had been practicing law.

"Nine years," said the witness.

"Do you have some appreciation of evidentiary values?" inquired the judge, with sarcasm.

"Yes," replied Hecht. "I like to think I'm a fairly good trial lawyer. My attitude was that I had no concern with its evidentiary value."

Manton to Be a Witness.

Manton, free on appeal from his conviction for selling decisions, is expected to be a witness for the government in this trial.

The letter in question was written to Levy in 1932 by Marie D. Schmalz, secretary of Judge Manton, and signed with the name of James J. Sullivan, business associate of Manton. It dealt with details of a proposed $250,000 loan, needed by a Manton corporation, which Levy was to arrange.

At the time Manton had under consideration a $10,000,000 suit against the American Tobacco company, and before he decided the case, Sullivan got a $250,000 loan from Lord & Thomas, advertising agency for the tobacco company. The disbarment charges against Hahn, who at the time of the loan was assistant to the president of the tobacco company, and Levy are that they violated legal ethics in arranging for the loan.

Surrenders Firm Records.

George Whiteside, former law partner of Levy, testified that in February of this year he was asked by J. Arthur Leve, a partner with Levy & Hecht, to give Hecht access to records of a former law firm of which both were members. Whiteside said he turned over to Hecht a file of papers, several of them concerning Judge Manton, which included the Sullivan letter. At the time, said Whiteside, he looked at the file and told Hecht that the Sullivan letter "must at all hazards be shown to Mr. Levy."

But Hecht failed to show Levy the papers, according to Whiteside. He said he later talked to Leve about the matter and insisted that some partner of Levy should call it to Levy's attention. After he spoke to Leve three times and after Manton had been convicted, said Whiteside, he finally told Leve that unless something was done about the papers he would "take action."

[ADVERTISMENT]
WHAT TO DO FOR ECZEMA ITCHING AND BURNING
Wash the affected parts with Resinol Soap and warm water to soften scales and crusts. Resinol Soap is suggested because it contains no excess of free alkali, and cleanses the tender skin so carefully. Dry by patting with a soft cloth—do not rub.
Many doctors recommend an oily ointment because it holds the medication in contact with the irritated skin surface, giving prolonged action. Resinol Ointment meets this requirement, and does even more. For nearly 45 years it has been—and still is—successfully used to relieve quickly the itching and burning of eczema. It contains soothing ingredients that aid healing.
Use Resinol Ointment today and enjoy comfort tomorrow. Get a jar, also a cake of Resinol Soap, at any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 87, Baltimore, Md.

NEW DEAL TRIES SWAPS TO SAVE HOUSING PLANS

Ready to Revise Wage and Hour Law in Return.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—With the Democratic majority torn by dissensions between conservatives and New Dealers, the house was the scene of attempted vote trading today on a remarkable scale.

Three major bills were involved in the cloakroom manipulations. They are the administration's 800 million dollar housing measure, shelved Monday by the rules committee; the President's 2 billion 390 million dollar spend-lend bill, and the bill containing drastic amendments to the wages and hours act.

Administration forces were lined up behind the first two measures and strongly opposed to the third. From the confusion resulting from the bickering of the warring groups, the following developments emerged tonight:

1. Fifty-one New Deal Democrats forced a party caucus for Friday night, at which they will attempt to bind the majority to action on the spending and housing measures.
2. The house rules committee again postponed action on a special rule giving right of way to the wage-hour amendments.
3. Southern Democrats were considering a deal whereby they would attempt to resurrect the housing bill from the rules committee pigeonhole in return for a pledge of votes for the wage-hour amendments.
4. A Republican party conference agreed to oppose the spending bill with the solid strength of the minority.

Try to Curb Coalition.

The Democratic party caucus will witness an attempt by the New Deal faction to prevent functioning of the coalition between Republicans and conservative Democrats which has administered many rebuffs to President Roosevelt at this session. A majority in a caucus has the power to commit the entire Democratic membership to a plan for bringing the housing and spending bills to the floor without delay.

Majority Leader Sam Rayburn and House Whip Pat Boland were obliged to acced to the caucus petition, but the latter expressed the opinion that it would accomplish nothing.

Democratic members of the banking and currency committee said they will take no action on the 2 billion 390 million dollar lending-spending bill until the senate has acted. If the senate adopts any rider amending the recently approved relief appropriation act, there will be no lending-spending bill, according to Representative Albert Gore [D., Tenn.], a member of the banking and currency committee.

Coalition to Block Rider.

Gore said four other Democratic members stand ready to join him and the ten Republican members to make a majority of 15 to 10 against the lending-spending bill if it contains any rider amending the relief act.

It is a foregone conclusion that the senate will adopt an amendment by Senator Pat McCarran [D., Nev.] to repeal the provision of the relief act requiring WPA workers to work 130 hours a month for their pay. This is the provision which resulted in the recent outbreak of WPA strikes. McCarran's amendment would require the payment of the prevailing [or union scale] hourly rates of pay to WPA workers.

The house rules committee wrangled all day over the wage-hour amendments to which Pesident Roosevelt has expressed public opposition. The amendments would exempt many agricultural workers from the forty-four hour week provisions of the law and work out other improvements which have aroused objections.

Cox and Sabath Clash.

Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.], backer of the amendments, and Chairman Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.] engaged in many verbal clashes. Cox, who has taken over leadership of the committee, on one occasion told Sabath to "shut up."

Cox accused Sabath of "stalling" on the amendments which the administration has kept tied up in the house labor committee for many months.

Mrs. Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.], chairman of the labor committee, attempted to excuse her committee's lack of action by saying that the committee's duty was to protect labor.

"Isn't it the duty of the labor committee to protect other citizens also?" inquired Representative Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.], a member of the rules committee.

Lewis and Green Consulted.

Mrs. Norton announced that she had invited John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. and William Green of the A. F. of L. to attend a labor committee meeting tomorrow, at which a compromise on the wage-hour amendments will be sought.

Cox and several southern Democrats on the rules committee appeared to be weakening in their stand against the President's housing measure in return for promises of support for the wage-hour amendments. They were reported to feel that the house will kill the housing bill, anyway, if the rules committee reports it to the floor. There was some discussion of recommending a $300,000,000 housing bill, representing a slash of $500,000,000 in the President's figures.

ASK RIGHT TO SUE FOR WRIT AGAINST NEW WPA LAWS

Seven WPA workers yesterday asked permission of Judge James H. Wilkerson in the federal District court to file a suit seeking to restrain national and state Work Projects administration executives from enforcing the new WPA legislation passed by congress. They asked the judge to allow them to file the suit as paupers.

Major Hitton, 2342 Washington boulevard, prepared the bill on behalf of himself and the six other relief workers. Their principal objection, they said, is to the provision in the WPA law that all WPA workers who have been on the work relief rolls for eighteen months must be discharged at the end of that period.

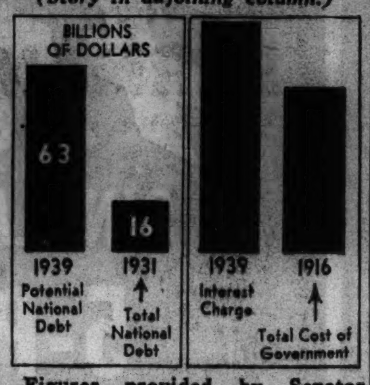
The seven men contended that this is class legislation in violation of the constitution and that it will deprive them unlawfully of their means of livelihood. Judge Wilkerson took the question of filing the suit under consideration and told them to return to court on Friday.

Three Bandits Routed After Exchange of Shots

James Turner routed three colored bandits yesterday after an exchange of pistol shots in his real estate agency at 326 East 51st street. Turner seized a gun and rushed to the front of the store when the robbers threatened his daughter Alice, the cashier, and Miss Marion Lebus, the switchboard operator. Miss Turner, Miss Lebus, and two other women employés dropped to the floor as Turner and the robbers opened fire. The bandits fled. No one was injured.

Debt Piles Up

(Story in adjoining column.)



Figures provided by Senator Byrd of Virginia, who cited treasury statements to prove that the national bonded debt has exceeded statutory limitations of 45 billion dollars.

NATIONAL DEBT EXCEEDS LIMIT, BYRD CONTENDS

Senator Cites Statements of Treasury.

since 1932 and still we are spending $2 for every $1 we take in.

"We have never enjoyed prosperity in this country at a time when the federal, state and local government were collecting in taxes more than 12 per cent of the total national income. Today we are collecting in taxes 20 per cent of the total national income, and we are actually spending 30 per cent of the total national income. The federal, state and local governments are spending more than 20 billion dollars a year."

On the basis of Senator Byrd's disclosure, Senator William H. King [D., Utah] charged that an attempt was being made to evade the obligation resting upon the treasury not to exceed the 45 billion dollar statutory debt limit "by indirect, not to say hypocritical, methods of bookkeeping and explanations to the people."

Strikes at Propaganda.

"Has not the senator discovered," asked Senator King, "that among some of our ardent New Dealers—I was about to say fanatical, but I will not use that word—there is propaganda in which they contend that it is not disadvantageous to have a large public debt?"

"I think that one of the worst things that have been done, one of the most evil things that have been done, is to popularize debt," replied Senator Byrd. "But this propaganda has begun with the President of the United States and gone down to the last official in Washington. The effort has been made throughout the land to make it popular to borrow money and to go into debt."

Earlier in the debate today, Majority Leader Barkley admitted that he had made a misstatement yesterday with reference to the so-called recoverable assets represented by the 40 billion dollar direct national debt. Barkley had estimated that 10 billion dollars of this debt was recoverable. Today he presented a statement from the treasury showing that the book value of the so-called recoverable assets, exclusive of the 2 billion dollar stabilization fund, is only 4 billion dollars.

No Appraisal of Assets.

"I was confusing 10 per cent with 10 billion dollars," Barkley said.

Senator Byrd reminded Barkley that the treasury did not claim that the 4 billion dollars of so-called recoverable assets were recoverable. The treasury statement said:

"No attempt has been made to estimate any losses that may be sustained on these investments, but the amount herein indicated represents more nearly the government's investments as shown by the books. In other words no attempt has been made to appraise these assets."

Senator Byrd said that 4 billion dollar "investment" included a loss of 100 million dollars in the capital stock of the Commodity Credit corporations; a loss of 325 million in the capital stock of the Home Owners' Loan corporation, and 334 million by the Farm Security administration.

Says No One Knows.

"I have no desire to go into the details of all these particular organizations at this time, but no one can tell now what the ultimate result will be with respect to any losses which may be incurred by any of these corporations or activities until they are finally liquidated," Barkley said.

"But," said Senator Byrd, "the announcements and the propaganda which have gone throughout the country are to the effect that the projects would be self-liquidating."

"That brings up the meticulous, legalistic definition of what is self-liquidating," Barkley replied.

Potential Debt Put at 63 Billion.

Senator Byrd estimated that the total potential national debt, direct and indirect, authorized and proposed, is 63 billion dollars, almost four times the 16 billion dollar national debt, direct and indirect, in 1931.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. estimated that the direct national debt would reach 45 billion dollars, the statutory limit, by July 1, 1940. To this Senator Byrd added: 5½ billions in bonds outstanding of government corporations; 8½ billions of additional issuing authority possessed by the government corporations, and 3 billion 290 millions of new issuing authority proposed by the President's spending and lending program.

The senate was kept in session until late tonight, and night sessions are to be held during the remainder of the week in the drive by administration leaders to dispose of the lending-spending bill and adjourn congress by Aug. 5.

MORE EXAMPLES OF CITY'S DOUBLE PAY ROLLS BARED

Law Bars Dismissals of Family Teams.

Futher examination of public pay rolls yesterday disclosed more cases of husbands and wives holding tax supported jobs. Civil service law does not permit weeding out either of the double pay rollers to make room for the unemployed.

There are long waiting lists of citizens who want to enter the city or county service. They charge that the double pay rollers are taking unfair advantage.

Married and Kept Their Jobs.

One example of double pay rollers is the case of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Elkins, 5144 Glenwood avenue. Elkins is an accountant in the office of Controler Robert B. Upham. He receives $300 a month.

Mrs. Elkins is listed on the city pay roll as a field nurse for the board of health. Her salary is $170 a month. Thus these two get a total of $470 a month from the taxpayers, or $5,640 a year.

"We were working for the city before we were married," Elkins said last night. "We earn our pay."

Couple Draws $7,480.

John P. Dillon, 411 Fullerton parkway, has been employed by the city for forty years. He is assistant chief street inspector for the department of streets at a salary of $416.66 a month. In addition he receives $70 per month for operation of his automobile in the city's service.

His wife, Anna, is a senior clerk in the department of smoke inspection and abatement. She gets $206.66 a month. Together the Dillons draw $7,480 a year, not counting Dillon's car allowance.

"We've been with the city a long time," Dillon said. "Mrs. Dillon and I were married only three years ago. We're both civil service employés."

Another Typical Example.

Another typical example is Edward H. Fay, 4849 West End avenue, and his wife, Irene. Fay is an inspector for the electrical department at $365 a month. Mrs. Fay is a public school teacher assigned to the Tilton elementary school. Her salary is $231.26 a month during the school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Beck, 706 South Lombard avenue, Oak Park, during the school year draw $795.50 a month in pay, less pension deductions. Beck is principal at the Kosciusko Elementary school, 1424 North Cleaver street. He gets $444 a month, less deductions. He entered the system as a high school teacher in 1919 and was made principal in 1929. Mrs. Beck, listed on the pay roll as Anna C. Beck, teaches at Lane Technical High school. She gets $351.50 a month. She entered the system in 1927. They were married before they joined the system.

Indiana Debt Share

RULING ON SCOPE OF 3 YEAR RELIEF STATUTE SOUGHT

Attorney General John E. Cassidy will be asked to decide whether the new three year residence law for reliefers can be applied against those who have been on the rolls for the last year or more or only against new applicants for relief. This was announced yesterday at the first meeting of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission staff with officials of the Township Supervisors' association, who are local overseers of the poor.

The new law provides that an overseer of the poor shall not furnish relief to any indigent who did not live in that particular community "for a period of three years immediately preceding his application for relief and support." IERC officials said it was their interpretation that the law will apply against those who were not residents of their present community for the three year period prior to their first relief application.

C. M. T. C. REVIEW AND INSPECTION IS SET FOR TODAY

An inspection and review of the 1,331 men attending the Citizens' Military Training camp at Fort Sheridan will be held today by Maj. Gen. Stanley H. Ford, commandant of the sixth corps area. Both the inspection and anti-aircraft practice demonstrated by the 61st Coast Artillery during the afternoon will be open to the public. The C. M. T. C. review will be held at 9 a. m. Announcement of the events was made by Brig. Gen. Karl Truesdell, commander of Fort Sheridan.

INDIANA'S SHARE IN DEBT EXCEEDS ITS FARM VALUE

Congressman's Figures Show Burden.

Washington, D. C., July 26 [Special].—If all the farmers in Indiana sold all their lands and all their buildings and put the total receipts in one fund, that fund would not pay Indiana's share of the national debt.

That is the conclusion reached by Congressman Charles A. Halleck of Rensselaer in a two-month study of the New Deal debt burden as it bears upon the people of Indiana.

Huge Levy Against All.

Based upon official reports from the treasury and the census bureau, Congressman Halleck's table shows that the New Deal's invisible mortgage upon Indiana amounts to 40 per cent of the total tax value of all property in the state, both farm and city.

"If we divide the present national debt of 40 billion dollars by the total population of the country, we arrive at the per capita share for each individual — $329," Halleck explained. "And if we multiply this figure by the population of Indiana, we find that the state's share of the national debt is $1,066,698,118.

Farms Alone Wouldn't Pay It.

"To judge the real impact of this burden of the New Deal's invisible mortgage, we must realize that the total value of all farm land and farm buildings in Indiana, as officially reported by the census bureau for 1935, was only $1,040,238,000.

[Yesterday in Washington Senator Harry F. Byrd charged that the public debt was almost 46 billion dollars. On the basis of 46 billions Indiana's share of the debt would be $1,226,702,836.]

"This means that if we sold all our farm lands and all our farm buildings to pay off our per capita share of the national debt, we still would have to dig into our pockets for an additional $26,500,000."

GENERAL ELECTRIC

350 NORTH OGDEN AVENUE
CHICAGO, ILL.

June 30, 1939

Mr. C.S. Benham
Manager, National Advertising
Chicago Tribune
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mr. Benham:

In our many years of distributing electric appliances, seldom if ever have we had as fine a sales success as we are presently enjoying on Hotpoint Refrigerators. You might be interested to know that for the first six months of this year we have a 55% increase over the same period of 1938.

At the outset of 1939, the quota set for us by the factory looked to be very difficult to attain, yet on May 16 we equaled the entire 1939 yearly quota of refrigerators. At present we are 67% ahead of this entire year's quota and still have five selling months to go.

On May 18 we held what is known to us as "Axel Kahn Day." The efforts of our sales organization are centered on obtaining a record amount of orders to be delivered in a two-day period. Bear in mind, these are not orders that have been held for a long time or that can be delivered over a long period in the future. They represent an actual plus sales effort. Total sales on Hotpoint Refrigerators, Ranges, Water Heaters and Home Laundry Equipment amounted to $177,000.00. This was more than double the volume for "Axel Kahn Day" in 1938.

Now the most interesting part of all this to you is the part that the Tribune has played in this remarkable sales record. Dealers by the score have told us that the strong Hotpoint campaign which we are running in the Tribune is not only doing an institutional job of great magnitude but actually bringing customers into the stores to make immediate purchases. We have never before seen such enthusiastic dealer co-operation with any publicity program we have run.

It is no idle statement to say to you that we believe the Tribune should share equally with the marvelous co-operation of our dealer body for our banner sales record which is being established this year.

We are happy that our advertising counsel at the beginning of the year placed almost the entire weight of our advertising pressure in the Chicago Tribune.

Very truly yours,

A H Kahn

Mr. Clyde S. Benham
National Advertising Manager
The Chicago Tribune
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mr. Benham:

In placing our 1939 HOTPOINT Key City advertising, it was our aim to select newspapers which gave us the greatest coverage of potential refrigerator buyers.

In Chicago the problem was easier than in many other cities because The Tribune is the one-paper which delivers the greatest number of readers with purchasing power at lowest unit cost.

In addition to the intensive coverage of The Tribune within Chicago, we were influenced greatly by the amount of plus circulation in the territory outside Chicago where Hotpoint appliances are also sold.

Furthermore, this consideration was important to our Distributor, the General Electric Supply Corporation, whose territory covers a large part of The Tribune Zone territory.

Hotpoint dealers outside Chicago were just as enthusiastic about our advertising in The Tribune as were Hotpoint dealers in the city.

Yours very truly,

* "We are happy our advertising counsel placed almost the entire weight of our advertising pressure in the Chicago Tribune."

Sales of Hotpoint refrigerators up 55%—
$177,000 worth of orders in two days—

SUCH are the results of Hotpoint's drive for refrigerator sales in the Chicago territory—with an advertising program built around the Chicago Tribune.

Early in April, Hotpoint began to picture and describe its refrigerators to Tribune readers. For three months it kept the Hotpoint story before Chicago's largest constant audience, listing the dealers who handled the product.

And Chicago, accustomed to base most of its buying on what is advertised in the Tribune, responded in the manner described by dealers, manufacturer and distributor elsewhere on this page—the same kind of immediate, market-wide response which prompts Chicago department stores to place in the Tribune more than 50% of their total expenditures in all Chicago newspapers.

For refrigerators or soup, motor cars or breakfast food, the experience of manufacturers and retailers alike makes plain that Tribune readers make up their largest and best Chicago market.

Every day of the week, more than 725,000 families right in metropolitan Chicago are attracted to the Tribune by its superior coverage of the news, its famous comics, features and service departments.

This is a majority of all the families in metropolitan Chicago—and practically as many families in city and suburbs as are reached by any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

In addition, the Tribune reaches hundreds of thousands of additional families of known responsiveness to advertising, living in the five states adjacent to metropolitan Chicago.

Because of the Tribune's ability to produce for them, Chicago retailers place far more advertising in the Tribune than they place in any other Chicago newspaper. General advertisers likewise make the Tribune the mainstay of their Chicago sales drives.

No matter what you sell : : : or to whom you sell . : : you reach more prospective purchasers in every income level, in every neighborhood and suburb of Chicago, when you build your advertising program around the Tribune. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among the lowest in America.

"Hotpoint dealers outside Chicago were just as enthusiastic about our advertising in the Tribune as were Hotpoint dealers in the city." *

Flush Poisonous Waste and Acid From Kidneys

GAIN IN HEALTH

If you aren't feeling just right—are nervous—have dizzy spells and occasional backache—study your kidneys and learn more about yourself.

Through the delicate filters of the kidneys, acid and poisonous waste are drawn from the blood and discharged from the body through the bladder—sometimes these filters are less active than they should be because of excess poisonous waste and kidneys do not function properly—they need harmless stimulation.

One reliable medicine, highly efficient and inexpensive, is GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. This grand medicine has been helping people for 50 years—to relieve their aches and pains by helping conditions caused or aggravated by excess uric acid or other circulating poisons such as is so often the case with sciatica, neuritis, neuralgia, lumbago and rheumatism.

So if you have such symptoms of kidney trouble as backache, nervousness, getting up two or three times during the night—scanty, burning or smarting passage—leg cramps—moist palms or puffy eyes—get a 35 cent package of this grand and harmless diuretic at any modern drugstore—it starts the first day on its errand of helpfulness.

Don't be an EASY MARK and accept a substitute—ask for Gold Medal Haarlem Oil Capsules—right from Haarlem in Holland. GET GOLD MEDAL—the original—the genuine. Look for the Gold Medal on the box—35 cents.

$7,500 CITY CIVIL SERVICE CHIEF TO RECEIVE PENSION

Becomes Eligible Through New Legal Opinion.

By paying approximately $1,680 into the municipal employés' annuity and benefit fund, Joseph P. Geary, who draws a salary of $7,500 a year as chairman of the civil service commission, will become eligible for a pension when he leaves office, it was learned yesterday.

Geary has been on the civil service board sixteen years, serving as president since 1936. Heretofore, neither he nor the other commissioners were included in the fund. They became eligible recently through a new interpretation of the law.

A survey revealed that Geary, because of the length of his service, is the only one with pension rights. The $1,680 which he must pay into the fund represents the total of the required pay deductions since he was appointed, plus interest at 4 per cent.

City Sets Up Companion Fund.

The city is required by law to set up in his name a companion fund of proportionate size amounting to nearly $2,800. The city money comes from taxes. His pension is expected to be about $48 a month.

Only the regular civil service employés of the city and the board of education have been permitted to participate in the fund in the past. But there is a quirk in Illinois civil service law, legal experts found, which covers civil service commissioners serving a minimum of ten years.

The law states that the fund is created for municipal employés. It defines municipal employés as persons employed by the city and the school board by virtue of the civil service act.

Counsel Rules on Provision.

Assistant Corporation Counsel George F. Mulligan in a formal opinion given to the fund's retirement board explained that civil service commissioners are appointed by virtue of the civil service act. Therefore they come within the definition of municipal employés.

Other members of the civil service commission are John E. Brennan, Democrat, and Wendel Green, colored, minority Republican member. Neither has served long enough to qualify for a pension.

An amendment to the civil service statute, clarifying the list of eligible pensioners by mentioning the commissioners specifically, was passed by the legislature and has been signed by Gov. Horner.

104 INDICTED AS RESULT OF MINE CLASH IN HARLAN

Harlan, Ky., July 26 [Special].—A special grand jury today indicted 104 persons as the result of a battle on June 12 between C. I. O. coal mine pickets and National Guardsmen in which two miners were killed and several others were shot or beaten.

Most of the defendants were charged with banding and confederating—an all inclusive Kentucky charge—and conspiracy to hinder military organization. The jury recommended bonds totaling $535,000.

In the indicted group are William Turnblazer of Jellico, Tenn., district president of the United Mine Workers of America, main component of the C. I. O., and George Titler of Harlan, district secretary of the union.

LONDON, July 26 [Special].—English stylists, accustomed to bizarre fashions in women's hats, especially at Ascot and other race meetings, were taken aback when they saw pictures of Constance Bennett, American film star, arriving at Southampton from the United States. She was wearing a hat that would have been the envy of the Ascot enthusiasts. Miss Bennett will spend a holiday in England as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks Sr.

WAY IS CLEARED FOR ENFORCING PICKET RULING

C. I. O. Injunction Plea Dismissed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., July 26.—The Wisconsin attorney general's department moved today toward court enforcement of the state labor board's order limiting to fifteen the number of pickets the striking C. I. O. union may maintain at the Allen Bradley company plant in Milwaukee.

Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone yesterday dismissed the C. I. O.'s petition for an injunction restraining the board from enforcing its order on grounds that the Allen Bradley firm is engaged in interstate commerce and that the Wisconsin employment relations board, as a result, is without jurisdiction in the dispute.

This cleared the way for action by the attorney general for court enforcement of the first order in Wisconsin history which cites a labor union for unfair labor practices. Wisconsin's new law, which was enacted by the Heil administration, lists what shall constitute unfair labor practices both for employer and employés. It outlaws, among other things, mass picketing by a labor union of an association of workers.

Wark Rector, deputy attorney general, said tonight that an action probably will be filed in Milwaukee Circuit court tomorrow, to enforce the labor board's order of July 25 against the Allen Bradley strikers.

Rector and Newell Boardman, assistant attorney general, argued before Judge Stone that Wisconsin's new labor relations law lists unfair labor practices for employés, that the National Labor Relations act does not, and that by such omission "Congress recognized the right of states to enact laws governing the rights of strikers."

VOTE IS ORDERED AT ARMOUR & CO.; PEACE SOUGHT

Conciliator Sent in Effort to Avert Strike.

The National Labor Relations board in Washington yesterday ordered an election within fifteen days to determine whether the packing house workers' organizing committee should act as bargaining agent for workers at the Armour & Co. plant in Chicago. At the same time Secretary of Labor Perkins sent John Leo Connor, commissioner of conciliation, here in an attempt to avert a threatened strike.

The packing house workers organizing committee is an affiliate of the Congress for Industrial Organization. The meat cutters' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, does not oppose the C. I. O. here, it was explained.

Employés' Vote to Rule.

Officials of Armour & Co. said the C. I. O. officials had demanded a certificate of representation for the 31st street plant on the basis of the number of membership cards they had. Board Member Edwin S. Smith of the NLRB was in favor of granting the certificate, but was overruled, and the vote of the employés will rule.

This contest for recognition had nothing to do with the demonstration on Tuesday at the daily meeting between the grievance committee of the C. I. O. union and Armour's managing committee.

250 Workers Flank Committee.

It was unusual only in that the grievance committee was flanked by 250 workers, and the company said its objection was to doing business with such an unreasonable and unworkable committee.

The other differences which have led to C. I. O. union threats of a national strike against Armour unless a contract is signed were not involved in the grievance committee demonstration, company spokesmen said. It is in reference to those points that the conciliator from Washington, who is to arrive here today, is to take action, it was explained.

60 CENT WHEAT.

Wheat farmers this year are paying about 25 cents a bushel for Secretary Wallace's mistakes. That is the difference between the price on past crops of the present year's size and the current quotation.

The 1939 wheat crop is the smallest since 1936. It is 5 per cent below the average for the years 1928 to 1937. After taking out seed it is inadequate to provide the country with the year's supply of bread. And yet the price has been falling steadily. On Monday wheat for delivery in Chicago in December sold for 62 cents a bushel. At Kansas City, the price was 57 cents. The farmer who hauls grain to an elevator in western Kansas is being paid less than 45 cents a bushel. With only a moderate crop, the grain is selling at a price that would seem plausible only with a record harvest in the deepest depression.

An examination of the price record over a period of years discloses that wheat is cheaper now than it has been in any summer during the past thirty-three years with a crop as small as the present one. Farmers are not receiving a price for this year's grain in keeping with the size of the crop. To put it another way, uncontroled supply and demand in the past regularly yielded a better return for farmers for wheat of a harvest no bigger than the present one than Wallace is getting for them this year.

The low wheat price can be explained neither by the size of the current crop nor by an unexpected decline in the volume of exports. Actually more wheat was sold abroad in the year which ended June 30 than in any year since 1931-1932. To be sure, the increase in exports was obtained in the worst way—by dumping. We sold nearly 100 million bushels abroad by offering wheat at 27½ cents a bushel below the price an American would have to pay for it.

But even the practice of offering foreigners our bread grain at 40 per cent less than the market price here failed to clear the market of the excess supplies accumulated in the past under Mr. Wallace's supervision. By withholding wheat from the market in past years, the American government encouraged other countries to increase their planting of wheat. When, to get rid of the surplus supplies, our government dumped wheat, the price in the world market fell to the lowest level in more than 300 years. From this there has been no recovery.

But all of the accumulated grain was not sold abroad. It is still here. The government has seen to that. And it is competition in this grain which has broken the market wide open.

Wheat is only one of many products whose price is depressed because of a glut created by the Wallace system. To mention two others: Every corn crib is bulging with grain worth 40 cents in which the government has invested 57 cents. A whole year's cotton supply is on hand to compete with the 1939 crop. The producers of these and other products will pay for Wallace's errors in lower prices than they would receive if past years' markets had been annually cleared as they used to be.

But the farmer isn't the only one who pays. An article in last Sunday's TRIBUNE showed that the government had spent 15 billion dollars in the last seven years on plans to aid the farmers. For years to come, the country will be paying for this colossal failure of Wallace's grotesque farm schemes—the farmers in reduced prices and everybody in higher taxes.

MR. ANONYMOUS IS BACK.

The other day Mr. Roosevelt said that the refusal of the senate to lift the embargo on arms to belligerents had killed "a nice little business boom." Some of the reporters to whom he was speaking could find no evidence in the various business barometers to support his thesis and asked him to explain his meaning. This he did by saying that a newspaper publisher who had decided to buy a new press might change his mind, now that the danger of war has been heightened.

Mr. Roosevelt's easy assumption that his foreign policy is calculated to prevent war has frequently been discussed and there is no point in going into that fallacy again, now that the senate has acted. But it would be interesting to know what newspaper, if any, Mr. Roosevelt had in mind. He has frequently reported his conversations with an anonymous business man who invariably retreats in disorder after an interview with the President; now we have the unidentified newspaper publisher who is terrified because the senate won't jump through Mr. Roosevelt's hoops.

The newspapers we know most about—this one and the New York News—have been going ahead with their construction programs. THE TRIBUNE is presently engaged in building the biggest and best equipped newspaper garage in the world and the New York News is spending something like $400,000 on an addition to its Brooklyn plant. All of this expenditure was projected while the arms embargo was in force, and the plans were not altered when the senate refused to amend the law.

It is true, of course, that many newspapers, suffering from the prolonged Roosevelt depression, have been forced out of business and others have been obliged to postpone needed improvements because of the extortionate Roosevelt taxes. The depression and taxes are real, present, and measurable forces, preventing the expansion of all but the most successful enterprises. It is the lack of a balanced budget, not the existence of the arms embargo, which is responsible for the absence of business confidence in this country. Mr. Roosevelt's effort to place the blame for his failures upon the neutrality law will be accepted only by the gullible.

NEW TROUBLE FOR SPAIN.

The conflict, long anticipated, between Spanish factions united under Franco has broken into the open. Gen. Queipo de Llano and Gen. Juan Yague have been relieved of duty. One was commander for Andalusia, the other the commander of the Moroccan army. Both were of the numerous army party which resents and opposes a Fascist tie-up with Italy and Germany. Apparently they are not disgraced and still have influence in the controversy.

While the war was still in progress and the issue in doubt it was generally agreed that either side, winning, would find its situation made precarious by the release of the contentions within its own ranks. A majority of the army officers, the monarchists, the industrialists, and land owners object to the establishment of the Fascist system within Spain, drawing the country into the Italian-German orbit. They may have a wider popular support than their Fascist opponents but the latter have the secret police machinery which gives them a tremendous political advantage. They control the processes of intimidation and repression.

The anti-Fascists rely upon the natural disinclination of any intensely nationalist people to acknowledge the supremacy of foreign influence. Frequently a faction which has called in foreign aid finds itself unpopular because of the continuance of the alien dominance. William's Dutchmen were objects of dislike after James II. had been driven to France. The French attempt to capitalize their aid in the American revolution soon brought the United States and France into controversy and conflict.

France had its own motive for helping the American republic. Germany and Italy had their own motives for helping Franco. A people will accept the aid and then object to giving the compensation demanded when it means their subjection to foreign will or vassalage to foreign policy. The people of Spain would like time for rest and recovery, for the repair of damages, and the production of food. They are still, however, sharply divided.

A PACKED COMMITTEE?

At this writing the house committee which is to investigate the operations of the Wagner act and the labor board has not been appointed. The delay is somewhat unusual and it has given rise to disturbing rumors. It is said that only one Republican is to be appointed and that at least three of the five members will be die-hard followers of John L. Lewis and his C. I. O. Unless precedent is shattered, the chairman of the committee will be Congressman Smith of Virginia, who sponsored the resolution for an investigation, but if three pro-Lewis, pro-NLRB members are included, they will have the majority and can provide exactly the kind of whitewash which the administration desires.

Whether the rumor is well founded remains to be seen, but there can be no doubt that the New Dealers fought the Smith resolution as hard as they knew how. They didn't want the labor board to be investigated. In the circumstances they might be expected to continue their efforts to thwart a thorough-going inquiry by packing the committee.

The New Deal has sponsored any number of congressional investigations intended to smear its opponents, but has been ruthless in seeking to prevent congress from looking into the policies and conduct of the administration, although that is peculiarly the business of congress. The members of the house voted, 254 to 134, for the Wagner act inquiry because they suspected abuses and wanted the facts. A whitewash will not satisfy the house and it certainly will not satisfy the country. If the customary Republican representation on the committee is refused, notice will have been served that the administration fears the truth and means to suppress it.

Editorial of the Day

LET'S KEEP OUR SHIRTS ON.

[Peoria Journal-Transcript.]

The President will carry his plea to have congress repeal the arms embargo to the people of the United States. His friends think he will win his point, if he does. Maybe he will. A great many people doubt it.

The fundamental weakness of the President's neutrality scheme—and the weakness that caused its defeat—is not the end for which it aims, but the end for which it does not aim. The senate is not anxious to help Japan lick China. It is not anxious to see this country sell arms and ammunition to Italy and Germany for use against our British cousins or our French friends in democracy. The senate is merely interested in keeping this nation out of trouble—and so are the people. It is reasonable to believe that if President Roosevelt had refrained from inflammatory speeches, and if he had shown a less emotional and idealistic attitude about world affairs, he would have been granted what he wants from the senate with only cursory and routine debate.

But he did not. He has talked of "quarantine," he has denounced the dictator countries in no uncertain terms. Many will applaud his courage and join in his sentiments. Few will believe, however, that now is the time for us to jump into world affairs with both feet and try to make right and virtue prevail. The democracies are on the defensive. This is a democracy. They are also relatively unarmed. We are arming. So is Britain. So is France. Considering the realistic situation thus disclosed it is far better that we not give one man—particularly a man so emotional as the President—the right to speak for us in taking sides abroad.

The responsibility should be shared by congress. If a war develops, congress can be called into session in a week. If congress then wants to pass an emergency act, deciding that arms shall be sold to one country and not to another, such a course can be followed. Perhaps it is the course the American people would want to follow.

In the meantime, let's keep our shirts on.

MR. PEPYS CONDUCTS A TOUR.

26th July—Ever since I did announce that none of my cronies were coming to my club this summer and the place was full of loneliness, lo, they have been attending for dinner in numbers, as if to assure me they were not all dead; and this I have found pleasing. Nonetheless, they sit around moping after dinner and saying, "What will I do now? Go to a movie?" and "Chicago is getting duller and duller," and "Lord, is there nobody to talk to in this town?"—all of which I have found unflattering.

So I did say to a pair of them, "Get your chariot and I will show you some historic scenes," and they bestirred themselves and we rode out in the gloaming into the south part of town, where I did show them ancient villages such as Oakland and Douglas, and quaint old houses, and the front porch from which President Lincoln used to shoot ducks before breakfast. And they did marvel exceedingly and say, "We have never been here before," though they have lived in Chicago for many years.

Which reminded me of a friend in Charlottesville of the Old Dominion who did make the grand tour in Europe last summer. And in Paris his French guide did lead him with pride before a relic of Thomas Jefferson, and then did begin to lecture on early American history, especially on Jefferson's home, Monticello, near Charlottesville, about which this guide had read much.

Hearing that the traveler came from that place, the guide did ask him about certain marvels of Monticello, such as the indoor weather vane, and the bed that pulls up to the ceiling, and my friend did answer his many questions with "Yes" and "No" and "Marvelous" until finally he was caught in a mistake.

Then the guide said, "Have you ever seen Monticello, near which you live?" and the American confessed he had never taken the trouble to visit it. Then it did seem that only the Frenchman's desire for his fee prevented him from killing that American on the spot.

"STORMY WEATHAH!"

O, I long to test my sea legs
On some rolling, pitching deck,
With the masts a-lying sideways
And the waves up to my neck!

When we have to batten hatches
To keep sea from pounding in,
'Cuz the water's beating portside
With a "break 'em, shake 'em" din!

When barometer and compass
Go crazy with the storm
And we bundle up in mackinaws
To keep us dry and warm.

Then at last the night stars shine again,
The sails once more blow free.
Well, landlubbers may not like it,
But it is the life for me!

"Old Kaintuck" on Ashland Avenue.

Only in behalf of historical accuracy would I set my knowledge of the naming of Ashland avenue against Caroline McIlvaine's belief [July 21]. In 1866 my father moved from the southwest corner of Hermitage and Tyler to the southwest corner of Reuben and Jackson streets, taking the home built in 1858 by Henry H. Honore, father of Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant. In each case the Harrison homesite was a city square.

Henry H. Honore was a Kentuckian as were the Badgers, who also occupied a city square at the corner of Reuben and Jackson streets. It was at least two years after the Harrison family's moving that Reuben street became Ashland avenue and Tyler became Congress. . . . My father was born and grew up within a few miles of Ashland, Henry Clay's home on the then outskirts of Lexington, Ky., and until the statesman's death he was an enthusiastic Henry Clay Whig. When the time came for a change of street name, it is a safe bet that he spoke more than one word in favor of Ashland avenue. . . . I never heard of the Badger home being called Ashland.

SELF-IMPOSED ILLNESS CAN BE OVERCOME.

ILLNESS is so real, so devastating in its effects, that we are obliged to do everything in our power to avoid it. We can be fair to ourselves and to our dependents only if we give due consideration to well being.

But when one takes to his bed as a means of escaping responsibility which he is unwilling or unfitted to face, quite a different situation is presented. I have met a number of persons who actually were in good health, but who welcomed the prospect of such confinement. The interval typified longed-for attention, with the patient the center of solicitude. For the time being he was the most important personality in the world.

Occasionally one encounters an individual who does not intend to get well. Neither does he wish to die. Life as an invalid is so comfortable, so entrancing, that while slight improvement may follow the management outlined by each new physician—and there are many—a relapse always ensues.

* * *

With some—because of the intensity of the desire to shun reality—ailments will be manufactured or imagined. They may not be created deliberately, but so much introspection is indulged in that minor aches and pains—which each of us passes off a dozen times daily—will be magnified a thousandfold. The transition from being a complainer who is up and about, to living a bedfast existence is gradual. It may be accelerated unconsciously by the doctor, who obviously is puzzled by the multiplicity of symptoms. In his anxiety to do a thorough job, to find the cause, he may insist upon a stay in a hospital, attended with a long series of laboratory procedures including X-rays.

Concealing his elation, the victim will don the mask of what may be termed—for politeness' sake—nerve exhaustion. The final verdict—"no organic difficulty"—points to a neurosis, and the physician realizes that his ability to help will depend largely upon his retaining the implicit faith of the patient. Try as one may, these unfortunates rarely can be bullied out of their obsessions. But with patience and forbearance they may be led to do things indirectly which they would resist as impossible if commanded to perform.

I recall the case of a prominent woman in her early fifties. Because of a change in the family fortunes she was obliged to curtail substantially entertainment, contributions to clubs and welfare agencies, and her general expenses. She withstood the ordeal valiantly for nearly a year, but finally took refuge in weeping spells actuated by self-pity. When presented with a matter that required decision she would remark, "I am so upset, so confused, so disturbed I just can't consider it now."

Her medical counselor used every atom of moral suasion in an effort to make her see the light. He argued that thousands of women had met such predicaments bravely and had conquered. As a last resort he brought to her attention a series of life histories from his practice—men and women who had enough iron in their souls to face the world courageously. Day after day he filled her mind with details of those who had stumbled and fallen, but had risen again.

When the time was ripe he suggested that she visit a household where the income had dropped to almost zero. Each member, however, was carrying on happily. Filled with the spirit of independence they had accepted no relief, congratulating themselves that they were strong and able to work. The call made a decided impression because she saw a smiling, forward looking group of people. After several similar excursions he suggested that she do something to help.

About a week later—much to his astonishment—she telephoned him and related her activities. She had dragged pieces of furniture out of the attic and sent them where they were needed. Other articles of household equipment followed. She interested a group of her friends in scores of destitute families. That was nearly five years ago. Today she is far happier than she has ever been. Her own troubles dwindled into insignificance before the privations of others.

While every similar illness may not terminate so productively, we cannot but congratulate the wise medico who saved this person from a state of chronic, self-imposed helplessness.

WOULD IT WERE!

I. G. writes: I have heard that a few drops of iodine daily will prevent hardening of the arteries. Is this true?

REPLY.

If only it were! Iodine does, however, have some effect on the glands of internal secretion, and it is prescribed for many ailments.

THE WRONG PROGRAM.

H. G. writes: What do you think of allowing a boy 14 years old to stay up until 11:30 night after night, and then to sleep until noon the next day? He gets only two meals a day. He is 5 feet 5 inches tall and a little underweight.

REPLY.

Anything but a hygienic program. Remember the adage: "Early to bed and early to rise—"

At his age he is building nerves, muscles, and blood. The requirements are food, sleep, and exercise—all in proper proportion. What he will be a dozen years from now depends upon the schedule of today.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 34 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

THE BETWEEN AGE.

Chicago, July 24.—As to men and women of 55 and 60 who can't find work and are too proud to get relief: Why can't the government do something? We can't live unless the government finds work special for this age; too young to get a pension and too old to get work, but when the time comes to vote we are not too old for this.

Did anybody see a newspaper with an advertisment for men and women of the age 60? How can we live on air till we reach 65 to get an old age pension?

Hoping that you can see our point and the newspaper may be able to help us. Thank you for your coöperation. H. C.

PRAISE FOR POLICEMAN BAKER.

Chicago, July 25.—I should like to give my word of praise to the heroic deed of Policeman Edward Baker. Well may his family be proud of such a father!

I know of no higher courage than he exhibited in capturing that bandit without firing a single shot, facing a man who "had his finger on the trigger." He spared the life of some mother's son, who should be grateful that he has been given another chance even though the law may demand some of the years of his life as a penalty for his past misdeeds. G. J. D.

Davenport, Ia., July 25.—Why not encourage other police officers to do what Baker did in catching a criminal [robber] yesterday.

Baker should have a medal.

ROBERT N. CARSON.

AMBULANCE RIGHT OF WAY.

Chicago, July 24.—With reefrence to the Sunday publication of your newspaper dated July 23d and to the column headed "Voice of Trafic" and to the article titled "Stop Light Violation." We consider this a gross misstatement and an injustice to us. We do not have a funeral car equipped with a siren. We do have an ambulance for transporting the sick and invalid to hospitals. This operates at all times within the law covering ambulances. For your information we refer you to the city ordinance giving ambulances the right of way over trafic for all emergency calls.

Our ambulance going to the home of a person dangerously ill approached the intersection of Madison street and Laramie avenue on the date and time stated but before going through the light slowed down, shifted gears, and signaled oncoming trafic, which the men had checked both ways, and, when given the right of way, passed on through.

The public as a whole shows extreme courtesy to an ambulance, thinking, no doubt, that some time they themselves or some loved one might need that same courtesy to get to a hospital without delay.

We have submitted this explanation as we realize this person misinformed you by reporting a funeral car with a siren instead of an ambulance.

ALSO HAS 5 OTHER REASONS.

Chicago, July 23.—One reason I will vote against Roosevelt in the event he is nominated for another term is the fact that the communist party and its sympathizers are unanimous in their eagerness to see him retained for four more years.

Communism is a menace, and the best way to fight its growth is by sweeping the New Deal out of office.

Many will scoff at such a reason and say it is of no importance. For their benefit, I shall list five other reasons why I would be against Roosevelt or any other New Deal candidate. They may consider the following: 1. Approximately one-sixth of our population on relief. 2. 10 million unemployed. 3. The national debt close to 45 billion dollars. 4. Relief still a major problem. 5. The failure of the administration to promote business recovery generally. [We are still "talking about," and "working towards" recovery]. D. H. S.

INDIANA, PLEASE NOTE.

Harvey, Ill., July 24.—Being an Illinois and Cook county taxpayer and a supporter of our parks, forest preserves, zoos, and all of the other places of interest in this state, it gripes me to see a bunch of Indiana cars parked duty free and their occupants enjoying these things free of charge.

On entering any of Indiana's parks or places of interest there is a man at the gate with his hand outstretched ready for your 25 cents. If you don't pay, your car with a foreign license cannot enter or park.

Whiting, Roby, and Gary are supporting their parks by this graft. Why not start this in Illinois and reduce our taxes until Indiana treats Illinois as we treat it?

FRANK FADKE.

HE'D VOTE FOR PERICLES.

Riverside, Ill., July 21.—You printed a letter today from H. C. Beitler sharply attacking the character and merits of the great Athenian statesman, Pericles.

The fact is that Pericles never was a dictator. He was, it is true, the leader of the people, which is to say the Athenian assembly, and Athens was a democracy. But the word democracy in Athens, as in our own day, didn't mean exactly what we think. The people were the substantial citizens, the Henry Fords and Mellons of the day, and not the WPA men. Furthermore, Ephialtes rather than Pericles broke relations with Sparta, and we have but the word of Plutarch that Pericles blew up the flames of war to save his own hide. There is no indication that Pericles lived an evil life. In fact his propriety raised the ire of the comic poets who saw in the austere statesman a fair target for their vile barbs.

The weight of evidence must be that Pericles brought about a golden intellectual age in Athens and left mankind a priceless heritage, something that transcends the shabby military glory of a Napoleon or Cromwell. Pericles was not responsible for the Sicilian expedition that brought Athens low. Pericles died in 429 B. C., sixteen years before the disaster.

10 YEAR OLD BOY'S COMPLAINT.

Chicago, July 25.—As coming from a school boy of 10, I hope you will not neglect my protest. It is just this:

Sometimes when the day looks dull and a kid has nothing to do, all of a sudden he gets an idea to ride his bike, but where shall he ride it? His parents won't allow him to ride in the streets, and the signs won't let him ride on the sidewalk. Just what can he do? Now I, as one of the many thousands who have the same trouble, would appreciate it if you would present this to the city council of Chicago. I think a bike can be driven better when the driver isn't scared of a cop letting the air out of his tires.

ESTATE SETTLEMENT.

Chicago, July 24 [Legal Friend of the People].—1. How long does it take for a will to be settled?

2. What are the fees of an attorney who is an executor?

3. Are his fees the same for real estate as for personal property?

4. Where can one find out how things are, from the attorney or from the clerk of the court?

5. Will the attorney let one know when it is settled or does the court do so?

6. What expenses are there when a will is probated?

7. What are the expenses of the court on a will of about $20,000 with real estate and personal property?

8. When the attorney is settling the will are all the heirs called to court or to the attorney's office? Must he give an accounting? C. F.

1. Ordinarily a little over a year.

2. The statute fixes the executor's fee at not over six per cent of the personal property, and the fact that he is also attorney should not increase his compensation.

3. The executor does not necessarily have anything to do with the real estate, hence his fees are ordinarily calculated on the personal property, as above stated.

4. Try first the clerk of the court.

5. Beneficiaries will receive notice at the time of the filing of the final account.

6. Depends on facts that are not before us.

7. Same.

8. They will be notified unless they waive notice, and given an opportunity to appear in court. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

INHERITANCE TAX.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 24 [Legal Friend of the People].—My mother and her sister had a joint account in a bank in La Crosse. My mother died in March 1939. Is it necessary for her sister to pay an inheritance tax on the money in the joint account which was hers originally, but put into a joint account to facilitate matters if she were to die first and leave bills to be paid? W. L.

If the sister had died first your mother would have been in a position to claim, as surviving joint tenant, and it is not likely that she would have advertised that she had no previous interest in the property. The common practical solution is to presume that the two joint tenants own in undivided halves so that when either one dies there is an inheritance tax on the half that passes by survivorship.

MRS. HEFFERAN FACES CHARGES IN SCHOOL ROW

Interference in Teachers' College Quiz Denied.

Mrs. W. S. Hefferan.

Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, veteran school board member, was twice accused yesterday of impropriety and unethical conduct in connection with school affairs.

The first charge was made in a letter from William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, which was read at an executive meeting of the board preceding yesterday's regular session.

Johnson's letter charged that Mrs. Hefferan, contrary to established customs, attended an oral entrance examination of candidates for the Chicago Teachers' college Tuesday and asked for a list of the candidates.

Four Present Affidavit.

The second charge was made in an affidavit signed by an official of the college and three of the examiners after the meeting. The affidavit, after reciting that Mrs. Hefferan attended the examination, said that an official of the school asked for a list of the candidates to give to Mrs. Hefferan. Despite the fact that this request was made within hearing distance of the board member, the affidavit charged Mrs. Hefferan failed to say she did not want the requested list.

Supt. Johnson's letter did not name Mrs. Hefferan. It did say, however, that a member of the board had attended the examinations and that the presence of the official might be used as the basis of charges of interference. The letter added that it is against the rules to give out lists of candidates for entrance.

President James B. McCahey read the letter to the board.

Admits Visit to College.

Mrs. Hefferan admitted she visited the college while the examination was in progress. She said she went there on other business and was invited to witness the examination by Edvin Brye, an assistant to the president of the college.

According to Supt. Johnson's letter, it was Brye who asked Miss Nellie Ryan, an examiner and a district superintendent of schools, for her list of candidates to give to Mrs. Hefferan. Both Miss Ryan and Brye were among the signers of the affidavit.

Denies Asking for List.

"Did you ask for a list," McCahey inquired.

"I did not, so help me," Mrs. Hefferan replied.

She told the board the examination was the first she had attended in sixteen years of service as a school trustee. She also said she would see Miss Ryan within the next 24 hours to thresh out the matter.

Asked about the affidavit last night, Mrs. Hefferan said:

"If Mr. Brye asked for a list, it passed over my head. He was just trying to be gracious."

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL TO EQUALIZE TAX REDUCTIONS

All to Get Benefit of Protests.

Gov. Horner yesterday signed the tax preadjudication bill, designed to give all Cook county taxpayers equal benefits from tax reductions approved by the Circuit court.

The law provides that all protests against the tax levies of Chicago and Cook county governments shall be heard and ruled upon by the court before any tax bills are made out. If the court rules out any of the protested levies all tax bills will be correspondingly reduced.

Bills Sent Before Hearings.

Under the laws heretofore tax bills have been sent out on the basis of levies made by the local governments before the hearing of any protests in court. Reductions of bills were then granted to those taxpayers who took their protests into court. Only the larger taxpayers could afford to protest. Small taxpayers had to pay the full levies, even though part of them had been ruled illegal. Tax authorities say that 5 to 8 per cent of tax levies have been ruled illegal in recent years.

John C. Bowers, chairman of the taxation legislative committee of the Chicago Real Estate board, said yesterday that in his opinion the law is unconstitutional.

The law places jurisdiction over tax protests in the Circuit court instead of the County court. The state constitution provides, Bowers said, that the County court is to have jurisdiction over tax matters.

Goes Into Effect Next Year.

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago], one of the sponsors of the law, said he believes it is constitutional. He asserted that the constitution says the County court shall have jurisdiction over the collection of taxes, and that the preadjudication law applies to tax levies rather than collection activities.

ASSUMED NAMES HIDE IDENTITY OF COMMUNISTS

Membership Bared for Trial of Bridges.

San Francisco, Cal., July 26 [Special].—A story of communist control of west coast maritime unions was told today at the Harry Bridges deportation hearing on Angel Island by James W. Engstrom, president of the Maritime Federation of the Pacific in 1937 and 1938. The government is acting to deport Bridges to Australia which he left nineteen years ago.

Engstrom said he had joined the communist party under a faked name in order to win communist votes in the maritime union.

Bridges, he testified, was one of the union leaders who suggested he run for M. F. P. president at the organization's convention in San Pedro, June, 1936.

Makes Deal for Support.

"I took it for granted," Engstrom said, "they knew I was a party member, and they indicated that if I supported the party line they would support me."

Engstrom, descendant of sailing masters, testified he was first invited to become a communist in 1934 when he sailed from Portland, Ore., as a member of a freighter crew. A fellow crew member, Roy Hudson [mentioned in testimony of other witnesses as a communist active in maritime groups] he said, tried to get him to join the old marine workers industrial union, which Engstrom described as the waterfront section of the communist party.

He attended communist meetings in Baltimore, he said, but refused to join the party.

First Meeting in 1934.

Engstrom said he first met Bridges in Seattle shortly after the 1934 maritime strike in which Bridges gained prominence when seamen under his direction tied up Pacific coast shipping.

Engstrum told of being a delegate in 1936 to the Seattle central labor council and the convention of the M. F. P. Later, he said, it was suggested that he run for president of the M. F. P. and the council, and he was approached by Walter Stack of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific and asked to join the communist party.

Stack promised the support of the left wing faction of the Seattle labor council if he would become a communist, said Engstrom.

Bridges Membership Indicated.

"I asked Stack if Earl King [agent of the Marine Firemen's union] and Bridges were communists," he testified. "He neither said yes nor no, but gave me the impression they were."

This impression, he added, was heightened because Stack promised the support of Bridges and others at the M.F.P. convention, Engstrom said.

"Stack said no one would know I was a member if I changed my name," he testified. "I told him I would join if it were kept secret. Then I gave Stack $5 for initiation fee and joined the communist party under the name of John W. Strom. I received my communist membership book later."

Wins 1937 Election.

Engstrom was defeated in the 1936 election, he said, but was elected in 1937 and reëlected in 1938.

After reëlection, Engstrom said, he found he had no control over policies and actions of the M. F. P. He resigned last April.

"There is no doubt in my mind that from July, 1938, until I resigned the communists controled the maritime federation," said Engstrom. "And there is no doubt in my mind that Bridges has been a communist since 1934."

The government hopes to conclude its case Friday. It must prove Bridges is a communist and that the party advocates overthrow of the government by force and violence.

ROSE MARIE FOX.

Rose Marie's no orphan. But she was in St. Vincent's orphanage last night because no one knows what has become of her mother. Rose Marie is 9 months old. Until last February she lived at 1539 Harrison street with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Fox. When Mrs. Fox had to go to a hospital she asked her neighbor, Mrs. Margaret Santos of 1515 Harrison street, to keep Rose Marie. Mrs. Santos never heard from Rose Marie's mother again, and now she doesn't know how to find the mother. Unable to care for the little girl longer, Mrs. Santos took her to the East Chicago avenue police yesterday. They sent Rose Marie to the orphanage.

PUBLISHER ASKS COURT TO VOID RULING OF NLRB

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The Press company, publisher of the Knickerbocker-News at Albany, N. Y., today filed a petition in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia asking the court to review and set aside an order of the National Labor Relations board against the Press company and the Gannett company.

The petition was filed by Attorney Elisha Hanson on behalf of the Press company.

In its petition to the court the Press company assumed full responsibility for the discharge of four persons whom the board ordered reinstated. It denied, however, the right of the board to compel a newspaper publisher to give evidence to the board on what basis he selects employés in his editorial department.

The petition also charged that the Tri-City Newspaper guild of Albany, Troy, and Schenectady, N. Y., local of the American Newspaper guild, informed its members prior to the issuance of the complaint that the board had promised it a better deal than the guild could get from the New York state department of labor to which the guild originally complained.

APPROVE $60,000 PLAN FOR 16 RAIL CROSSING GATES

The Illinois Commerce commission yesterday approved an agreement to install automatic gates and electric flasher signals for prevention of accidents at sixteen crossings of the Grank Trunk railroad in Cook county.

Attorneys for the railroad said the $60,000 cost would be shared equally by the railroad, the state, and the county. Work will start at once.

The sixteen locations are: Burnham avenue, Torrence avenue, and Lansing road, near the township of Lansing; 159th street, 155th street, and Halsted avenue in Phoenix; Park avenue, and 147th street, in Harvey; Western avenue in Dixmoor; Vermont street and Burr Oak avenue in Blue Island; 95th street, Kedzie avenue, and 87th street in Evergreen Park; and Columbus avenue and 79th street in Chicago.

GUARD ACCUSED OF MURDER FOR 'LIFER'S' DEATH

Chicagoan Beaten, Kicked, Coroner Charges.

Chester, Ill., July 26 [Special].—Albert G. Bruns, a guard at the southern Illinois penitentiary in Menard, was charged with murder tonight in the death of a Chicago convict who was an inmate of the institution.

The murder warant was obtained by Coroner Lester Walker and Sherif Robert Blair of Randolph county who have been conducting an investigation into recent deaths at the institution. The bodies of two inmates have been exhumed in the inquiry and the coroner said a dozen more bodies may be unearthed.

In announcing that the warant had been issued, Coroner Walker said the action was decided upon at a conference attended by Circuit Judge A. D. Reiss and State's Attorney Walter J. Schuwerk, as the quickest way to bring justice to all concerned. Bruns still is on duty at the prison.

Chicagoan Serving Life Term.

Bruns was accused of criminal conduct in the death of Stephen Jaroszewicz, 57 years old, a jeweler from Chicago who was serving a life sentence for killing his estranged wife in 1928.

Jaroszewicz, who was an inmate of the psychiatric ward, died last Sept. 29, several days after Bruns fell and stepped on him when carrying him to his cell. The guard was said to weigh 240 pounds and Jaroszewicz 130 pounds.

Coroner Walker said he had received information that Jaroscwiecz was kicked and beaten. He said affidavits would be produced tomorrow at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Frank Hight when Bruns is arraigned.

A. L. Bowen, director public welfare, tonight said he, Supt. Joseph E. Ragen, and other prison officials had made a thorough investigation of the charge that Bruns killed Jaroszewicz.

"We are convinced of his absolute innocence and the department of public welfare will stand by him," Bowen said.

Prison Guard Dismissed.

The day brought two other developments in the widening investigation of penitentiary deaths. David C. Conn, attorney for Coroner Walker and Sherif Blair, filed a petition in the Circuit court to reopen the inquest into Jaroszewicz's death to permit the introduction of additional information.

Guard Oswald Berndt at the prison was dismissed by A. L. Bowen, state director of public welfare, when he admitted falsifying in a statement he previously made in connection with the deaths under investigation.

More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an elevated highway.

FIND CLERK DEAD OF GAS.

The body of Harry G. Williams, 35 years old, an unemployed clerk, was found yesterday in the gas filled kitchen of his home at 303 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park.

WOMAN WALKS AGAINST SIDE OF 'AUTO; INJURED

Miss Victoria Dowieko, 52 years old, 4358 South Maplewood avenue, a housekeeper, was injured seriously yesterday when she walked against the side of an automobile after alighting from a bus at 95th and State streets. She was taken to the Burnside hospital. The driver of the car was Robert Biebrach, 1258 Cornelia avenue, a chef.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 457 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 354 were killed in Chicago, where 11,933 were injured in trafic accidents in the same period. There were no trafic fatalities within the city limits in the 24 hours ending at 4 p. m.

HORNER SLASHES FUND FOR COAL RESEARCH WORK

Springfield, Ill., July 26 (AP).—Gov. Henry Horner today slashed $120,000 from the $300,000 appropriation approved by the legislature for financing of an experimental program designed to develop a smokeless fuel from Illinois coal.

In his message on the partial veto, the governor expressed the opinion that $180,000 remaining in the appropriation would be "adequate for the program which is to be undertaken." The measure was aimed at restoration of markets for Illinois coal which have been closed because of the fuel's smoke content.

Two Charged in Death of Unidentified Man

Hyde Park police placed a manslaughter charge last night against Edgar Sanders, 44 years old, of 3846 Ellis avenue, and named as accessory David Smith, 57 years old, of 244 West 33d street. The charges followed the death of an unidentified man who, the accused man say, attacked Sanders Monday at Pershing road and Cottage Grove avenue. Sanders says he struck back at the man.

Nancy Otis to Be Married at Harbor Point

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE summer colony at Harbor Point, Mich., and nearby resorts is looking forward to one of the gayest Labor day week-ends in years. With the marriage of Miss Nancy Otis and Frank B. Johnston Jr. set for Labor day afternoon there won't be a dull minute over the long holiday.

The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, with a reception following. The size of the wedding will depend on how many friends of the junior and senior Otises and of the bride and bridegroom-to-be go north for the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Jr. and his parents will give the bridal dinner on the eve of the wedding at the Beach club. Mrs. Henry G. Barkhausen and Miss Kate Barkhausen, who is to be a bridesmaid, will give a dinner on Saturday night, Sept. 2, probably in their Harbor Point cottage. Mr. Johnston's mother, the senior Mrs. Johnston of Philadelphia, will give a luncheon, and the Robert T. Wheelers and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Edmonds of St. Louis will give parties that week-end.

Miss Otis in Chicago to Complete Shopping.

Miss Otis is in Chicago for a last bit of shopping, and will return to Harbor Point on Friday. The next time she comes to town it will be as the bride of Mr. Johnston. They will be at home in Chicago this winter, and are postponing their wedding trip until later.

Miss Cynthia Cleveland, who is engaged to Graham Fairbank, will be Miss Otis' maid of honor. The bridesmaids, except Miss Barkhausen and Miss Jane Johnston, Mr. Johnston's sister, are Miss Otis' former schoolmates at the Bennett Junior college, Miss Virginia Childs of Boston, Miss Mimi Gedney of East Orange, N. J., Miss Jean Smith of Syracuse, and Miss Gladys Morse of Montclair, N. J.

The best man will be Clement English of Philadelphia. With the exception of James McCrudden, who is working in Chicago, Mr. Johnston's ushers all will be easterners, former classmates at Princeton.

William W. Ropers Are Parents of Son.

Exciting news to Marcus D. Richards of Hubbard Woods is the birth of his first grandchild, William Winston Roper III., yesterday at the Pennsylvania Lying-In hospital in Philadelphia. The baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Roper Jr., the former Fidelia Richards.

Mrs. Richards and Miss Marie Louise have been in Philadelphia for a month awaiting the event. Now they are planning to go on to their summer home in Maine where they will be joined later by the Ropers and the baby. Mr. Richards will leave for Maine on Aug. 20. The baby's paternal grandfather is the late William Roper, the famous Princeton coach.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Pattou are entertaining at the Onwentsia's dinner-dance this evening for their debutante daughter, Miss Mardo. Miss Pattou will make her debut at a tea on Sept. 30.

Entertains Tonight for Ravinia Stars.

The four opera stars who will be heard at Ravinia's gala performance tomorrow night will be guests at dinner and the concert tonight of Mrs. James Otis Hinkley. The singers are Grete Stueckgold, Susanne Fisher, Suzanne Sten, and Eyvind Laholm. Mrs. Laholm also will be in the party.

Cleaveland Putnam, Mrs. Hinkley's nephew, and his bride of a few months ago, who are visiting her in Lake Forest; the George Voevodskys and Uri B. Grannis will be other guests. The Putnams just have completed a six months' round-the-world honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Louis Eckstein, who annually dontes Ravinia Park for the festival, will have Mme. Artur Rodzinski, wife of this week's guest conductor, in her box tonight and tomorrow night. Percy B. Eckhart, president of the association, and Mrs. Eckhart gave a dinner last night at the Indian Hill club for Dr. and Mrs. Rodzinski and members of the Ravinia executive committee.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A chic canteen bag, in awning stripes of brown and white, is a costume accessory and something of a portable dressing table. Tucked into it are powder, lipstick, sun cream, talc and sun glasses—all handy for the preservation of comfort and good looks.

One of the best looking summer beauty kits we've ever seen is also one of the best bargains we've found in a long time. Such a lot for your money! It's the brain child of a beauty house that makes fine preparations.

The bag is so smart looking it simply shrieks style. It's canteen shaped, of brown and white awning stripes, with a brown cord handle that you can swing over a shoulder or wind around your wrist. Those awning stripes get us every time; they always look so crisp and fresh they're a joy to feast the eyes on.

The choice of fittings and the clever way they're tucked in add to this bag's success. There is a tube of sun cream, a good big fat one that will last the summer, never failing you in its job of guarding against sunburn. There's also a huge container of talc, unbelievably fine and sweet scented. You know how good it is to sprinkle yourself liberally with a cool powder when you're hot and rumpled. Talc is a hot weather necessity, if you ask us.

There is a compact for loose powder—a very good one that you'll be proud to carry in your purse when the summer kit season is over. Also a lipstick. A regular size of one of the best lipsticks you can buy. The stick and the removable mirror are suspended on ribbons that flip over the side of the case when it's open. Easy to get at—and an idea you probably will see copied.

In the kit is space for a package of cigarets and snug in the cover is a pair of good quality sun glasses—the kind with blinders at the sides to cut off the glare there.

This would make a wonderful going-away present for any woman you know. And the stay at homes who vacation all summer in Chicago would love it. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Hair Must Be Shielded from the Sun's Rays

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

This time of year we have a chance to give our hair a holiday from hats. Well and good. Up to a certain point, sunshine and fresh air are beneficial, especially to the scalp. But don't take a complete holiday from hair culture.

The health and vitality that sunshine gives you will enhance the luster of your hair unless you cook it too violently. Remember that the sun is drying. To counteract the loss of oils, brush your hair at night and more vigorously.

No doubt you already have your permanent, so the water and summer breezes won't make the ends too stringy. But breezes do blow away that perfectly coiffed look. A dive or two will quickly make your dollar wave revert to the kinky ringlets you see before a new permanent is set. So you may have to give your locks a little more attention than in the winter time.

When you come in late from an evening's fun, you may feel like tumbling into bed. But check up on your wind-blown ends with an eye to making a hit next morning. If you twist each wisp of hair around your finger and hold it in place with a bob pin, you'll be much more beautiful tomorrow. It doesn't take long once you've had a little practice and you won't find them difficult to sleep on.

Naturally you will wash out the salt water after a dip in the ocean. It is well to apply a little vaseline with the tips of the fingers or hair lotion with an oily base. Otherwise the summer may take all the life out of your hair.

Some authorities believe falling hair and gray hair come from lack of oils and a tight scalp. So brush and rub and keep your scalp tingling with pleasure in the holidays, too.

Baptists Wary, but May Join World Council

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Atlanta, Ga., July 26 [Special].—Delegates to the congress of the Baptist World Alliance here turned their attention today to the problem of Baptist membership in the World Council of Churches now being formed.

While this congress cannot direct the national, sectional, and racial conventions which compose it to join the world council, the congress threw its influence behind the council with a carefully qualified statement of approval. The historic Baptist position with its emphasis on individual freedom makes alliances with ecclesiastical systems and state churches difficult.

But after the reading of a report of a commission on church unity by Principal W. Holms Coats of Glasgow, Scotland, which was prepared by Principal W. Wheeler Robinson of Oxford university, the congress attitude indicated what ways to join the council would be found by the various conventions. The northern Baptist convention has already joined the council with reservation.

Principal Coats' report stressed in scholars' language the six Baptist axioms and insisted that these axioms remain nailed to the mast head even though Baptist conventions seek admission to the world council.

The report also pointed out that Baptists are now being persecuted by state churches which aided in the creation of the council. The six Baptist axioms follow:

The theological axiom: The holy and loving God has a right to be sovereign.

The moral axiom: To be responsible, man must be free.

The social axiom: Love your neighbor as yourself.

The report made it plain that each of these views is met with antagonism in many countries thus making more necessary a vigorous promotion of the axioms.

The international council on life and work of the churches held at Oxford three years ago was named by the report as being more favored by Baptist opinion than the council on faith and order of the churches held the same summer at Edinburgh, Scotland.

"Oxford had to do with the question of religion and life, and looked toward coöperation in the practical impact on the institutional life of the various peoples and nations," the report stated.

On the other hand, concerning the Edinburgh meeting, the report said: "It was clear that the most insistent sentiment for union contemplates union along episcopal and sacramental lines which contravene basal convictions of almost all Baptists."

The world council now being formed grew out of the Oxford and Edinburgh councils.

The charge of superorginzation in the church was brought by Harry L. Taylor, London business man, former president of the Baptist Union of Great Britain.

"As a business man," said Mr. Taylor, "I know that it is possible to organize industry to such an extent that vitality is lost and progress ceases. I wonder if we are not making a mistake of this kind in the Christian church today. On every hand one hears of increasing organization."

He asked if some of the organizing was not "being achieved at the cost of the real purpose for which the church was founded."

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

The Screen Looks at the Stage.

Hollywood, Cal., July 26.—Oddly enough, the biggest night in the movie colony is any night when such a star of the stage as Helen Hayes comes to town with a legitimate show.

"Ladies and Gentlemen" was no exception to the Hollywood rule, and early in the evening the long, shiny limousines were streaming out of Beverly, and Bel-Air, and the hills of Hollywood in the direction of Los Angeles loaded with movie stars.

Situated on a hill, the Biltmore theater isn't the most convenient for the carriage trade, cars getting themselves hopelessly tangled on the incline, and trolley cars and autograph fans adding to the trafic confusion. . . . The last two blocks took twenty minutes to navigate, but luckily the curtain went up late.

I suppose there is no theater in the world to compare with the Biltmore on the night of an important première. . . . Cars struggle to avoid impaling autograph seekers on the bumpers. . . . Other theaters may match these exterior scenes, but the interior of the theater is unique and extraordinary.

In the first place a covey of photographers are flushed into action every time a movie celeb starts down the aisle, and the theater is illuminated by a series of flashes as the bulbs go off.

In the boxes, the mezzanine section, and the upper balcony people don't sit down at all while the house lights are on. . . . They stand up en masse and peer down into the orchestra pit, breaking into excited applause every time a glamor boy or glamor girl walks in under a toupe or a fox cape.

You might think that such an audience, frankly intent on absorbing the free show that is provided by the audience celebrities, would be unruly. . . . Actually, there is no audience so mannerly in the world.

The minute the house lights go down and the curtain goes up the "lookers" return to their seats, and from then on until the first intermission you can't hear a sound.

At intermission the "lookers" again rush from their seats to vantage points to keep an eye on the celebs in the pit below. . . . Looking up at the mezzanine and balcony, the effect is that of hundreds of heads staring down, the owners of the heads all ranged along the guide rails.

On the night of a Helen Hayes-Herbert Marshall opening the movie colony makes up huge parties. . . . As a result the arrival of Norma Shearer's party is a procession of evening gowns and dinner jackets that fill an aisle. . . . Ahead of this long que run the swarm of photographers, taking their pictures on the fly, and some of them focusing their cameras over their heads. . . . This reporter, to take a snapshot out in the back yard must needs measure off carefully the paces separating the camera from the subject. . . . Even then most of my pictures are out of focus.

"Ladies and Gentlemen" is not much shucks as a play, because inevitably you compare the Helen Hayes characterization of "Victoria Regina" to anything subsequent. . . . There are scenes in this play that have a sparkle and a lilt to them, but you're always conscious that the figures on stage are acting. . . . The writing has as many levels as an oil well. . . . The best of it is Hecht and MacArthur at their sprightliest.

Out into the night you go again, this time to salvage a car from the incredible trafic snarl. . . . A half-moon is riding in the warm sky as you head for the Trocadero where the afterpiece of the show will be acted out to the accompaniment of the bands of Emil Coleman and Eddie South.

Somehow the autograph seekers have reached the Troc well in advance of the theater audience, but this time the crush is not so violent. . . . The autograph fans, at midnight, have lost some of the fierce zest that made them formidable at 8 p. m.

Inside the club the ropes are up as the captains separate the Hollywood chaff from the wheat. . . . "But I called up and made a reservation—" . . . The captains are polite but unrelenting. . . . Inside the club the photographers are ranged along the huge table at which the Shearer guests will sit. . . . Herbert Marshall arrives. . . . A blast of bulb explosions. . . . Miss Hayes arrives. . . Another salvo of light. . . . Kay Francis, Dorothy Lamour, Hedy Lamarr, Mary Benny and other femme stars pose prettily. . . . Now the entire room is seated.

"Ladies and gentlemen," interrupts Emil Coleman, "the drawing will now be made. Harry Crocker will roll the dice for the first lucky numbers." . . . Forgotten completely now is the show, the celebs, the photographers.

The girls hurriedly arrange their tickets in order so that they won't miss their number if it is called out. . . . Crocker rolls the dice and they come up "twelve." . . . He starts picking out the stubs. . . . Miss Hayes, star of the evening, leans forward to hear the winning number. . . And she's not acting.

HOT-WEATHER SPAGHETTI DISHES THAT WIN APPLAUSE!

Spaghetti With Cold Sliced Ham
● Heat Heinz Cooked Spaghetti according to directions on the label. Arrange slices of cold cooked ham on one side of platter. Then heap spaghetti on other side. Arrange sprigs of water cress between the spaghetti and ham. You'll find this good-looking, quick-to-fix dish grand for family lunches and sunporch suppers!

Spaghetti And Egg Scramble
● Fry 8 slices bacon until crisp. Remove from pan and keep hot. Beat 4 eggs till fluffy—add 1 medium (17-oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti—pour into skillet containing small amount of the bacon fat. Cook, stirring gently, until consistency of scrambled eggs. Season with salt and pepper. Pour onto platter and arrange bacon slices at one side. Tuck in sprigs of parsley here and there around the scramble. (Serves 4.)

Spaghetti With Sausage Cakes
● Place 1 large (24½-oz.) tin Heinz Cooked Spaghetti in greased casserole, then cover top with very thin slices of 1 medium onion. Form 1 lb. sausage into cakes, brown on both sides in skillet, and arrange over top of onions. Cover and bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 45 minutes—or until onion slices are tender. Uncover and brown top slightly. (Serves 4 or 5.)

PERK UP wilted appetites—cut down cook-stove hours—by serving Heinz Cooked Spaghetti often! Ready to heat and eat as it comes from the tin, this substantial one-dish meal is grand alone—or mixed with leftovers! Heinz chefs make their own luscious spaghetti—drench it in a spicy, cheese-flavored sauce of Heinz tomatoes. The work is all done for you! Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian Taylor, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Herr Wiedermann, in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Sayonara Lonska. Franz loses his job. When Leopoldine secures one for him he accepts it for the sake of his dependents. In Riga Marian learns Herr Wiedermann is in love with Gisela and wants to arrange for her and Johann to come there. Mme. Lonska, she discovers, is a spy and that the picture from Herr Speyer was a message in code. Marian returns to Vienna. Gisela goes to Riga. She and Herr Wiedermann are married and he adopts Johann. Franz spurns Leopoldine's offer to be his mistress. Next day Franz is seized by the Gestapo. Leopoldine's brother, Karl, a Storm Trooper, intrigued by Marian's beauty, offers to help locate Franz, though she doubts his sincerity. He falls madly in love with her, though she tells him she can love no one but Franz. Marian sees Herr Speyer, who advises her to see Wilhelm Boehm, a head Nazi official, who would know Franz's whereabouts.

INSTALLMENT XL.

LOSS OF HOPE.

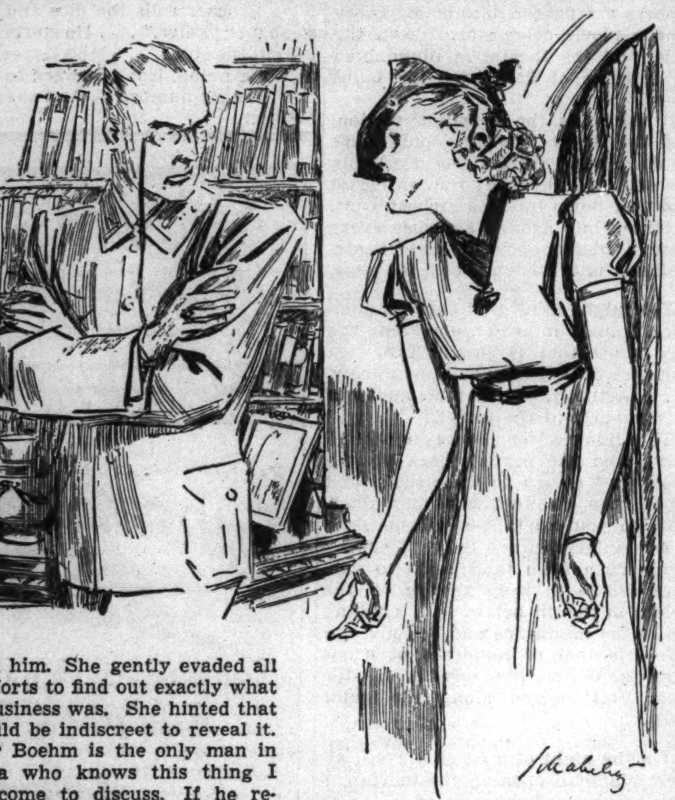
Except for occasional little palpitations of her heart and the disagreeable little flutters in her stomach she told herself she felt quite well. She looked at her watch. It was almost 9 o'clock.

The Lachenberg palace presented an elegant, but modest face to the narrow street. There was some very beautiful detail in the stone work about the windows, and over the great doorway, a vigorous sculpture of the Lachenberg arms. Like most of the older palaces, however, its beauty was hidden discreetly and mysteriously within. She rang the bell and the door opened, giving a glimpse into an ivy grown courtyard beyond, green with syringa and cool with the tinkle of a fountain.

A youthful Storm Trooper sternly cross-examined her on her business. She told him enough to give him the impression the favor was on her part and spoke German badly enough to baffle him completely.

She saw it hurt his ego to be unable to settle the question of whether she should be turned back into the street or passed on further, but he passed her on in case he should be making a mistake which would return like a boomerang with unpleasant consequences.

Having found the technique so successful, Marian tried it on the older trooper who used an ancient harness room opening on the courtyard as an office. He, however, could speak English. To pretend to misunderstand him when he spoke so clearly would have been to seriously offend him. She gently evaded all his efforts to find out exactly what her business was. She hinted that it would be indiscreet to reveal it. "Herr Boehm is the only man in Vienna who knows this thing I have come to discuss. If he refuses to see me, well and good. All I ask is that you take in my name to him."



"Please, please—tell me something —if he's safe."

As she had hoped the ambiguous message had a hint of novelty which excited the elusive Herr Boehm's curiosity. She was an American girl who spoke bad German and could not be intimidated in English.

He sent word that she might wait, and he would give her five minutes in the spinet room after dinner.

She could hardly believe her good luck when the trooper returned to conduct her there, and closed the door on her. The room was small but lofty and owned one of the lace draped windows overlooking the Keilgasse. With its tapestries and mirrors, gilt furniture and inlaid spinet, it was like an exhibition in a museum, wistfully beautiful, perfect in its way, but very unlived-in and inhospitable.

The door opened abruptly and the most disagreeable looking man she had ever seen in her life stood before her. Not that he was ugly, his face was patrician, but wasted and cadaverous and the bright light showed up the monstrous emptiness of his eyes. They were like dirty ice—hard, cunning and uncompromising. A man without a heart to appeal to. "All right," thought Marian, trembling, "I'll do my best and call it fate."

He had a horrible technique of intimidating people. He said nothing. Just entered and stood there waiting for her to speak. It was a cruel method and it almost worked. She was momentarily tongue-tied, her mouth dry, a pulse beating violently in her throat. His little glittering eyes were like knives pinning her down. Her own fell before them and she saw him picking at the buttons of his uniform with one hand. His fingers were twitching. His nerves were not under control.

She raised her head, looked him in the face and said—"my fiancé is missing. I have been told you are the only man in Vienna who can tell me where he is."

"That is probably correct. Who is he? How did he come to be missing? When did he go?"

While she told him his shifty eyes moved all over her, appraising her. Marian kept firm hold of her nerves and refused to allow it to break her self-possession. She told her story and the details of her search, swiftly and coherently.

"Wait here," he interrupted rudely, "I will look."

He came back within five minutes. "This man, Franz Gruenwald, is he not the adopted son of Josef von Plasy, late university professor?"

At last he had been traced! Marian could hardly speak. "Yes, mein Herr, he is."

"You say he is your fiancé. Do you actually intend to marry him?"

"Certainly, mein Herr."

"And assist him to leave this country and immigrate to yours?"

Time lay on her like a weight while she sought for the right answer to this question. She compromised—"if he wishes it, mein Herr."

"There are better men in your own country. Give up this childish folly and go home."

"Then you will not tell me where he is?"

She threw her dignity to the winds. "Please, please tell me something. If he's safe. Where he is. This isn't childish folly. I love him better than my life."

His face showed a weary disgust. He turned to the door, opened it and called loudly—"Adler!"

The trooper who had brought her up to the spinet room came running up the stairs. "Show this hysterical young woman out."

An exotic looking woman—pale faced, scarlet mouthed, heavily perfumed, got out of a car and went into the palace doorway as Marian emerged from it. The trooper on guard accorded her a respectful salute. "But he has a human side," Marian thought in bitter disappointment. "That must be his wife."

She walked home through dark little back streets and across brilliant thoroughfares feeling as if at last her search had come to an end. This man had the knowledge she sought without a doubt, but he had said nothing to indicate whether Franz were alive or dead. Her optimism had not failed her up till now, but she knew that so far as Herr Boehm was concerned there was no hope. She would not even stand a chance of being given an audience again.

Trudi was waiting up for her.

Marian sank into the nearest chair. "I feel like it. It's loss of hope."

Trudi was shocked. "Nein, nein. We must never give up hope. You are tired. But your spirit is not broken. You have suffered far too much." She knelt on the floor and began to remove the girl's dusty shoes and stockings. "You will go to bed and rest and you will feel better in the morning. Tomorrow I will go to church to pray for a miracle. I will light twelve candles at the altar of Our Lady of Sorrows. She has been through all this. She will listen to us."

She left Marian between the cool linen sheets and came back with a foaming milk drink. Marian hardly realized until she had drunk it how heavily it was laced with brandy. She had barely time to think—"how blessed it is I still have Trudi—what would I do without her." Her head was swimming. She was drowning. She was asleep.

Analyzing Man Helps to Win His Proposal

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"How can I get him?"

"How can I keep him?"

"He seems to be losing interest; what shall I do to hold him?"

So the frantic letters run from girls who see in one man all happiness. They would be wise if they would stop grabbing and clutching and hanging on to love with desperate hands. They should stop trying to get something and figure out what they can give.

What does the man really want? We don't mean a woman should shower a man with presents. After all, cigaret cases and neckties are things he can buy for himself in a store. He may say he wants kisses, but kisses aren't so difficult to collect.

Perhaps he does not know himself what he wants and needs. But the girl who can figure it out for him has no more worries. Each man is different. One man may need building up, another mothering, another jolly companionship. An overworked executive may need a girl who rests him. Another business man may require frivolity.

We know of one man who lacked faith in himself. He was quite a philanderer, but he became absolutely devoted to a girl whose love and admiration was completely blind. Once we heard a tremendous talker say a wife was meant to listen to her husband. Any girl who could be continual ears could snap that chap up in a moment and be his audience for the rest of time.

It is well for a girl or woman to learn what a man wants early in the romance. If she waits until her emotions are too much involved, she may lose her perspective and never discover the magic that will bind her man to her.

Asks Rag Pieces and Yarns.

Mrs. S., on the south side of the city, recently was released from the hospital after a period of eight weeks. Her baby died, and she still is far from well, and able to do very little. She spends her time sewing quilt pieces and crocheting rag rugs, but hasn't sufficient material to continue. She would appreciate anything that could be used for rugs or crochet work. The family is on relief.

Potatoes probably are the most fre- uent appearing meal-time food aside rom bread and butter. Sometimes it eems as though the ways in which prepare this staple vegetable are ew. But potatoes needn't forever ontinue a round of boil, mash, fry, ake, and cream. Such routine does ot speak well for the genius of the ook.

There are countless ways of pre- aring potatoes interestingly.

Potatoes, Scandinavian Style.

[Serves six.]

6 medium potatoes
6 anchovies, cut in small pieces
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Salt, pepper
⅓ teaspoon minced parsley
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg

Cook potatoes in boiling, salted wa- r, drain, and put through a ricer. dd anchovies, seasonings, and butter. eat the egg before stirring it in. orm the mixture, when cool enough handle, into small egg shapes. Roll fine dry crumbs, dip in beaten egg, nd again into crumbs. Fry in deep t, heated to 370 degrees, until olden brown. Drain on soft paper nd serve while hot.

By omitting the anchovies and ustard and adding a tablespoonful two of finely chopped mint leaves stead of parsley, this recipe may be sed for a totally different kind of ttle potato cake. Pimiento, parsley, nd a little onion offer another varia- on.

Lyonnaise Potatoes.

[Serves six.]

6 medium potatoes
¼ cup bacon drippings
1 large onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons minced parsley
Salt, pepper

Peel potatoes and cut in cubes. oil in salted water until about half ooked. Drain. Heat the fat in a killet, add potatoes, onion, and pars- y. Sprinkle with salt and pepper nd cook over low heat until onions nd potatoes are tender. Lift and urn potatoes with a wide spatula as ey cook to prevent mashing.

French Baked Potatoes.

[Serves four.]

4 medium potatoes, cut in strips
Butter or bacon fat
Salt, pepper

Boil the potato strips in salted ater for three minutes. Drain, rush with melted butter or bacon t, and bake on a shallow, lightly reased pan, at 400 degrees, until nder and brown. Season with salt nd pepper.

Crusty Potatoes.

[To be baked with a roast.]

Wash and peel small potatoes. Dip to a beaten egg which has been luted with two tablespoons water, en into fine, sifted bread crumbs. lace in the roasting pan with beef lamb roast and cook until tender, asting with drippings occasionally.

EFTOVER CREAMED POTATOES. Chop the leftover creamed potatoes ne and add a little cream, if the uce has thickened. Add, for two ups chopped potatoes, two table- poons finely chopped green pepper nd one tablespoon chopped onion, hich have been sautéed in butter. ix thoroughly, fill four buttered ustard cups with the mixture, and p with fine crumbs or grated eese. Bake in 375 degree oven until ot and browned.

Going on a picnic? For what-to- at suggestions see Mary Meade's ooklets, "Let's Have a Picnic" and "The New Sandwich Maker." Pick hem up for 3 cents each at the ribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune ower lobby, or they will be mailed or 5 cents each in stamps.

Slim Lines for Slenderness

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Long, slim lines are a byword with designers who specialize in gowns for mature figures. Everything about a frock must be planed down to essentials, straight as a tree trunk, streamlined as a Lombardy poplar. This fashion principle is observed in the frock we offer as our pattern today. Paneling is the medium used to give the long line. The pretty shoulders may be styled with downward pointing effect or be cut straight across, according to your preference. The V neckline may have a vestee to contrast or merely an edging of lace or ruching. Buttons are optional, as the belt, which, if you use it, should extend only from the sides to preserve the long line.

Both prints and plain shades make up well and both will be used this autumn. It's well to be getting your fall wardrobe together now, before the season takes you unaware and with your collection empty of seasonal frocks.

Style No. 2648 is designed for size 16, and for 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material, with ⅝ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

North End Club, 2 Other Groups Boost Ice Fund

Most contributions this summer have come from individuals, but yesterday the North End Woman's club and two other organizations enrolled in the seasonal charity of the Free Ice fund supported by TRIBUNE readers.

The United Charities, which administers the fund, invites other groups to consider this philanthropy which means health and, upon occasions, even life, to many of the city's poor.

Gratefully received were donations from:

★ On the House ★

If you notice moths—even one or two—flying about your house, they probably have found a nearby breeding place. Check on all possible places: Unused pieces of clothing, bundles of rags, discarded cushions or carpets, on shelves, in cupboards, in closets, cellar or attic.

If you find any article in any storage space infested by moths, take everything out and hang in the sun. Run kerosene or carbon tetrachloride into any woodwork cracks. Keep a couple of pounds of naphthalene exposed on a top shelf and the door closed, an extra insurance. During the moth season it may be practical to set aside one closet which is made as tight as possible and heavily charged with moth flakes. The flakes must be renewed as they evaporate. Use moth proof bags with no openings and inside keep small bags filled with moth crystals. If you have a cedar closet, see that door joints are tightly weatherstripped.

According to CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: As a constant reader, I write to ask your analysis and opinion on the following hand, which created considerable discussion in a recent rubber bridge game:

"East, dealer.
"North-South vulnerable.
"Rubber bridge.

"The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	Double	2 hearts	2 no trump
Pass	*3 hearts	Pass	4 hearts
Double	4 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

*Cue bid.

"The bidding is given exactly as made. You will note it died at four spades, although seven spades is cold.

"I was South and you can imagine my consternation when the dummy went down. On the first round of bidding I apparently had the choice of the following bids: [a] two hearts, [b] one spade, [c] double, [d] two spades. As I have been taught that 5 to 5½ honor tricks are necessary to bid the opponents' suit on the first round, I disposed of bid A. Since a one spade overcall would not show the strength of the South hand, bid B was put aside. I chose bid C, double, as the safest call on the first round, although I had slightly more strength than necessary for such a double.

"North's contention is that my bid, on the first round, should have been two spades; then, he says, we would have 'gone places.' My stand is that, after West's bid of two hearts, North had plenty for a 'free' bid and could have bid two spades with impunity. Then we would have arrived at at least a small slam contract via the 4-5 no trump convention. Either that, or after the three bids I actually made [one of which was a cue bid], North could have raised to five or six spades, in which case I could pass or go to seven spades, the proper contract. What do you think?

"E. H., Philadelphia."

As usual, there were "faults on both sides." South's first bid was not the best, in my opinion, but should not have interfered seriously with reaching the correct contract. Two spades would have represented South's holding more closely than the double. South made another error on the second round: His three heart bid at this stage was not technically a cue bid, despite the fact that he meant it as such. South should have bid three spades on the second round, reserving his heart cue bid for a later stage, when it could not be misunderstood. Thus, if South had bid three spades and North, underbidding greatly, raised only to four spades, South then could bid five hearts as a clear message and an unmistakable slam try.

My criticism of South's bidding, however, must not be taken as a whitewash of North's. I agree fully with South's contention that North should have made another bid over the four spades. The correct bidding throughout [accepting East's semi-psychic opening] was:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	2 spades	Pass	3 spades
Pass	4 hearts	Pass	5 clubs
Pass	5 diamonds	Pass	7 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

Although the Culbertson system does not officially authorize ace showing as cue bids, in this case North's suggested five club bid can hardly be ambiguous. He already has supported the higher ranking spade suit, hence, when South cue bids the opponents' suit with his four heart bid, North should logically show his first round club control. Then, when South makes another very strong bid with five diamonds, North can be almost positive that there is no loser in the combined hands.

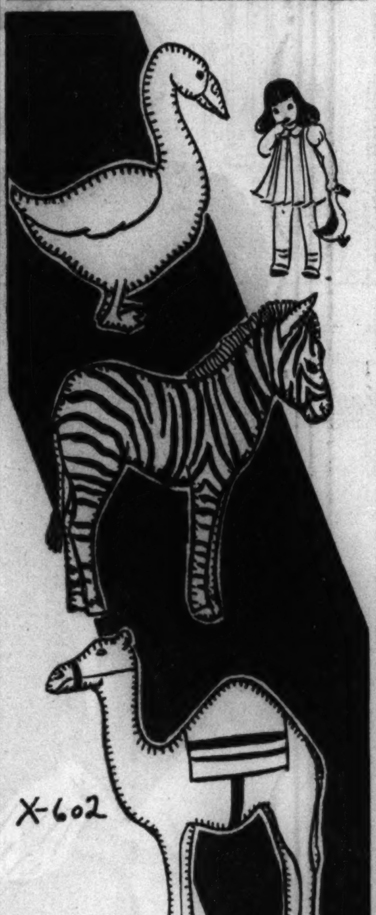
Cuddle Toy Is Easily Made in Half Hour's Time



X-602

BY NANCY CABOT.

For a good half hour's enjoyment, why not make these clever cuddle toys for your own or your friends' infants? Scraps of gingham or percale will produce the most colorful creatures. These same patterns may be used for applique work on quilts or pillows. Instead of stuffing them with kapok, beans may be substituted, and a lively bean bag may be available for older children.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the cuddle toys, No. X-602, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

New York, July 26 (AP).—Robert Vanderpoel Clark, 21, grandson of Alfred Corning Clark, co-founder of the Singer Sewing Machine company, was married quietly yesterday in Marble Collegiate church to the former Suzanne de la Salle, a native of Lille, France, who is fifteen years his senior. It was his first marriage and her third. She was divorced successively from Robert N. Chambers and Russell Hiteman. Two friends witnessed the ceremony. Clark, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Clark of New York City and Cooperstown, N. Y., is an alumnus of Old Farms school, Avon, Conn., where he coached polo, and an amateur aviator.

Chicagoans in West Expected to Attend Central City Festival

Central City, Colo., is in the minds of Chicagoans whose summer plans take them through the west. The old mining town is in the midst of its play festival and this means good fun to any one who has been there since the festival was started eight years ago.

Among the traditional entertainments provided visitors are pioneer dancing in the livery stables, rock drilling contests, and a hose cart race. In addition, there are sight-seeing tours to the mines, the McFarlane foundry, and the placer diggings.

Among the Chicagoans who may renew acquaintance with Central City are Mrs. Arthur G. Cable and her daughter Susan, who are summering in Santa Fe, a day's drive, and Mrs. William A. Nitze, who is in Estes Park. The Joseph B. Flemings and their daughter, Jean, who have gone to a Colorado ranch, probably will make a trip to Central City before the festival closes Saturday night. Later they are going to California.

Mrs. Nitze expects her son-in-law and daughter, the Walter P. Paepckes, to join her soon.

Mr. Cable and Arthur Jr. will go to their Santa Fe home next month.

Writer Talks to Mothers of New Infants

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We met in the "big city" quite distant from her home. When she said she could have lunch with me I was surprised that she could be away so long with a quite new baby, her second, even though she has plenty of help, and relatives.

When I intimated as much she announced, "I'm not nursing the baby any more. I couldn't be bothered, really. I was just too tied down. And my doctor said it was all right; the baby'd get along just as well."

I'm afraid her doctor wasn't very up to date, or else he does what his patients want him to. There was a fashion for bottle feeding at one time, even when it wasn't necessary, but now it's new fashioned to be old fashioned and to nurse your baby if you possibly can do so. And the chances are that you can. There are, occasionally, conditions which make a doctor think that nursing is undesirable, but they are unusual.

Do you know that practically every mother can adequately nurse her baby for the necessary length of time, that is, if she is under the care of a competent doctor before and after the baby comes, and follows his instructions?

If she is determined that her baby shall have the inestimable good of mother's milk it is possible for her to have it in both quantity and quality if she will eat the proper foods, will rest, sleep, exercise and relax, and faithfully carry out the schedule that the doctor lays out for her.

"Of course," you may say, "it's easy enough if you haven't a family to run besides the new baby." It is true that tiredness and worry are two great enemies of a nursing mother. But if it is humanly possible it is better to let other things slide as much as possible, or enlist the family's help in order to keep rested enough to give your baby his valuable milk. It may even pay in the long run to have extra help for a little while or stay in the hospital a little longer, for a properly breast-fed baby is a healthy baby, and so doctor's bills for the baby may be eliminated.

So, nurse your baby while you can and as long as you can, even if the doctor finds that some supplementary bottle feedings may be necessary. You are then giving him the best chance he can have for a safe babyhood.

There is no experience in life parallel to nursing your baby. Don't begrudge him these hours that you give him for his first ten or twelve months of existence. There will be plenty of days and months and years when you won't be "tied down" the way nursing your baby does "tie you down." Do not let such relatively unimportant things as social engagements cause you to deny your baby his birthright. You will be repaid a hundred fold, if you are thinking in terms of being repaid.

On Sunday next an important article on breast feeding will appear.

The Housewife

There's a neat little kitchen gadget that brings order to your broom closet. It is a holder made of heavy red rubber and metal. You screw it in the door or wall of the closet. It holds your mop, or broom, or carpet sweeper, or Venetian blind duster, or what have you. To insert the article to be held you simply push it up and in the holder. To remove, push it up and out.

Use these holders in your hall closet, too, for umbrellas and walking sticks. They're wonderfully efficient and they cost little.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

When I tell you that Rector's cleaned up more than a million dollars almost solely by its reputation for two famous sauces—Marguery and Mornay—you will understand why I feel sauces are such an important item on one's kitchen repertoire.

By all means, do learn how to make a few good sauces. But remember, always, that they are intended only to enhance the original goodness of the food, not to cover up any deficiencies in either the food itself or its cooking.

George Rector
Food Consultant Wilson & Co.

ALAS! POOR YORICK!

It is a bitterish moment when the woman who has been carving away with reckless abandon into a *Wilson's Tender Made Bone-In Ham, has to face the fact that she is rapidly getting down to bare bone.

But there is no need for discouragement. Not only are more Tender Made Hams available, but even now, if she can glean together two cupfuls of ham oddments, she can wind up the affair in a blaze of culinary glory.

*"The Ham you cut with a Fork"

Rector's Ham Mousse

Mousse is the French word for foam, and it implies frothiness, whipped cream and general palatability. A mousse may be either baked or frozen or as in this case, stiffened with gelatine and chilled.

Chop the ham very fine and pound it well in a chopping bowl. There should be 2 cupfuls. Soften one tablespoon of granulated gelatine in a very little water, dissolve it in ½ cup hot water and add to the ham.

Season with 1 teaspoon mixed mustard, ½ teaspoon paprika and a few grains of our old friend cayenne. Then add 1 cup heavy cream, whipped stiff. Turn into one large or 6 small molds, rinsed out in cold water, and chill.

EPICUREAN SAUCE

Coupled with the above, this becomes one of those calorie-defying, "Come on, Fat!" gestures, but it is worth it, you'll agree.

4 tablespoons Wilson's Savory Mayonnaise
2 tablespoons freshly grated horse-radish
1 teaspoon English mustard
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne

Beat cream until stiff. Stir in the mayonnaise, grated horseradish and the balance of the ingredients which have been mixed together.

BUFFET SUPPER
Anchovy Canapes
Wilson's Tender Made Ham Mousse, Epicurean Sauce
Asparagus Vinaigrette
Potato Chips
French Rolls Olives
Pineapple Sherbet
Beverage

Until freezing units are standard equipment in kitchens—and more particularly in kitchenettes—any housewife is justified in cutting down on large roasts during the summer months. A can of Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash can quickly be made into a hot dish that I can guarantee will make a hit with the man of your choice.

CORNED BEEF HASH in Pepper Cases

Cut off the tops of 4 green peppers, remove ribs and seeds. Cook in boiling salted water 5 minutes. Drain.

Heat the contents of a tin of Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash with 2 tablespoons minced parsley and, if desired, 1 tablespoon minced onion cooked in a little Clear Brook Butter. Fill the pepper cases with the hash, sprinkle the tops with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 10-15 minutes. They will hold their shapes well if set in greased muffin tins. Serve with Creole Sauce.

BIERMAN CALLS COACHING STARS A GREAT HONOR

Game a Stimulant to Football.

BY BERNIE BIERMAN.

[Head football coach, University of Minnesota; head coach All-Star team 1936.]

Bernie Bierman.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 26.—I took it as a signal honor to be designated as head coach of the College All-Stars in the game with the Detroit Lions in 1936, and I must yield the palm to that game itself. That annual national game is a marvelous stimulant for football itself. It makes every one football minded just before practice in the colleges gets under way, really starts off the fireworks with a spectacular gusto because of the dramatic manner in which the game is presented.

But it is not alone a spectacle. It really is a football game. If you don't think so, recall the sensational finish of that 1936 game and think of the other thrillers that have transpired since. And the 1939 game Aug. 30 between the All-Stars and the New York Giants certainly will follow the pattern.

Coaches Face Problems.

The problems for the coaching staff are numerous. But there is untold satisfaction in the way the players and every one else respond in a most coöperative spirit. The most surprising feature to me was the superb condition of the players. They come to that pre-game practice session in fine physical fettle, apparently convinced that this really is a ball game of the most signal importance and therefore must be in the best physical condition.

Another outstanding observation was the manner in which the boys adapt themselves to the varied football systems, new to them in most cases. Most of the boys likewise are conscientious and prove that they like to play the game. The big job for the coaches, of course, is to get acquainted with the boys and gain their confidence. Then they must plumb the abilities of the players and eliminate any bad habits they may have.

Two Thrills for Him.

It was a distinct thrill to be coaching the 1936 team because of two major events. Our All-Stars of that year were the first in the thrilling history of the All-Star professional game to score a touchdown against the paid performers. And it was one of my own boys, who had done much to lift Minnesota into the football limelight, who put across that first touchdown. He is Babe LeVoir, former Gopher quarter back, who ripped off a neat gain to cross the professional goal line for the first time.

I still think that we might have won that 1936 game by a 7 to 6 score if the professional rule of goal posts on the goal line had not been in effect. I am firmly convinced that the professionals would have missed their conversion point if the goal posts had been 10 yards back as in college sport. And we would have made ours if the goal posts had been 10 yards back, so true was the placement for point.

Deservedly Popular.

The annual Soldiers' field game is one of the most popular sports events in the country today and it deserves that position. I repeat the good it has done for the game of football, not to mention the good that accrues to charity. It is an admirable situation throughout.

IT WASN'T THE WHALE—

that sent the three little fishes swimmin' back over the dam. It was a sudden reminder that they hadn't purchased their tickets for the All-Star game between the College All-Americans and the New York Giants, world's professional champions, Aug. 30, in Soldiers' field.

And maybe you don't want to be bossed, either, but mama knows best and she's been down to the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn, and in the lobby of Tribune Tower, to get tickets. Of course, she could have sent a money order made payable to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., to the All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower.

WALDORF LEADS POLL TO SELECT ALL-STAR COACH

Wisconsin Opens Drive for Stuhldreher.

BY ARCH WARD.

Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern university, leads the early returns in the coast to coast poll conducted by THE TRIBUNE and 334 other newspapers and radio stations for the purpose of electing a staff of five coaches to handle the All-America football squad in Chicago's sixth annual All-Star game on Aug. 30.

Waldorf apparently has the north shore area to himself and also is picking up a representative vote from various centers in the middle west. The Wildcats' leader not only has received more votes than any other Big Ten coach, but he also has gained an edge over the national field.

Under the revised rules of the coaches' poll only one Big Ten instructor can be chosen. There are seven other candidates besides Waldorf. Bernie Bierman of Minnesota, and Bo McMillin of Indiana, are ineligible because they were named head coaches in other years. Once a man has been picked as chief of staff he is not permitted to serve again.

Robertson Moves Up.

Outside the conference two representatives of the smaller schools have taken the lead. A. J. Robertson, who was a member of the 1938 board, heads this group by virtue of heavy returns from Peoria, the seat of Bradley Polytechnic, where he directs football. R. R. Neal of DePauw, trails Robertson.

Earl Blaik of Dartmouth, whose star half back, Bob MacLeod, has been elected to a starting position, holds a slight edge over Ducky Pond of Yale, who was an assistant on last year's staff, in the eastern section. Carl Snavely of Cornell, whose team won the 1938 Eastern Collegiate championship, is on their heels. Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, is the southern leader, and Buck Shaw of Santa Clara, has moved into first place among the far western coaches.

Wisconsin Gets Busy.

The returns thus far are so fragmentary that it is difficult to get a true line on the probable leaders in the stretch drive. For the first time since the All-Star game was originated Notre Dame alumni are organizing for Elmer Layden. Purdue and Wisconsin alumni have campaigns under way for their gridiron leaders, Mal Elward and Harry Stuhldreher.

From Henry McCormick, sports editor of the Wisconsin State Journal at Madison, comes this report: "We're

Jenkins Burned When Race Car Catches on Fire

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, July 26 (AP).—Mechanics who ripped open the enclosed cockpit of Ab Jenkins' racing car and dragged out the Utah speed driver, his clothing ablaze, averted a tragic finish today to Jenkins' latest assault on his own 24 hour automobile speed record.

Jenkins suffered burns the full length of his right arm and along the calf of his right leg, but the flames were smothered before they inflicted critical injury. He was treated at an emergency hospital in Salt Lake City, 125 miles east of here. Quick work with fire extinguishers also limited damage to the car.

The accident occurred near the end of the fourth hour of Jenkins' contemplated 24 hour run. Troubled by a howling motor noise, Jenkins pulled into the pit for a check by mechanics Bill Oliver and Marvin Jenkins, the latter Ab's 18 year old son. The crew failed to discover the cause of difficulty and Jenkins reëntered the car. As he started the twin motors of his 6,000 pound Mormon Meteor III., overheated gears locked, the car stalled, and fire broke out.

Jenkins was seeking to better his present 24 hour record average of 157.27 miles an hour, established in September, 1937.

The spirit of reciprocity is not dead. An aviation queen plugged Michigan industry at the World of Tomorrow. At the same time the governor of Michigan pointed out to the nation that New York City is very interesting.

I mentioned to my uncle that I had dreamed about that Wake contributor, the Blue Girl with the Mauve Spots. He said: "Lordy, nephew, you're a goner, sure. They made me take the cure when all I'd dreamed about was a pink elephant with green stripes."

SOX WIN, 8 TO 1; THEN LOSE, 6-5, TO FOXX, BOSTON

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 26.—The White Sox whipped the Red Sox, 8 to 1, in the first game of a double-header today and would have won the second game if Jimmy Foxx had been in a hospital nursing his sinus trouble. Jimmy wasn't in a hospital, unfortunately, so the Red Sox won, 6 to 5.

Angered by booing in a crowd of 21,000 because of his contribution to nine errors the Red Sox made in the first twelve innings today, Foxx knocked a homer in the fourth to shave down a 4 to 0 White Sox lead. In the fifth he drove in two runs with a double to set the score at 5 to 3, and in the eighth he knocked his second homer of the game, his fourth in two days and his twenty-third of the reason to tie the score.

Sox Miss Big Chance.

The White Sox had the bases loaded with none out in the first of the ninth and couldn't score, then the Red Sox, in their half, produced the only run not driven in by Foxx to win by the same score that tripped the White Sox in the second game yesterday in which Foxx also tied the score with a second homer.

The White Sox handled the Foxx menace nicely in the first game, which probably accounted for their lone victory in the four games played here in two days. In this first game he thrice grounded to Appling, once to start a double play. He walked once and ended the game with a fly to Kreevich.

The Chicagoans were in a hitting mood and were helped by five errors in the first game and four in the second. They made 13 hits in each game, outhitting the Red Sox numerically in both contests. The Chicagoans also played errorless ball in both games. It would have been a grand day if the fans hadn't angered Foxx by giving him the Bronx cheer.

FIRST GAME

Bill Dietrich, on the defense, and Gee Walker, on the offense with a triple, double, and two singles, were the big shots in the first game by a wide margin. Which is not to say there was anything slouchy about the entire supporting cast which included Mike Kreevich, who had two doubles and a single.

After watching Kreevich waste a double in the first inning, Walker opened the second with a triple off the sign board in left center and scored on Appling's grounder to Foxx. The Red Sox tied the score in the second. With two out, Vosmik doubled to left and scored on Tabor's single to center.

The White Sox scored their second run in the fifth. With one out, Kuhel was safe on second when Finney dropped his high fly. Kreevich sent Joe home with his second double. The White Sox made it 3 to 1 when Walker opened the sixth with a double and scored when Appling's grounder got through Foxx.

More Fun Near End.

Rosenthal opened the eighth with a double to right and scored on Walker's single to center. This lifted Walker's run batted in total to 76. Walker was safe at second and Appling at first on a late fielder's choice throw by Tabor, after which the pair put on a double steal. When Peacock threw the ball into left field trying to break up the larceny, Walker scored and Appling reached third. McNair singled to left, scoring Appling.

Clint Brown made his third relief appearance of the series and thirty-eighth of the season in the eighth, although Dietrich was reluctant to yield in this habitual strategy. The bases were full with one out as a result of a pass to Foxx and singles by Williams and Vosmik when Brownie entered the arena. He retired Tabor and Peacock.

Red Sox Continue Erring.

The ninth got under way when Peacock dropped Kuhel's fly in front of the plate. Kreevich singled to

DIZZY RETURNS TO FORM, YIELDS ONLY FIVE HITS

Hartnett and Bartell Smash Homers.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The strange Mr. Dean, officially known as Dizzy, was given an airing yesterday after ten days in the Cubs' doghouse and although not saying a few words, as is his custom, he conducted himself in refreshing fashion. The great one, whose $185,000 right arm is good or bad according to his moods, turned out a five-hitter in which his assistants were so unusually ferocious with their bats that he paddled Brooklyn's Dodgers with an unbalanced 10 to 2 score.

Mr. Dean, who entered the doghouse as the result of the mysterious New York incident in which he picked up a lengthy cut on his left arm, made such a gallant effort to climb back into good membership that he aroused visions of a no hitter. He didn't yield a hit in four innings, one enemy athlete getting to base on an error. But the Dodgers finally got the range on the squash ball he was throwing and piled up two runs before the great man could complete his fifth victory of the season.

Galan Reaches .300 Mark.

Although listed as the league's worst batsmen, the Cubs accumulated a total of twenty-five bases, some of them against old Freddie Fitzsimmons and others against Ira Hutchinson. Although there were homers, one by Manager Hartnett and the other by Dick Bartell, Augie Galan usurped the heavy honors on attack. He hit two singles, a double, and a triple, not only making himself prominent in the run production, but at the same time gaining the distinction of being the only Cub in the .300 hitting class.

In addition to his eleventh homer, hit in the third, Hartnett was the author of a second inning double which helped in the scoring of three runs. Bartell's homer came in the eighth and, although it was his only hit of the day, he figured spectacularly in another way. He made an error—which isn't news. But this one was different. Trying to throw a runner out at first base in the seventh, Dick heaved the ball into the grandstand for his record long distance blunder of the season.

Leiber Starts 3 Run Rally.

Hank Lieber, the semi-invalid of long standing, singled to left to start the Cubs on their three run spree in the second. Gleeson slapped a single past Fitzsimmons. Hartnett hoisted a fly into right center and it skidded off Moore's glove tips for a two bagger, Leiber scoring. A pass to Russell loaded the bases, whereupon Bartell popped a foul to Phelps. Gleeson skipped home while Dean was forcing Russell. Hack completed the assault by singling Hartnett across the plate.

The third inning incident by which Dean's lead received a two run addition was almost exclusively an accomplishment of the manager. Galan gave the only outside assistance by opening with a single. Leiber didn't cause any hurrahs by striking out and the silence continued while Phelps was taking Gleeson's pop fly. But Hartnett stirred up things a bit with his No. 11 homer, Galan scoring and Gabby arriving at the plate about five minutes later.

Dizzy Makes Strong Start.

Among the deeds turned in by the great Diz while progressing unmolested through the first three innings was a set of three strikeouts which started with Lavagetto and Parks in the first inning and ended with Camilli who opened the second. The perfect performance continued until Parks survived on a bad throw by Herman with two out in the fourth and in the next inning all thoughts of a possible no hitter were dissipated. Phelps opened the fifth with a single to center and scored on Moore's double to right. Dean was able to dispatch the next three batsmen.

The Cubs' fifth started with a pair of extra base hits but their chronic feebleness soon engulfed them and Cardinal Star's Perfect Game Spoiled in 8th.

Tom Sunkel.

St. Louis, Mo., July 26 (AP).—Southpaw Tom Sunkel came within two hits of a perfect game today as the Cardinals defeated the New York Giants, 10 to 0. Going into the eighth he had a perfect game, but Tom Hafey's clean single spoiled it. Later Billy Jurges also singled. It was the Giants' fifth shutout of the year and marked the fourth straight time Harry Gumbert has been defeated.

PIRATES WIN TWO.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 26 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates went into second place in the National league today by taking a double-header from the Phillies, 3 to 1 and 5 to 3.

Morrie Arnovich, Philadelphia left fielder, was hit on the head by a throw from Catcher Ray Mueller to second base in the second game. He left the game but walked from the field unaided. Later examination showed only a slight bruise.

right, Kuhel stopping at second. Rosenthal was called out on strikes, but Walker smashed one to left which handcuffed Vosmik, who was given an error. Kuhel scored on the play. Kreevich got to third on Appling's out after which McNair was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Tresh singled to short, Kreevich scoring.

SECOND GAME

With one out Kuhel's turn was prolonged when Tabor dropped his pop foul. Joe then walked. Kreevich beat out a roller to Doerr and the runners advanced while Foxx was retiring Rosenthal after a circus stop. Walker was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Appling's grounder went between Foxx's heels, Kuhel and Kreevich scoring and Walker getting to third on the throw to the plate. McNair struck out.

Kreevich opened the third with a single to right. In attempting to force Kreevich on Rosenthal's bunt, Ostermueller threw into center field, Kreevich reaching third and Rosenthal first. Kreevich scored on Walker's sacrifice fly.

The Chicago lads did a little banging after two were out in the fourth. Line singles by Hayes, Kuhel and Kreevich scored a run and had runners on third and first when Rosenthal flied to Vosmik.

Chicago Gets Another.

The Red Sox offense didn't amount to much until Foxx blasted his 22d homer with one out in the fourth. Previous to Jimmy's smash the only Boston hit was registered when Williams opened the second by beating out a tap in front of the plate.

The fifth Chicago run was scored in the fifth inning. Walker singled to center, went to second on Appling's bouncer to Foxx and scored on McNair's single to left. Dickman replaced Ostermueller and Schlueter and Lee were thrown out.

Finney opened the Boston eighth with a single to left. Then Foxx stepped up with unseemly confidence. He socked one of the longest homers of his career. It cleared the wall of a warehouse beyond the bleacher in dead center. The wall is 35 feet high and is 400 feet from the plate.

Dizzy Holds Dodgers to 5 Hits; Cubs Win

only one run was scored. Herman led off with a fly which bounced off the left field wall and started back to the infield. A moment before Herman had asked for treatment to a twisted ankle but there was no sign of injury as he was stretching his drive into a triple. He counted on a double by Galan who continued to third on Moore's fumble. Hutchinson took charge, and the next three batters couldn't push the ball beyond the inner defense.

Lavagetto's double, and a single by Camilli, fixed up Brooklyn's run in the seventh, after which the Cubs devoted their half to an exhibition of how not to score runs. Herman walked and Galan beat out a bunt, both taking an extra base because the Dodgers left third base open. In this situation Leiber fanned. Gleeson walked, filling the bases. They were cleared quickly when Hartnett fanned and Russell popped to Durocher.

BILL DICKEY HITS 3 HOMERS; YANKS DEFEAT BROWNS

New York, July 26 (AP).—The champion New York Yankees tied one modern major league mark and almost tied another as they swamped the St. Louis Browns, 14 to 1, today. The mark they tied was one held by five other clubs of scoring in every inning. Bill Dickey, the Yanks' catcher, hit three home runs, one short of the record of four held by Lou Gehrig, Bobby Lowe and Ed Delehanty.

Riggs, Cooke Lose in Singles at Seabright

Seabright, N. J., July 26 (AP).—Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., heroes of the recent American conquest at Wimbledon, were eliminated in the third round of the Seabright singles tournament this afternoon in a day of upsets. Other favorites beaten were Gardnar Mulloy, seeded No. 6, and Virginia Wolfenden, No. 4 in the women's singles.

Bobby Riggs.

Riggs met his master in 22 year old Frank Guernsey Jr. of Orlando, Fla., and national intercollegiate champion from Rice institute, losing 7-5, 6-4. The straight set defeat ended Riggs' hopes of winning the 52 year old tournament for a third straight year.

Riggs Always on Defensive.

Riggs, slipping about on the grass and never able to rush the net because of the depth of Guernsey's flat drives, was on the defensive throughout. Guernsey piled up 5-2 leads in each set.

Cooke, like Riggs, was bothered by the excessive heat in contrast with the cool of Wimbledon's courts. He never had a chance against his conqueror, 17 year old Jack Kramer of Montebello, Cal. The scores were 6-3, 6-4.

Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City, Okla., who won the French hard court title in the spring, eliminated Mulloy, 24 year old Coral Gables, Fla., lawyer, 7-5, 7-5.

Joining Guernsey, Kramer, and McNeill in the quarter-final round were three seeded players, Bryan M. Grant, Frankie Parker, and Wayne Sabin, along with Gilbert A. Hunt and former National Champion John Doeg.

Crawford, Wood Lose.

Besides Riggs, two other former Wimbledon champions were beaten, Sidney B. Wood Jr., losing to Hunt, 7-5, 7-5, and Jack Crawford falling before Grant, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Parker beat Francis X. Shields, former Davis cup player, 6-2, 6-2, while Sabin eliminated Ladislav Hecht, erstwhile Czecho-Slovakian internationalist, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3. Doeg scored a 7-5, 6-4 victory over Martin Buxby of Miami, Fla.

While Miss Wolfenden was losing 6-1, 2-6, 8-6, to Helen Bernhard of New York, three other favorites moved into the semi-final bracket. Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., turned back Marilynn McRae of Little Rock, Ark., 6-2, 6-0; Dorothy Workman of Los Angeles won, 6-4, 6-4, over the Texan, Eunice Dean, and Patricia Canning, Alameda, Cal., scored, 6-2, 6-3, over Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France.

GIANTS PLAY CLINTON.

Clinton, Ia., July 26 [Special].—The New York Giants will play an exhibition game with the Clinton Three-Eye league club here Monday. Blondy Ryan, former New York player, is manager of the local club.

In the Wake of the News

Let the Hurricane Roar!

Gay young men dashing about,
Hither and yon with their shirt tails out,
In colors that make of Joseph's coat

Shirts with pictures of cocktail glasses,
Shirts with pictures of Mount Parnassus—
Across his chest are Tara's Halls,
While down his back pours Niagara Falls.

Giggling girls in suits without backs—

Let Europe brood 'neath the thunder's roar,

Only 70? Let's get out and walk—
Across the seas the skies may be gray,
—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

Real Friend.

It's very plain to see
That as I go merrily on my way
—Anne Jesty Rogers.

Wishing.

I wish that I could be once more
A boy, in wait upon the shore,
That I might sail again the sea

A barefoot boy with bandaged toes
Whose heart the whole day long would sing;
Who'd eat you out of house and home
And be content to slowly roam
About the countryside at will,
Or climb the highest tree, until
His inner self for food did yearn,
Then—only then—would he return.

A bare-head boy like one you'll find
On playground or some vacant lot
Or in the woods, when it's too hot
To ride his bike or even swim—
Where it is cool, there you'll find him
Just lying on the soft damp sod
As through the trees he looks to God,
And utters thanks to him above
That he's a boy and has his love.
—Em Aitch Dee.

Sawyier Upset in Western Tennis Meet

Delafield, Wis., July 26 (AP).—Five ranking players were eliminated from the junior division as play in the Western open junior and boys' tennis tournament advanced to the semi-final round today.

Emery Neale of Portland, Ore., furnished two surprises by defeating Calvin Sawyier of Chicago, No. 2 in the draw, 6-2, 6-4, and Allen McDonald of Wichita, Kas., ranked fifth, 7-5, 6-4.

William Vogt of Philadelphia defeated Frank Mehner of Salt Lake City, Utah, seeded No. 3, by 6-3, 6-4; Richard Hart of Miami, Fla., outlasted seventh seeded James Evert of Chicago, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, and John Jorgensen of Chicago scored a 6-3, 6-1 victory over Glenn Hewitt, eighth seeded entrant from Houston, Tex.

Two Californians Win.

The victors then lost in quarter final matches. Vogt lost to sixth seeded Arthur Marx of Beverly Hills, Cal., 6-0, 6-2; Hart was beaten by Earl Bartlett Jr. of New Orleans, top ranked junior, 6-2, 6-0, and Jorgensen was defeated by Fred Schroeder of Glendale, Cal., seeded No. 4, by 7-5, 6-4.

Budge Patty Jr. of Los Angeles paced the boys' division into the semi-finals with a third round 6-1, 6-3 victory over Richard Randall of Chicago, and a 6-1, 6-0 quarter-final victory over George Parks of Muscatine, Ia.

Migdow Eliminated.

In other quarter-final matches Harry Likas of San Francisco, second ranked, eliminated Benny Migdow of Chicago, seeded seventh, 6-1, 6-4; E. Blair Hawley of New York, seeded No. 3, defeated Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Cal., seeded No. 6, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2, and Teddy Myers of San Francisco won over Tom Falkenburg of Hollywood, 6-3, 6-4. SPRINGER LOSES PUBLIC LINKS 2D ROUND CONTEST

Three of the four co-medalists were eliminated. Luke Barnes of Atlanta, Ga., lost to Ted Gwin of Tulsa, Okla., 3 and 2, and Jack Taulman of Columbus, Ind., was beaten, 2 and 1, in the first round by Louis Cyr of Vancouver, Wash., 1938 runner-up.

Art Armstrong of Honolulu and Jerry Bert of Seattle, Wash., who tied Barnes and Taulman for medalist honors with 144, both won this morning, but Bert lost this afternoon.

Robt. Burns
This Glamour Cigar 10¢

● Cast your eye over this patrician cigar. It is the Corona of the Robt. Burns line. It has the look of a club special, and the draw and taste of a cigar designed for connoisseurs. The classical Corona shape is the symbol of glamorous smoking, the cigar of ease and luxury.

Don't try to guess its price. You'll place it too high. The price is only a dime. But it's better than its price because it was made to be superior to its class.

Smokers who love a positive flavor—men who think they must have only Havana cigars—recognize this newcomer to the ten-cent field as their kind of luxury. One sitting with it, and you discover the glamour ten-cent cigar.

Here's 411,000 miles of proof that YOU'D DO BETTER WITH FORD V-8 TRUCKS!
NO. 7

LIKE many truck operators, S. H. Bacon assumed that a heavy hauling job called for a heavy truck. Today, he knows better! His own experience proves that a light, fast Ford V-8 truck can and will haul more materials in a day than a larger, slower truck—and at the same time keep operating costs at rock-bottom.

During the four years this truck was in service, it was driven 411,000 miles and hauled more than 100,000 tons of sand and gravel. Its operating costs, Mr. Bacon believes, were lower than that of any other equipment he could have selected.

Why not measure a Ford V-8 truck against your hauling needs? An "on-the-job" test will show you its advantages of speed, stamina, flexibility, economy. With three engine sizes—60 h.p., 85 h.p., and the new 95 h.p. V-8 engine—in six wheelbases and a wide variety of body types, Ford trucks meet more than 95% of America's hauling requirements. See your Ford dealer today!

411,000 miles ago, S. H. Bacon bought this Ford V-8 truck as a test replacement for heavy units he had been using to haul sand and gravel. Today, he operates a fleet of 12 Ford V-8 trucks. And his original truck is on display at the San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition as an example of Ford V-8 stamina!

New! 3/4-TON FORD V-8 TRUCK!

Weekend Advice!

Swimming and summer sun dry up your scalp's natural oils, make hair dull and brittle. This can't happen if you "dry-proof" your hair with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic. Get a bottle today.

1ST STEP TO HANDSOME HAIR .. CHECK DRY SCALP

STOP worrying about that falling dandruff and annoying itchy scalp. Concentrate on relieving Dry Scalp the easy 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic way. This different Tonic actually supplements the natural scalp oils, protects against Dry Scalp. A few drops on the hair EVERY MORNING will keep it good-looking. EVERY WEEK, before shampooing, a generous massage with 'Vaseline' Hair Tonic will help prevent Dry Scalp.

CLOCKERS BLINK AS ROMAN FLAG RUNS FAST TRIAL

Arlington Sees Futurity Favorite in Action.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago race fans have been hearing quite a bit about this good eastern colt, Roman Flag, which won the most important juvenile event at Suffolk Downs and is now preparing for next Saturday's $50,000 Futurity at Arlington Park. They've seen his picture in the papers and they've read about him, but still they haven't been particularly impressed.

But now Roman Flag has jarred Arlington Park horsemen into the realization that he's a mighty fast colt. He put this idea over yesterday morning with a workout that made the clockers look twice at their watches to make sure everything was all right.

Runs Half in :45 2-5.

Breaking from the three-quarter pole near the head of the back stretch, he went the first quarter in :22 3-5. Swinging into the turn he was at the three furlongs in :33 3-5 and at the half in :45 2-5, which was four-fifths of a second faster than the world record and only a fifth slower than the time Johnstown made in his last sensational workout before his downfall in the Classic.

Roman Flag continued in fine stride after straightening out in the stretch and reached the five furlongs in :58 3-5. Then Trainer Max Hirsch decided to put a check on this sort of speed and signaled for the exercise boy to ease him through the last eighth. So the free striding colt came up to the finish line well in hand to complete the full Futurity distance of six furlongs in 1:12.

Roman Flag, owned by Arnold Hanger, came in to particular prominence during the last month by victories over two classy fields. His biggest triumph was scored in the Mayflower stakes, the most important juvenile event of the Massachusetts season.

Favorite for Saturday.

Roman Flag will go to the post Saturday coupled as an entry with Mrs. Parker Corning's Straight Lead. This pair will probably be the favorite, with E. R. Bradley's Bimelech and Mrs. Charles S. Sheldon's Boy Angler as second choices.

The performance of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Tough Hombre in winning on Tuesday strengthened the western contingent of Futurity eligibles. John Keene of Lexington is expected to send at least one of his fast fillies, War Beauty or Jeanne D'Arc, into the race.

Mrs. John Hertz's Count D'Or, winner of the Stars and Stripes handicap, worked impressively between races yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Arlington handicap, which will be the secondary feature on Saturday's program.

C. W. Pershall's Royal Blue won the Diamond Lake purse, feature event on yesterday's program, getting up in the closing strides to beat F. E. Waldron's Good Actor by a neck.

MRS. MOORE IS 3 AND 2 WINNER IN WOMEN'S GOLF

Sen. Connors, Hit by Batted Ball, Sues Cubs for $10,000

State Senator William J. Connors yesterday brought suit for $10,000 damages in Circuit court against the Chicago National league baseball club for injuries he received July 2 when he was struck by a batted ball in Wrigley field. The complaint charges the baseball club with negligence in failing to provide protection for spectators.

riding on three aces here—Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin, first; Elmer Layden of Notre Dame, second, and Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, third. They were pretty hot when they formed three-fourths of Notre Dame's Four Horseman backfield, and they all have compiled great coaching records.

"I am making a tour of upstate cities in the interest of the campaign. If Stuhldreher doesn't win the poll this year, it won't be for want of willing effort. The state is behind him 100 per cent."

This from Robert Woodworth, sports publicity director at Purdue: "The 'Boost Hoosier Football' campaign, with Mal Elward as the Big Ten representative and Elmer Layden as midwest delegate is going like wildfire under the sponsorship of the Lafayette Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is expected to be backed by twenty-eight similar groups throughout the state. The campaign has been indorsed by Wallace Howe of Vincennes, state president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

'P' Club Joins Drive.

"The Lafayette slate consists of Elward for first place, Layden for second and Pete Vaughan of Wabash for third. Outside the local district no effort has been made to push any individual as first choice, the theme being 'Boost Hoosier Football.' Two thousand letters have been sent to Purdue letter men, scattered all over the country, by Dick Johnson, president of the 'P' men's club, requesting coöperation in the drive for Elward and Layden. E. B. Baugh, executive alumni secretary of the Purdue Alumni association, has sent similar letters to all Purdue alumni clubs and class secretaries. Nearly all newspapers and radio stations in the state are supporting Hoosier candidates."

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat yesterday tossed out 4,500 votes which had been turned in for a downstate Illinois coach. In conformity with the policy of the enterprise, Sports Editor Maurice Shevlin refused to count the block when several were found fraudulent. Most of them came from Pekin, Ill.

FRANKIE COVELLI BEATS BROWN IN WHITE CITY BOUT

Frankie [Kid] Covelli, Brooklyn featherweight, was awarded a split decision over Johnny Brown of the Catholic Youth organization in a ten round contest in White City last night.

Referee Davey Miller voted 51-49, and Judge Harold Marovitz 53-47 for Covelli, but the other judge, George Kenny, scored for Brown, 54-46.

Other results:

ALDERMEN CLOSE GARBAGE DUMPS; COSTS WILL RISE

City Must Pay More to Ship Refuse Away.

Changes in the city's refuse disposal system recommended yesterday by the city council finance committee will boost the 1939 deficit for street cleaning and garbage collection to approximately $696,000, a survey disclosed last evening.

The aldermen ordered that two dumps on the northwest side be abandoned; prepared to abandon two others within a few weeks, and voted to establish three railroad car loading platforms to serve that section of the city. The new loading platforms, from which garbage will be shipped out of the city, are at Wilson and Cicero avenues, Damen and Rascher avenues, and Wellington avenue and Paulina street.

Property Owners Object.

Dumps which were closed are at Touhy and Central Park avenues, Niles Center, and Montrose avenue and the Chicago river. Those which will be closed later are at Narraganset and Grand avenues and at 19th street and Wolcott avenue.

This action was taken, despite the shortage of funds, because property owners object to noxious odors and vermin that infest open refuse pits. Contractors for the loading platforms, it was learned, are asking the city to pay 34 cents per cubic yard for disposing of the garbage, compared with the average cost of 23.8 cents for dumping in the abandoned pits.

Costs $39,950 More.

It is estimated that the total additional cost to the city will be $39,950 for the rest of the year. This amount will be added to the $656,000 deficit in the refuse account, which has been piling up since Jan. 1. The deficit results, it was explained, from expenses which were not anticipated when the budget was passed.

The money shortage has hampered city officials in trying to find a satisfactory method for garbage disposal. Use of the pits was an economy measure, according to Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works. The committee suggested that Chicago should have incinerators, and authorized Hewitt to make a study of the problem.

Slower Service Expected.

Garbage incineration, however, costs 55 cents per yard. From 1928 until 1934, the city operated an incinerator on Goose Island, but it was abandoned because it was too expensive. A garbage reduction plant at 39th and Iron streets met a similar fate several years ago because it was more expensive than the incinerator.

Hewitt told the aldermen that closing the dumps will slow up collection service from 20 to 40 per cent because of the longer hauls for the trucks. More garbage will be left in the alleys every day, he warned, further retarding the service.

Circuit Judge Walter LaBuy yesterday continued until Aug. 28 a property owners' petition that city officials be held in contempt of court for alleged violation of an injunction prohibiting the dumping of untreated garbage in the Narraganset dump.

VOTE TO INDICT 7 IN PRIMARY ELECTION PLOT

Eugene Bernstein.

Five election officials of the 33d precinct of the 24th ward, the Democratic precinct captain, and his assistant yesterday were reported named by the grand jury in conspiracy true bills. They are accused of erasing, altering, and tampering with ninety-three ballots in the April, 1938, primary.

The precinct captain is Attorney Eugene Bernstein, said to live at the Croydon hotel, 616 Rush street, while maintaining a residence in the ward. His assistant is Jerome Greenberg, former cashier in the Criminal court clerk's office, and now assistant to Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools.

The election officials are Mrs. Rose Fishman, 1518 South Lawndale avenue, and Eugene Steiner, 1851 South Harding avenue, Republican judges; Paul Lidovsky, now of 6136 Northwest highway, Democratic judge; Estelle Litwin, 1522 South Lawndale avenue, Republican clerk, and Albert Brooks, 3738 15th street, Democratic clerk.

P. C. MELLANDER FUNERAL SERVICE TO BE TOMORROW

Funeral services for Paul C. Mellander, president of the State Bank of St. Charles, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the St. Charles community center. Mr. Mellander died of a heart attack Tuesday. He was born in South Bend, Ind., in 1887. He was a member of the St. Charles Chamber of Commerce and was active in Boy Scout work and other civic affairs. He also had been associated with the St. Charles National bank and several banks in Chicago. He left St. Charles in 1918 and returned in 1931. He is survived by his widow, Lydia; a daughter, Mrs. Lois Alcott, and a son, Robert.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Emma C. Mann.

Funeral services for Mrs. Emma Columbia Mann, widow of Representative James R. Mann of Chicago, will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel at Oak Woods cemetery, 1035 East 67th street. Mrs. Mann, who was 82 years old, died Tuesday in her summer home at Stockbridge, Mass. Mrs. Mann had made her home in Washington, D. C., since the death of her husband in 1922. Congressman Mann, a Republican leader, was a member of the house of representatives for more than twenty-five years. Mrs. Mann's brother, Dr. Thomas B. Columbia of Port Washington, N. Y., and a nephew, Dr. Arthur Pearman, Rockford, survive.

William Helfand.

Funeral arrangements were being made yesterday for Attorney William Helfand, 55 years old, father-in-law of Arch Oboler, radio writer. Mr. Helfand, who specialized in bankruptcy cases, died suddenly Monday night in his rooms in the Hamilton club. He had been a resident of Chicago for twenty-seven years, coming here from New York City. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. E. J. Henry, Chicago; Mrs. Oboler, New York, and Miss Bernice Helfand, Chicago.

Col. Joel E. Spingarn.

New York, July 26 (AP).—Col. Joel E. Spingarn, 64 years old, white president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, died today. A former professor of comparative literature at Columbia university, he was a one-time candidate for congress, poet, literary critic and executive of a publishing house.

Reginald Prescott Walden.

Rye, N. Y., July 26 (AP).—Reginald Prescott Walden, 71 years old, vice president and a director of the Corn Products Refining company and a descendant of Jacob Walden, who fought under John Paul Jones on the Ranger, died today. Walden served as a gun captain on the Yankee during the Spanish-American war.

James Austin Murray.

James Austin Murray, 76 years old, a printer for thirty-nine years, died yesterday in his home at 3756 Ellis avenue. He was born in Cleveland, O., and came to Chicago fifty-three years ago. After working for THE TRIBUNE and Rand McNally & Co., Mr. Murray started his own shop in 1905 and managed it for twenty-five years. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. N. V. Hartshorn and Mrs. D. J. Massey, and a son, Austin C. Murray. Funeral services will be held at 8:30 a. m. Saturday from the chapel at 4141 Cottage Grove avenue to Holy Angels church. Burial will be in Aurora.

Alfred E. Hayward.

New York, July 26 (AP).—Alfred E. Hayward, 54 years old, painter, cartoonist and humorist, died yesterday. He created the comic strip "Somebody's Stenog." His water color painting "Aqueduct of St. Jeannet" attracted world wide attention and his paintings of Pennsylvania mountain streams won many prizes. In 1924 he organized art week in Philadelphia to interest the man on the street in art. Hayward was the son of the late Alfred Joseph Hayward, famous English painter. His widow, Stella, and daughter, Joyce, an actress, survive.

Ross M. G. Phillips.

New Haven, Conn., July 26 [Special].—Ross M. G. Phillips, an inventor, whose air cooled engine, regarded by many scientists as historically the first in the world, was adopted by the Franklin Motors company, died last night. He was a descendant of Gov. Wolcott, a colonial ruler of Connecticut, of Oliver Wolcott, signer of the Independence declaration, and of Matthew Griswold, a Connecticut founding father. He was born in Iowa, but went into the automobile industry in California early in life.

John Joseph Gilbert.

New York, July 26 [Special.]—John Joseph Gilbert, 67 years old, vice president and director of the International Standard Electric corporation and export manager for the International Telephone & Telegraph corporation, died at his home in Brooklyn today. He entered the employ of the Western Electric company as a stenographer in 1890, and at one time served as secretary to the late Harry B. Thayer, who became president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Nathaniel Alexander.

Nathaniel Alexander, 69 years old, a retired street car motorman, died yesterday in the Holy Cross hospital after a long illness. His home was at 8000 Calumet avenue. Surviving are the widow, Agnes; two sons, and a daughter. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday from the home to the Drexel Park Presbyterian church, 64th street and Marshfield avenue. Burial will be in Cedar Park cemetery.

INVENTORY SETS D'ORSAY PALMER ESTATE AT $7,100

Sarasota, Fla., July 26 (AP).—An inventory appraising the estate of the late Potter D'Orsay Palmer at $7,100 was filed here today. The appraisal, signed by Franklin Redd Jr., and Glover Ashby, Sarasota attorney, listed the largest item as "books, $2,500." The estate included only personal effects, linen and household goods, a collection of rifles, shot guns and automatic pistols, and an automobile valued at $600.

A note attached to the inventory said the "appraisers are unable to locate a deed" to a small farm occupied by young Palmer and believed to be his. The appraisers also said they understood Palmer was the beneficiary under the will of his grandfather and grandmother, but the extent at this time is unknown.

The appraisal also was signed by Pluma Louise Palmer, fourth wife of the young heir, who is seeking a share in the estate of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer, her husband's grandmother.

IOWA JUDGE WHO DEFIED LYNCHING THREATS IS DEAD

Le Mars, Ia., July 26 (AP).—Charles C. Bradley, 59 years old, retired District court judge who received national attention when he was manhandled by a group of men in connection with a mortgage foreclosure controversy in 1933, died today following a long illness.

In the 1933 uprising Judge Bradley was dragged from his bench in the courthouse, blindfolded, and taken to a rural crossroad, where a rope was placed around his neck. The men demanded that the judge swear he would order no mortgage foreclosures, but the jurist defied the group, which finally left him after throwing dirt in his face and removing his trousers. The National Guard was called to Le Mars as a result of the episode.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acid waste in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be over-worked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of poisonous waste.

When functional kidney disorder permits poisonous matter to remain in the blood, you won't feel well. This may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. If you have trouble with frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning, there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Does Your Breath Shout 'FALSE TEETH'?

Stera-Kleen Prevents False Teeth Odor—Cleans Without Brushing

"False teeth odor" is the curse of denture wearers. Ordinary brushing or antiseptics often will not remove scum and food particles that collect on your plate or bridge. This uncleanliness gives off the most offensive of breath odors—you do not know if you have it—but others do.

Prevent this odor by using STERA-KLEEN and make sure of absolute cleanliness. STERA-KLEEN dissolves scum and food particles from the tiny crevices of your plate that brushing does not reach. It is safe—economical—easy to use.

Stir a little STERA-KLEEN in water, put in your plate or bridge for a few minutes. Rinse, and it is ready for use without brushing. Daily use prevents "false teeth odor." Get STERA-KLEEN today. Only 30¢ a package at any drug store.

CLOSED BANKS' LIQUIDATION IS MOVING FASTER

Receipts, Disbursements Are Increased.

BY HAROLD SMITH.

Increased activity in the liquidation of closed state banks in Cook county during the second 1939 quarter was shown in a report made public yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett.

Both receipts and disbursements increased decidedly compared with the preceding quarter and the second quarter of 1938, the report disclosed. The increases were attributed largely to the fact that the remaining assets of 13 of the 135 banks still in receivership were sold at public auction recently, thus realizing new funds to be divided among creditors.

Some Certain Creditors Fare Best.

Preferred and secured creditors fared best as a result of the larger collections. They received $309,752 during the period. In the first quarter only $16,664 was paid by 137 banks and in the corresponding quarter last year $134,967 was paid by 139 banks. Four banks were taken from receivership during the last year, two of them in the latest quarter.

Receipts of the 135 banks during the three months ended last June 30 totaled $3,297,115, the report disclosed. Of this, $1,563,651 came from inventory collections, interest, and stock assessments; $1,276 was obtained from the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and the rest represented refunds from advances to protect assets and facilitate liquidation.

Disbursements totaled $2,965,328, or $331,787 less than was taken in. Ten of the 135 banks paid $568,390 to depositors. The RFC was repaid $255,035 of the funds it lent the banks to speed liquidation. A total of $70,473 was paid on bills incurred prior to closing.

Expenses of liquidation remained at a fairly even level as compared with recent quarters. These expenses totaled $281,759. The largest share, $115,261, went for salaries of deputy receivers, clerks, and stenographers. Lawyers got a total of $52,776. Interest on RFC loans and other debts came to $41,355. The receivers were paid $5,993, and $66,372 went for miscellaneous expenses.

Public Service of Indiana Refunding Plan Ratified

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26 [Special].—Stockholders of the Public Service company of Indiana today ratified plans for refunding of the company's entire outstanding funded debt. The company will issue $38,000,000 of 3¾ per cent mortgage bonds and $10,000,000 of serial notes if the financing is approved by the state public service commission.

COTTON

Aggressive buying of cotton futures yesterday lifted prices in American markets nearly $1 a bale at one time, with October at a new seasonal high. Spot interests, mills, and commission houses bought freely following reports of a material improvement in the export demand and relatively unfavorable weather reports. Profit taking caused a reaction from the top with the close at gains of .06 to .13 cent a pound.

Spot cotton closed .04 to .07 cent higher, with New York 9.75 cents, New Orleans 9.45 cents, Houston 9.20 cents, and Galveston at 9.19 cents a pound. Prices follow:

Planning Farm Work.

July 26, 1939.

THE small grain harvest at the farm is giving workers an opportunity to compare labor requirements for different methods of harvesting and to complete some of their studies on the amount of labor needed for different crops. The men have concluded from these studies that farming is not necessarily hard work, that it is mostly a matter of planning the work so that little or no time will be lost between jobs.

They are of the opinion that a farmer's labor problem is mostly a matter of planning his work and his crops so as to make productive use of his time as many days as possible during the year. They think it is mainly a question of how many days of work a year a farmer can get in on his farm. Modern equipment has greatly lessened the time required to do most kinds of farm work.

A Study in Wheat.

Twelve acres of wheat harvested last week with a combine furnished seven hours of work for three men. It took two men to operate the combine and one to haul the wheat to the granary. Many combines now in use in this region are operated with only one man.

The manager examined his records to see how much time was spent putting in the twelve acres of wheat last fall. He found that it had taken one man twenty-three hours to plow the ground, disc it, harrow it, and drill the wheat. This made a total of forty-four hours of work on the twelve acres. These figures include only the time actually spent in the field. Some additional time was required in servicing the machinery, especially the combine, before it was taken to the field.

The wheat required no work from the time it was planted last September until it was harvested. Had the farm grown nothing but wheat, there would have been no field work to do from seeding time last fall until the crop was ready for harvest.

It took relatively longer to harvest twenty-three acres of rye because the rye was cut with a binder, shocked, and then threshed later in the combine. A total of 140 hours of work were required to harvest and thresh the twenty-three acres. Sowing the rye last fall required about the same amount of work per acre as sowing the wheat.

Corn Takes More Time.

Corn requires considerably more work than small grains because of the cultivation that is necessary. The work is distributed over a longer period. Preparation of land for planting corn was begun in April. The corn furnished work a good part of the time from then until the crop was given its last cultivation early in July. The next work on corn will be at silo filling time. Then will come corn picking, in late October and November.

The hay harvest was finished last week. Relatively little time is required for seeding hay crops. Most of the work comes at harvest time during the summer.

In growing and harvesting any crop, most of the work comes at certain seasons and must be done then or not at all. This tends to limit the time that can be spent on any given crop. Feeding crops to live stock during the winter helps to furnish work for what would otherwise be slack periods.

Tobey, Dealer in Furniture, Buys Scholle

Two of Chicago's oldest retail furniture companies were merged yesterday. The 83 year old Tobey Furniture company acquired the leasehold interest, inventory, and fixtures of the 64 year old Scholle Furniture company.

The Tobey Furniture company will move to 121 South Wabash avenue, the present site of the Scholle Furniture company. The Tobey company now occupies most of the six floors of a building at 200 North Michigan avenue.

At Present Site Since 1926.

Charles H. Scholle, president of the Scholle Furniture company for thirty years, announced that he is retiring from the company founded by his uncle, H. E. Scholle, in 1875. He will be 71 years old on Aug. 24.

The Tobey company was represented in the negotiations by the third generation of the family which still controls it. Arthur Shiverick, president, and Jonathan Tobey Morley, treasurer, are grandnephews of Charles and Frank B. Tobey, who started the business on State street near Van Buren street in 1856.

Will Expand Operations.

Shiverick said yesterday operations will be expanded when the merged companies become settled on South Wabash avenue. Negotiations for increased warehouse facilities are under way, he said.

"We are going to use the entire seven story building on Wabash avenue for selling and office operations," Shiverick said.

"We have made this move because the loop rental situation is favorable and we felt that we belonged back on furniture row. From this centralized location we hope to expand our business beyond that of the two separate companies."

Scholle Lease Assumed.

The Tobey Furniture company assumed the lease held by Scholle's from the Hill estate. The estate modified some of the terms contained in the original lease, which would expire in 2011. Terms of the transaction were not revealed. Paul Steinbrecher & Co. acted as the broker for the estate and the two furniture companies.

Removal of the Tobey company from 200 North Michigan avenue will be completed by Sept. 1, officials said. The Commerce Clearing House, Inc., has rented 100,000 square feet in that building from the Stanley McCormick estate.

LOCKHEED PLANE SHIPMENTS SET NEW HIGH MARK

New York, July 26 [Special].—Robert E. Gross, president of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation, California airplane builder, today estimated the company's deliveries for the first six months of 1939 at $12,500,000. This, he said, established a new record, topping the previous peak of $5,111,699 reported for the first half of 1938. In all of last year deliveries totaled $10,274,503.

The majority of the shipments were made to the British air ministry on an order for bombing planes.

Shipments during May and June averaged in excess of $3,000,000 a month and current production of thirty to forty airplanes a month will be continued throughout 1939 on the basis of orders already booked, he said. To fill the British order the company increased its plant personnel from 2,500 to 7,000 workers.

AM. AIRLINES EARNS $496,098 IN SIX MONTHS

American Airlines, Inc., yesterday reported net income of $496,098 in the six months ended June 30. This did not allow for federal income taxes estimated at $93,000. The company had net loss of $151,234 in the corresponding period of 1938.

C. R. Smith, president, said the line transported 213,594 revenue passengers during the period, a gain of 50.4 per cent over the 141,998 carried in the first six months of last year. Revenue passenger miles flown totaled 83,834,400, a 42.6 per cent gain. Passenger revenues of $4,338,675 gained 39.3 per cent.

Mail revenue totaled $1,760,667, against $1,616,105 a year ago. Express revenue amounted to $189,340, against $137,060.

DPMA Renews Butter Buying to Peg Prices

Another governmental attempt to prop the butter market was launched yesterday when Secretary of Agriculture Wallace directed the Dairy Products Marketing association, Chicago coöperative, to buy butter on the mercantile exchanges. The DPMA is financed with federal funds.

Acting on the order, the DPMA bought more than 30,000 pounds in the open market, including about 3,150 pounds on the Chicago Mercantile exchange and 28,000 pounds at New York.

Chicago prices on 90 score rose ¼ cent a pound on the "peg" buying. The gain in New York was ½ cent a pound. November butter futures on the Chicago market responded with a rise of ⅜ cent a pound at 24⅜ cents.

Move Surprises Traders.

The new DPMA purchases came as something of a surprise to members of the butter trade. Some Chicago traders said they had been given to understand no federal market action would take place until after tomorrow's conference in Washington between Agricultural Adjustment administration officials and representatives of the mercantile exchanges of New York and Chicago. The exchanges were invited to send representatives to discuss the butter buying program.

The buying was the first authorized under the recently announced loan program for the 1939-'40 butter storage season. This gave the DPMA a Commodity Credit corporation loan of 6 million dollars for the purchase and storage of a maximum of 25 million pounds of butter.

Last year the DPMA bought 114,137,000 pounds of butter, of which all except 18 million pounds was bought by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation for relief distribution.

Program Encounters Obstacle.

The government had intended to continue its price prop of the market throughout the year, but the DPMA had accumulated supplies faster than the FSCC could feed the butter to relief clients through the state agencies.

Prices dropped as soon as the prop was unexpectedly pulled from the market last March, when DPMA funds ran out. The FSCC then directed all of its purchases to the DPMA. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1939, the FSCC had bought about 122 million pounds of surplus butter at a cost of about 34½ million dollars, including handling charges, or about 28.2 cents a pound. The market price for 92 score butter at Chicago last year averaged 25.3 cents a pound. Since May of this year, the beginning of the new storage season, the price has dropped to an average of 23.2 cents a pound.

Present Policy Outlined.

Under the new DPMA program the department of agriculture announced that "purchases will be made from time to time in quantities and at prices warranted by conditions." It said that although initial purchases will be made on the mercantile exchanges, arrangements are being considered for the buying of carlots of butter in storage on the basis of warehouse receipts.

All butter bought by the DPMA under the government loan program is to be held in storage.

Building of 50 Test Tank Cars Authorized by I. C. C.

Washington, D. C., July 26 [Special].—The Interstate Commerce commission today granted an application of the Association of American Railroads to authorize the General American Transportation corporation to construct fifty additional test tank cars fabricated by fusion welding instead of the customary riveting for transportation of caustic soda solution.

NORTH SHORE IS HELD SUBJECT TO RAIL ACTS; I. C. C. REVERSES RULING

Washington, D. C., July 26 [Special].—The interstate commerce commission today reversed a previous ruling that the Chicago, North Shore, and Milwaukee railroad is an interurban or suburban electric railroad not subject to the railway labor act. The commission found that the North Shore is subject not only to the railway labor act, but to the railroad retirement act and the carriers taxing act of 1937 as well.

The commission said the road received more revenues from freight operations than any of eleven other electric lines whose status had been determined previously under the labor act. Because the road's freight trafic is the most profitable part of its business, the line is a commercial railroad rather than an interurban line, the commission ruled.

COLE IS NAMED ASSISTANT TO HUB PRESIDENT

Willard W. Cole Jr.

Willard W. Cole Jr. yesterday was appointed assistant to the president of the Hub, loop clothing store. The position has been newly created. Cole will take over his new duties Aug. 1. Henry C. Lytton, the survivor of fourteen pioneer merchants on State street, is the president and founder of the store.

For the last six months Cole has been buyer of men's and boys' clothing for the Hub basement store. He formerly was manager of the Hub store in Oak Park, where he was president of the Oak Park Retail Credit bureau, a director of the Oak Park Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of business activities of the community welfare fund.

Leo J. Beck, assistant to Cole, was named buyer of men's and boys' clothing for the basement store.

STANDARD (IND.) OFFERS TO BUY NEBRASKA FIRM

Negotiations are in progress for the purchase of Standard Oil company [Nebraska], a marketing organization operating exclusively in Nebraska, by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, it became known yesterday. Directors of the Nebraska company have called a special stockholders' meeting to consider an offer made by Standard of Indiana.

H. W. Pierpont, president of Standard of Nebraska, said the Indiana company had offered to buy for cash all the assets of his company at a price that would yield stockholders $17.50 a capital share. On the basis of about 166,000 capital shares outstanding this would indicate a price of approximately $2,900,000.

Pierpont said stockholders will meet Aug. 29 to consider the offer.

Assets of the Nebraska company as of Dec. 31, 1938, amounted to $4,909,989. In only one of the last seven years has it reported a profit.

Railway Equipment Sales Abroad Below Year Ago

Washington, D. C., July 26 [Special].—Exports of railway equipment from the United States during the first six months of this year totaled $3,809,744, the transportation division of the department of commerce announced today. This was a decrease of $4,689,327 from 1938. Exports in June totaled $860,468, compared with $614,453 in May.

STEEL OUTPUT POINTS TOWARD TWO YEAR PEAK

Reports from trade sources and Iron Age's prediction of higher operating schedules yesterday indicated that steel production may soon reach the highest level in nearly two years. This week's rate of 60.6 per cent of plant capacity was attained sooner than expected, Iron Age said, and gives promise of still higher schedules when 1940 automobile model buying attains larger proportions.

This week's operating rate may reach 62 per cent of capacity, steel circles reported. Barring a change in the general outlook, they said, production will probably soon exceed last November's 63 per cent rate, bringing it to the peak level since the week beginning Oct. 11, 1937. At that time output was at 63.6 per cent.

The Iron Age steel scrap composite price moved up 9 cents to $15.13 a ton, mostly because of a stronger Chicago market.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

F. Lynden Smith to administer truck law.

Springfield, Ill., July 26.—Trucking operations within Illinois today were freed of regulations which had accumulated in years of mushroom growth of highway transportation. Gov. Henry Horner signed a series of bills repealing this entanglement of red tape and enacting a new set of rules based almost entirely on safety requirements.

The legislation is based on recognition that the transportation of freight on the highways is a competitive business. The truck sections of the public utility act of 1921, which were repealed by the acts signed today, were based on an assumption that for hire motor carriers constituted a monopoly requiring bureau supervision for public protection.

First Permit Issued in 1921.

As experience exposed fallacies in this assumption more rules were established, more commission orders were issued, and even court decisions were obtained in efforts to substantiate the monopoly theory. This has been the trend since the Illinois commerce commission issued its first certificate of convenience and necessity to a truck line in February of 1921.

The trucking industry, now an important branch of the state's transportation system, has grown notwithstanding the restrictions. This is reflected in the number of trucks registered in Illinois. There were 64,997 in 1920 and 222,582 in 1938.

How Old System Operated.

Even much of this growth was in violation of the unworkable statutes. A few common carriers, those offering their service to the public, had permits and operated legally but with a disadvantage from inflexible commission control. More operated illegally, constantly under a threat of injunction from one of the occasional invocations of the law.

A further threat to the free and economic use of the roads for hauling followed the enactment by congress of the interstate motor carrier act of 1935. It then became a violation of a federal statute as well as a state statute for the independent owner of a single truck to make a short for hire haul within the state as part of an interstate shipment.

Certificates Now Easy to Get.

The new laws make it easy to obtain a certificate. Under the repealed regulations the Illinois commerce commission had granted exclusive privileges over prescribed routes to twenty-one trucking corporations, and by issuance of eight more certificates on pending applications would have assigned virtually all Illinois highways and many city streets to twenty-nine corporations for monopolistic common carrier service.

Drouth Threat Ends 7 Days' Drop in Grains

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yester.	Tuesday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$ .63⅛	$ .61⅝	$ .68
Corn	.39⅞	.38¼	.57½
Oats	.26⅝	.24⅝	.24⅛
Rye	.40⅝	.39¼	.48⅜
Soy beans	.66⅝	.66⅝	.83⅞

(Reports on rainfall in major crop areas during last week on page 31, column 3.)

Grain prices turned upward yesterday, ending seven consecutive days of decline. Short covering, induced by less favorable crop reports from the American and Canadian spring wheat areas and official admissions that drouth menaced the corn crop brought substantial price advances.

Wheat rose as much as 2¼ cents a bushel at one time on the Chicago Board of Trade, and closed 1¼ to 1¾ cents higher. Corn gained 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents. The December and May deliveries of corn sold at new seasonal low prices early. Oats gained 1⅝ to 1¾ cents and rye was 1 to 1½ higher.

Removal of Hedges Aids.

Removal of hedges against sales by southwestern mills of about 500,000 barrels of flour to the domestic trade in the last two days was said to have been a factor in helping along the rally in the wheat market. Kansas City futures gained 2 to 2¼ cents.

Unfavorable threshing reports were received from parts of the American northwest. Yields of spring wheat were said to be much below early expectations due to damage from hot and dry weather. Rapid crop deterioration was reported in parts of the Canadian northwest due to dry weather.

Farmers were being paid 46 to 47 cents a bushel for cash wheat yesterday at country elevators in the Wichita, Kas., territory. The government loan price in that area is about 64.7 cents a bushel.

Deterioration Is Factor.

Deterioration in the corn crop in the states west of the Missouri became a factor in the market yesterday. Many speculators who had expected much lower prices based on the prospect that Illinois and Iowa would harvest large crops turned to the buying side of futures.

A few scattered lots of American corn were reported to have been sold for export. The late price upturn was said to have put the domestic grain on a premium over Argentine corn.

FEDERAL LOANS FOR GROWERS OF RYE ANNOUNCED

Washington, D. C., July 26 (AP).—The department of agriculture today announced it will offer farmers loans on surplus rye at rates expected to average about 35 cents a bushel.

The loans will be available to producers in the eight major producing states — Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and Wyoming.

They will be made on farm stored rye produced this year grading No. 2 or better at a rate of 22 cents a bushel less than the applicable 1939 loan rate for No. 2 hard winter wheat at the same storage place. However, in no case will the rate exceed 38 cents a bushel.

The loan rate will vary, officials explained, because wheat loans are based upon terminal prices and adjusted for freight differentials.

EDISON'S JUNE QUARTER NET EARNINGS RISE

Reports Steady Gain in Revenues.

Net income of the Commonwealth Edison company increased to $5,404,528 in the quarter ended June 30, from $3,994,261 a year earlier, the company announced yesterday. Based on the increased number of shares of stock outstanding at the end of last month, 9,360,296, the earnings were equal to 59 cents a share. A year earlier, 7,823,319 shares were outstanding, and the earnings were equal to 51 cents a share.

Company officials, in issuing information supplemental to that contained in a printed report covering the six and twelve months ended with June, said the June quarter's profits were among the largest for any corresponding period in the company's history.

Reports Revenue Increases.

In his message to stockholders, James Simpson, chairman, disclosed that revenues on certain classes of electrical service have shown steady increases since rate reductions were effected. He attributed the increase in revenues, notwithstanding lower rates, to an improvement in general business activities and to intensified efforts to stimulate the use of power.

The company's net earnings for the first six months were $12,171,967, equal to $1.32 a share, against $9,487,422, or $1.22 a share, a year ago. For twelve months ended with June, net income amounted to $22,386,170, equal to $2.45 a share, compared with $17,857,905 or $2.39 a share in the preceding twelve months.

More Shares Outstanding.

There has been a substantial increase in the number of shares outstanding during the last year or more because of the issuance of additional stock to acquire integrated properties in the Chicago area and to provide for the conversion of debentures.

Between the end of June and July 14 additional stock was issued for the conversion of $16,000,000 of debentures which brought the number of outstanding shares to 10,003,524.

The company also issued a supplemental net income report to reflect adjustments occasioned by dividend accruals on preferred stock acquired, and changes in common shareholders' interests in subsidiaries. This showed adjusted net income of $12,374,879 for the six months, against $9,505,587 a year ago, and $22,973,911 for the twelve months, compared with $18,664,708 in the preceding period.

New Per Share Figures.

Based on the larger number of shares outstanding on July 14, net income for the six months was equivalent to $1.24 a share, and for the twelve months represented $2.30 a share.

Simpson told stockholders that sales of electricity in kilowatt hours totaled 3,172,047,313 in the six months period, an increase of 12.1 per cent over 1938. Gas sales in therms were 100,476,189, an upturn of 18 per cent.

All types of service except water yielded larger revenues. Total revenues for the six months were $72,683,483, against $69,768,048 a year ago, and for the twelve months were $142,460,619, against $140,080,289.

Interest charges for the six months were reduced to $8,575,620, from $9,466,257 a year earlier, and for the twelve months were cut to $17,715,965, from $19,095,907.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, July 26.—Many stocks closed irregularly higher today after displaying erratic tendencies in early trading. The list started on a strong basis, encountered resistance, hung steady for a time, then moved higher.

The fact that leading shares were able to record gains ranging from fractions to about a point while other issues lagged was held to indicate that "longs" had become selective in their buying. Trading was quiet in comparison with the recent more than a million share days. Only 891,810 shares moved.

Highlight of the session was the severe drubbing suffered by Interborough Rapid Transit common stock when it was learned that New York City has set a figure of $3 a share in its transit unification plan. The stock was heavily unloaded soon after the opening and slid quickly to 3¼, off more than 2 points from yesterday's final. It closed at 3¾, off 1¾.

Leading industrial shares had difficulty in finding their bearings, but turned higher in late dealings. United States Steel, Chrysler, Bethlehem, United States Rubber, and General Motors were leaders in their respective groups.

Volume honors went to Pathe Film, which rose 1⅜ points to 12¾, new 1939 peak. The recent buying in the stock was traced to a report that du Pont is considering another offer for the du Pont Film Manufacturing stock owned by Pathe. Other amusement shares ruled firm.

Power and light shares turned in the best group performance. Carrier shares were relatively quiet, with fractional bulges the rule.

Oils closed mixed in a narrow range. Most coppers edged fractionally higher. Electric equipment issues, notably General Electric and Westinghouse, worked higher. Farm implement shares eased. Loft continues active, rising ¼ point.

New York Bonds.

New York, July 26 (AP).—Expansion of buying in the final hour moved the bond market out of the doldrums today and carried prices generally higher. Transactions were light, totaling $5,836,550, face value, compared with yesterday's $7,352,200.

United States government issues were mostly strong, closing as much as 9-32 point higher. Several others slipped, one as much as 4-32 point.

Foreign government loans were mixed with Panama loans showing the most strength. The Republic's 5½s rose 2½ to 106 and the more active stamped 5s of '63 climbed ⅝ to 80¼.

Chicago Stocks.

Gains and losses were about evenly divided in trading on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, advanced ⅛ point to 30⅞, equaling the 1939 peak established Tuesday. Bastian-Blessing and Central and South West Utilities preferred also sold at their highest marks of 1939. Of the ninety-nine issues traded thirty-five advanced and thirty-eight declined. The others were unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

The bid price of Continental Illinois stock moved up 1 point to 80 in yesterday's Chicago bank stock market. First National was also bid 1 higher at 215. Northern Trust was bid 5 lower at 520, and City National 1 higher at 103. Other issues were unchanged. Prices follow:

Commodities

Higher prices were posted yesterday for a number of commodity futures traded at New York. Cottonseed oil futures rose 0.25 cent a pound at one time on reports the government may attempt to bolster the price of that staple.

Prices in recent sessions have slumped to the lowest levels in five years, partly the result of lower hog and lard prices. Closing prices yesterday were lower than the day's tops, but registered advances of 0.12 to 0.15 cent a pound over Tuesday's final.

DROUTH INJURES MOST CROPS IN MANY DISTRICTS

Corn Damage Is Severe in Some Areas.

Drouth is increasing in intensity over a large area outside of the main corn belt, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Dry weather complaints are being received from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Ohio, Illinois, eastern Colorado, and Missouri.

The corn crop has been severely damaged in parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and is deteriorating in the dry area in Nebraska and South Dakota, the review said. The crop made excellent progress in the territory outside of the dry belt. Most of the Iowa crop has passed through the critical pollination stage. Much grasshopper damage is reported in northwestern Iowa.

Situation in Illinois.

Lack of rain is reported in southern Illinois. Progress of corn in the state is good to excellent, except in dry areas. About 80 per cent of the winter wheat crop is threshed. Oats harvesting is nearing completion and the crop will be light.

Scattered showers fell in the Canadian northwest during the last week, but precipitation was generally too light to be of material benefit to the grain crops.

Rainfall for the week ended at 6:30 a. m. July 26 and from April 1 to July 26 as compiled by Sanford Evans, Winnipeg, and wired to J. S. Bache & Co., follows:

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Packers obtained concessions of mostly 25 cents in slaughter lambs, buying the top westerns at $9.10 and best natives at $9.00.

A heavy run of beef steers was on the market, and most of them sold 15 to 25 cents lower.

HITTING THE DOLLAR.

If President Roosevelt were to cut the value of the dollar again, what effect would this have on Homestake Mining?—H. F.

Answer: Dollar devaluation is a comparatively simple operation. The United States mint merely pays more for a given amount of gold than it had previously paid. When the dollar was devalued in 1934 the mint raised the price it was willing to pay for an ounce of gold from $20.67 to $35.

This reduced the amount of gold behind a single dollar. Previous to devaluation the weight of the gold dollar was 25 8/10 grains, 9/10 fine. After devaluation it was 15 5/21 grains, 9/10 fine. This meant a reduction in the weight to 59.06 per cent of the former weight—hence the term, "fifty-nine cent dollar."

There is some question as to whether the President still possesses devaluation powers. The President was originally given the right to set the weight for the gold dollar at between 50 and 60 per cent of its former weight. In terms of the gold price, this is between $34.45 and $41.34 an ounce. The President's devaluation powers expired June 30, 1939. Shortly thereafter congress approved legislation extending the power. Administration critics challenged legality of the action.

Assuming the renewal of power to be legal, the President retains the authority to raise the price of gold another $6.34 an ounce. Compared with the magnitude of the 1934 rise, the present possibilities of a change in the gold value of the dollar are limited.

Homestake Mining company is the largest gold producer in the United States. Assuming no change in operating costs or amount of production, a rise in the gold price would probably increase Homestake's income.

REPUDIATED.

I hold a Western Ural Railway 4½ per cent bond issued in 1912. Has it any value?—H. D.

No. This bond was issued in the old Tsarist régime of imperial Russia. After the Russian revolution the soviet government repudiated all loans of the old government.

Bills Signed by Horner; Monopoly Plan Dies.

Jurisdiction over the for hire haulers is removed from the Illinois commerce commission, which also regulates intrastate rail operations. It is placed in the department of public works—the same deparment, headed by F. Lynden Smith, which builds, maintains, and polices the highways.

Must Have Insurance.

Under the new laws all trucks, for hire or otherwise, must have public liability and property damage insurance or the owners must prove financial responsibility to pay damages. Every truck must pass a safety test twice a year. Drivers' working time is limited to twelve hours at the wheel and to fifteen hours on duty in any twenty-four hours.

As a measure against use of trucks in thefts [2 million dollars in live stock, poultry, and farm property was stolen from Illinois farms last year] every truck must bear the name and address of the owner. This is similar to a Chicago ordinance. Merchant truckers outside of cities—that is, the gypsy peddlers—must carry bills of sale covering their cargoes.

Common carriers are required to have cargo insurance and bonds covering collections made on C. O. D. shipments or they must prove financial responsibility.

Bills of Lading in Some Cases.

For hire carriers are required to use bills of lading except within cities or within contiguous cities. Contract carriers, those hauling for certain customers only, file affidavits to show their status rather than filing contracts which might divulge confidential relations between employer and employé.

The new laws were drafted by a joint legislative commission consisting of five senators and five representatives appointed two years ago. Half were Democrats and half Republicans. They held forty-two public hearings in the state, the first comprehensive study of the trucking industry in Illinois. The formal statement of their chairman, Senator Louis J. Menges [D., East St. Louis] last November indicated the chaotic conditions which they found had developed under bureau red tape.

Monopoly Danger Reported.

"The farmer, the merchant, and the coal dealer and all private operators of trucks as well as the for hire carriers are in grave danger of being ruled off the Illinois highways," said the statement, telling of the exclusive monopolies to common carriers that were forming a net over the state.

"Illinois courts have held that one of these monopolies is entitled to an injunction against any company or individual that competes with or injures its business.

"No similar certificate may be issued over the same route to a second company unless the holder of the original certificate first is given an opportunity to render any needed service.

"The basic principle of this 1921 public utilities law is one of regulated monopolies rather than unrestricted competition. No protection is given in this 1921 public utilities law for the merchant or farmer who operates trucks, if by doing so he competes with one of these certified truck companies which has been granted an exclusive monopoly."

TAX COLLECTORS TOLD TO WATCH DIVIDEND POLICY

Washington, D. C., July 26 (AP).—Federal tax collectors were instructed today to be on the lookout should any corporations try to take advantage of repeal of the undistributed profits tax by accumulating "unreasonable" proportions of their profits.

The administration agreed to repeal of the tax with the understanding that the treasury would enforce an old law assessing stiff penalties against corporations whose dividend payments are not considered sufficient. The penalty is 25 per cent on "unreasonable" accumulations up to $100,000, and 35 per cent on larger amounts.

Collectors were ordered to make special studies of returns by corporations which have not paid out at least 70 per cent of their profits in dividends.

Directors of R-K-O Meet for First Time in Years

New York, July 26 [Special].—The first meeting of the board of directors of Radio-Keith-Orpheum corporation in several years was held today. It was called by order of the federal court on petition by the Irving Trust company, trustee for the reorganized corporation. George J. Schaefer was elected president, and Richard C. Patterson Jr. chairman of the board. In addition, the board formally elected eleven of the thirteen members of the new board that will take over direction of the company upon consummation of its reorganization plan.

Save the Difference

You save nearly 1-5 of the lawful charge at Commonwealth. And, best of all, you don't have to be a "bank president" or a "special risk" to qualify for our reduced rate. Commonwealth's monthly rate of 2½% on that part of the loan of $150 or less and only 2% on that part of the loan in excess thereof applies to ALL TYPES AND CLASSES OF LOANS. Anyone who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course persons whose incomes are above average will make even greater savings by paying better than agreed. You cannot afford to pass up this saving.

Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Mrs. Egidio Petroni of Kankakee, Ill., holding two beans which she raised in her garden. Each is 32½ inches long. She brought the seed from Italy a year ago. (Story on page 6.)

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Bertha Wachs, age 24, 1163 Pratt boulevard, whose screams frightened away bandits attempting to rob importers' office. [TRIBUNE Photo.] (Story on page 8.)
